John Rudd, who now make their home with Mr. Duffy. The maiden name of Mrs. Duffy was Lydia Beaver.

WILLIAM FLEMING, Postmaster, firm of Fleming Brothers, general merchants and dealers in grain, lumber and coal, and shippers of stock, Holder; born in Huntingdon Co., Penn., March 30, 1845; at 6 years of age, he emigrated with his parents to Fulton Co., Ill., where he was raised upon a farm, obtaining a common-school education. In the spring of 1867, he removed to Old Town Township, McLean Co., and purchased 160 acres of land upon the spot where Holder now stands, when he engaged in farming until the completion of the L., B. & M. R. R., when he, with his brother, engaged in the above business, which they have since successfully followed. They are largely engaged in buying and shipping stock to Chicago, and also in buying and shipping grain to Toledo, Cleveland, Baltimore and Philadelphia, having purchased as high as 100,000 bushels of corn alone in a single season. His marriage with Helen Rudd was celebrated Oct. 10, 1873; she was born in Genesee Co., N. Y., Sept. 28, 1847; they have two children by this union—Harry, born July 6, 1875; Herbert, March 29, 1879. Mrs. Fleming was a daughter of John Rudd, who emigrated from Genesee Co., N. Y., and located upon Sec. 12, in what is now Old Town Township, McLean Co., in the fall of 1855, where he lived until his decease, which occurred in the fall of 1856.

JACOB FLEMING, firm of Fleming Brothers, general merchants and grain and stock dealers, also dealers in lumber and coal, etc., Holder; born in Huntingdon Co., Penn., June 2, 1841; his father, John Fleming, was born in Ireland in 1810, emigrated to America with his parents in 1820, and, in 1849, came to Fulton Co., Ill., where he now lives. The subject of this sketch lived with his father until 20 years of age, when, in August, 1861, he enlisted in the 50th I. V. I., and went forward to battle for the Union; he first served in the campaigns of Missouri and Arkansas, and was engaged in the battles of Fort Donelson, Shiloh, both battles of Corinth, Stone River, Altoona Pass, and marched with Sherman's army through Georgia to the sea, arriving in Savannah to spend the Christmas of 1864; he then marched North, participating in many engagements until the surrender of Johnston's army, after which he continued his march through to Washington, and, after the grand review of the army, was sent to Louisville, Ky., where he received his discharge in July, 1865, having served in the Union army nearly four years; he was promoted to Corporal, then to First Lieutenant of Co. G, of which he received the appointment and commission of Captain. After receiving his discharge, he returned to Fulton Co., where he followed farming and school-teaching two years, and in 1867 removed with his brother to his present place and purchased 160 acres of land and followed farming and stock-raising until 1871, when, upon the completion of the L., B. & M. R. R., he, with his brother, engaged in the above business, which they have since successfully followed. His marriage with Susan Hughes was celebrated in June, 1864; she was born in Fulton Co., Ill., January, 1843; they have five children now living, having lost two by death; the living are Fred E., Joseph B., Mary E., Ida H. and John R.

CHARLES FULLER, farmer and stock-raiser; P. O. Bloomington; born in Jefferson Co., N. Y., March 16, 1816; his father, Oliver Fuller, was born in Vermont and emigrated to New York previous to 1812, and served as a soldier in the war of 1812; he married Sally Healey; she was born in Rhode Island; they were the parents of ten children, of whom seven are now living; Mr. Fuller died in New York in 1858 or 1859, and Mrs. Fuller is now living at the advanced age of 92 years; she now draws a pension for the services of Mr. F. in 1812. The subject of this sketch was brought up to farming until he emigrated to Illinois and located upon Sec. 4, where he purchased 653 acres of land, upon which he then settled, and has since followed farming and stock-raising. His marriage with Eliza A. Griffin was celebrated in 1836; she was a native of New York; they have ten children now living, having lost one by death; the living are Sidney C., Healey R., George O., Hiram, Charles, Edwin M., Lucinda, Alice, Amelia and Mattie. Mr. Fuller now lives upon the old farm, and has given each of his five sons that are married eighty acres, and all are living upon the home place within one mile of their parents; although he is 64 years of age, is yet able to do a good day's work, and is engaged in farming 253 acres. All the above property he has accumulated by his own hard labor, energy and industry, in which he has been nobly assisted by his wife.

ORRIN LOOMIS, JR., farmer, Sec. 6; P. O. Bloomington. The subject of this sketch was born in Medina Co., Ohio, Nov. 18, 1838; he was a son of Orrin Loomis, Sr., who was born in the State of Connecticut in the year 1791; he emigrated West and located in Ohio in 1816, and was the second settler of the township; at that time there was an abundance of game, and it was not an unusual occurrence for him to kill bears and other game; he commenced clearing the timber from the land for his own use and his neighbors. He was married in Ohio Jan. 14, 1823, to Mary Ann Eyler; she was born in Connecticut, March, 1805; they were the parents of nine children, of whom seven lived to grow up and six are now living; they lived in Ohio until 1866, when they removed to McLean Co., Ill., and lived in Old Town Township until their decease. Mrs. Loomis died Nov. 22, 1874; Mr. Loomis died Dec. 9, 1876; they lie buried in the beautiful cemetery at Bloomington, their graves properly marked by a monument of Italian marble. The subject of this sketch followed farming in Ohio until the spring of 1865, when he emigrated West, remaining one year; he then returned to Ohio, and was employed two years as express messenger with the American Express Company, after which he returned to Illinois and lived some two years, when he removed to Michigan and followed farming one year; then came back and located in Old Town Township, McLean Co., and engaged in farming, which business he has since followed; he owns eighty acres upon his own farm, all under a good state of improvement. His marriage with Marinda E. Harrington was celebrated in Ohio May 18, 1838; they were the parents of three children, of whom one died in infancy; the living are Anna V. and Saloma.

EDWIN LOOMIS, farmer, Sec. 5; P. O. Bloomington; born in Medina Co., Ohio, Oct. 16, 1829; his father, Orrin Loomis, was born in 1791; he emigrated to Ohio about the year 1816, where he followed farming until he came to Illinois in 1866; he made his home with Edwin Loomis until his decease, which occurred Dec. 9, 1876. He married Mary Ann Eyler Jan 14, 1823, in Medina Co., Ohio; she was born in Connecticut in March, 1805; they were the parents of nine children, of whom seven lived to grow up and of whom six are now living. Mrs. Loomis died Nov. 22, 1874. The subject of this memoir obtained a common-school education and was raised to farm labor and assisted his father until 1854; then he commenced farming for himself until the spring of 1865, when he emigrated to Illinois and settled upon Section 5, Old Town Township, McLean Co., where he purchased eighty acres, upon which he settled and where he has since lived. His marriage with Saloma A. Harrington was celebrated Aug. 14, 1854; she was born in Lake Co., Ohio, July 13, 1828; they have one child by this union, having lost one by death, named Gertrude C., born Aug. 14, 1856; she was married Oct. 28, 1875, to John J. Pearson, and died Sept. 26, 1876; the living—William P.—was born Oct. 3, 1866. Mrs. Loomis is a daughter of Otis Harrington; he was born in Berkshire Co., Mass., Feb. 14, 1803; he married Lyma Coming; she was born in New Hampshire in 1806; she died in 1831 in Lake Co., Ohio; Mr. Harrington is now living in McLean Co. at the age of 76 years.

D. McBARNES, farmer; Sec. 15; P. O. Bloomington; one of the old settlers of McLean Co., born in Harrison Co., Ohio, Oct 1, 1821; his father, Dennis McBarnes, was born near Glasgow, Scotland, in the year 1759; he went to Ireland when he was a young man, and, after working several years at the trade of harness-making, emigrated to America and located first near Philadelphia; from there to Harrison Co., Ohio, where he purchased land and engaged in farming until his decease, which occurred in April, 1844, at the advanced age of 85 years. He married in Pennsylvania to Mary Voden; she was born in Pennsylvania and died a few years after the death of her husband; they were the parents of seven children, of whom four are now living. The subject of this memoir was brought up to work upon his father's farm in Ohio until he attained his majority, when he commenced farming for himself, which business he followed in Ohio until he came to Illinois and located on his present place in the spring of 1853, where he has since lived, during a period of twenty-six years, and is consequently classed as one of the old settlers; he owns eighty acres of well-improved land upon his home farm with good farm buildings and also eighty acres in Anchor Township, all of which he has, by good business management, accumulated. In politics he is a stanch Republican, having joined the above party upon its organization and has since labored for the success of the same; he has taken a great interest in the cause of religion and education, having been a School Director many years and is now School Trustee; he and his wife have been members of the Christian Church for a period of upward of twenty years; the second oldest daughter being a member of the same church. His marriage with Mary Jane Dickey was celebrated in Harrison Co., Ohio, upon the 18th of September, 1847; she was born in Harrison Co. March 4, 1826; they were the parents of seven children—Sarah J., born June 18, 1848 (she died March 1, 1870); Maggie, born Oct. 3, 1849 (now Mrs. Joseph Brookbank, of Anchor Township); John, born July 24, 1851; Agnes, Feb. 22, 1853; Hannah M., June 18, 1855; Elizabeth, May 14, 1857, and Edward, Nov. 8, 1858; of the children, the two sons are farming in Anchor Township; the four daughters attended the University of Bloomington, both the Normal and Wesleyan, three of whom are engaged in school-teaching in McLean Co., the oldest of whom has taught ten years; John attended the Normal three years; Edward is now attending the Wesleyan.

JOHN J. PENN, farmer and stock-raiser; Sec. 26; P. O. Holder; one of the early settlers of McLean Co., born in Northamptonshire, England, Oct. 25, 1824; he emigrated with his parents to America, landing in New York when five years of age; they lived in New York State five years, when they emigrated West and located in Harrison Co., Ohio; his father, John Penn, was born in Northamptonshire, England, in 1777. He married in England to Hannah Watson; she was born in the same shire in 1787; she died in Ohio in the fall of 1845; Mr. Penn died at the residence of his son in McLean Co., Ill., in 1860, at the advanced age of 82 years; they were the parents of thirteen children, of whom six are now living. The subject of this sketch engaged in teaming in Ohio until he emigrated to Illinois and located in McLean Co. in the fall of 1851, he then farmed upon rented land until 1863; he first purchased ninety acres, for which he ran in debt $2,000, which he paid for in four years, and disposed of the same at a profit of upward of $2,000; he then purchased 160 acres of raw prairie, which he improved some four years and sold at a profit of $7,000; he purchased 157 acres of his present place in 1868, and settled upon the same in 1869, where he owns 238 acres with farm buildings, all of which he has made by his exertions and perseverance His marriage with Sarah J. Boyce was little dissatisfied, clamored for a change, which when made, was not satisfactory,) he was re-instated and held the position until he was mustered out, which occurrence took place November 28, 1865. In March, 1866, he returned to Anderson County and was engaged in farming until 1869, during which time in 1868 he was nominated on the Republican ticket and was elected to the Legislature without any opposition, which position he tried to fill—as as has ever been his desire when trust has been reposed in him—honestly, faithfully and without dissimulation. In the fall of 1869 he moved to Garnett, since which time, he has been engaged part of the time, in the brickmaking business, and part of the time in mercantile pursuits.

C. F. HENSON & BROTHER, lumber and building materials. This business was established in 1873 by J. D. Woodworth. In 1876 Mr. Woodworth purchased a hardware stock, and March 11, 1878, C. F. Henson was admitted as a partner, the business being conducted under the style of J. D. Woodworth & Co. In January, 1881, the style changed to Woodworth & Henson. In April, 1882, Mr. Woodworth sold out his interest to the above firm. They have an extensive trade, carrying in the yard all kinds of lumber, building materials, etc. The stock in that business amounts to about $12,000. Their store is also well supplied with all kinds of hardware, etc., and the demands of their trade in this business compelled them to carry a fine stock of about $5,000. They do quite a business in the manufacture of tinware. C. F. Henson, the senior member of the firm, came to Garnett in 1870 and was for a time engaged in contracting and building. J. F. Henson, his partner came here in 1871 and followed the same business for several years. Was also for a time employed as a clerk in store of Woodworth & Henson. The brothers are natives of Clinton County, Ohio, are both practical business men, and do a heavy business in their line.

J. G. HIATT, of Hiatt & Lanter, merchants, was born in Wayne County, Ind., March 24, 1838, and was raised on a farm. In 1852 he moved to Madison County, Iowa, where he followed agricultural pursuits. In July, 1858, he came to Anderson County; resided with his father, Nathan Hiatt, and assisted on the farm. Two years later he purchased land four miles from Garnett and began to farm on his own account. In the fall of 1861 he enlisted in Company A, Second Kansas Cavalry, and was mustered out in April, 1865, after which he followed agricultural pursuits up to February, 1871, when he engaged in the grocery business in Garnett. This he disposed of eighteen months later, and for six months was engaged in the livery business, afterward employed as a salesman in the general merchandise business. On January 1, 1879 he engaged in this business in company with C. W. Durstine. The latter died, and his interest was sold to J. T. Lanter in February, 1882. The firm carry a nice stock of general merchandise with some $8,000, and do an extensive trade. Mr. Hiatt was married in Greeley, Kansas, in 1860, to Mary E. Pattie. They have seven children.

EDWARD S. HUNT, the oldest real estate man in Anderson County, his office being established in 1867. Was born of Quaker parentage in South Charleston, Clark County, Ohio, in 1832. Was educated for a civil engineer. Was married in 1855 to Delphina Coffin of Wayne County, Ind. Removed from Ohio to Indiana in the fall of 1863 and engaged in pork-packing and dry goods. Removed to Kansas in November, 1867, and engaged in the real estate business at Garnett. Was appointed right of way commissioner on the L. L. & G. R. R., in 1870 and has since been in the real estate department of that road. He was elected County Treasurer in 1872 and re-elected in 1874, serving two terms. Received the appointment of local land agent from the M. K. & T. R. R. Company in 1876, which he still holds. He is a member of Delphian Lodge No. 44, A., F. & A. M., Zion Chapter No. 21, Garnett, Kan., and Tancred Commandery No. 11, Ottawa, Kan. He is now engaged in real estate and fish culture.

GEORGE W. ILER, real estate and loan agent, was born in Fredericks County, Md., February 28, 1839, and reared on a farm. At the age of nineteen years he removed to Indianapolis, Ind., and there learned the trade of house and sign painter and followed it as an occupation. He came to Leavenworth, Kan., May 14, 1857, and carried on a painting and wall paper establishment at Leavenworth until February, 1859. He went to Neosho County and with others located Osage City, which he afterward abandoned. In the latter part of March, 1859, he came to Anderson County and located at Garnett and formed a partnership with J. G. Smith and carried on a general merchandise business until the fall of 1861, when he sold out and went East for a time on account of his wife's ill health. During the war he served in the Tenth Kansas State Militia and was Captain of Company B, of that regiment from 1863 until after the Price raid. During this period his main business was dealing in live-stock. In 1866 he again engaged in general merchandise business, continuing until some time in 1869. Was then for some four years engaged in agricultural pursuits, general trading, etc. In 1873 he became associated with S. Kauffman in real estate business. In August, 1874, they purchased the Plain Dealer, and when the firm dissolved in 1878, Mr. Iler took the real estate business, which he has since continued. He is land agent for the M. K. & T. R. R. Company. He was Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Garnett at the time it was pre-empted in 1862, and held that office for several years. Was elected County Commissioner in 1879 and served two years, and has served many times in the City Council of Garnett. Mr. Iler is District Deputy Grand Master of the I. O. O. F., and has filled that position almost continuously since 1866.

HON. W. A. JOHNSON, attorney, is of Scottish parentage, and was born in Guilford County, N. C., January 19, 1830. Colonel Daniel Johnson, his father, removed to Vernon, Ind., in 1832. He intended to give his son, the subject of this sketch, a good classical education, and for this purpose sent him for a while to the Vernon Academy and then to the College at Hanover. But his death in 1846 put a period to his calculations and the collegiate education of his son; for, being the eldest, he was obliged to assume the cares and responsibilities of the farm. In 1852 he began the study of law, and was admitted to the bar in 1855. He then came westward to find a location, but did not bring his family until 1858, at which time he settled in Garnett and began the practice of law. In the fall of 1859 he was elected County Attorney of Anderson County, but the war coming on in 1861 brought him before the public in another manner, for he was one of the first who responded to the call for soldiers. He began as one of General Lane's staff officers and was connected with the army in different capacities until 1863, when he was made Captain of Company M, Fifteenth Kansas Cavalry and served until mustered out in October, 1865. He returned to Garnett, and on the day of his arrival was elected County Attorney, which office he however declined. He was elected to the State Senate from the Seventeenth District in 1872. When the choice of a President was agitating the people, he canvassed the State. He was elected Presidential Elector, and cast a vote for R. B. Hayes. In 1876 he was appointed by a committee of the citizens of Anderson County to write a history of the county. He labored zealously at the work of historian, and completed the most perfect history that has been written of any county in Kansas. He was appointed early in 1879 assistant attorney in this State of the St. L., K. & A. R. R. Company, and when this road was purchased by the M. P. R. R. Company in November of that year, they confirmed the appointment and he is now assistant attorney for that line in this State.

SOLOMON KAUFFMAN, postmaster, was born in Mifflin County, Pa., January 6, 1832. In 1845 his parents emigrated to Champaign County, Ohio, where he was reared on a farm. At the age of eighteen he learned the trade of carpenter and in 1853 moved to McLain County, Ill., where he worked at his trade a year, then to Iowa City, and in Marshall County, Iowa, for about two years. In May, 1856, he came to Anderson County, Kan., pre-empted 160 acres in Reeder Township, which he improved, and purchased other lands adjoining until he owned 345 acres. He was elected to the office of County Judge in 1857, but refused to qualify under the "bogus laws" then in force. In 1858 he served as a member of the County Board of Supervisors. He took an active part with the Free-State men of Kansas in the troubles of 1856. In December of that year he was instrumental in bringing to the county a colony of eighty-six men who had been in the Free-State army and they established the town of Hiatt. On August 6, 1861, he enlisted in Company A, Third Kansas Infantry. This regiment was afterward consolidated into the Tenth Kansas and he was placed in Company C, of that regiment. On the 11th of September, 1862, he was promoted to First Lieutenant of Company L, Third Indiana Regiment and on May 28, 1863, to Captain and placed in charge of a battery attached to the Indian Brigade. He was mustered out May 31, 1865, and returned to his farm. On the 29th day of August he was joined in wedlock with Miss Melissa J. Patton, who still continues to share the joys and hardships of life with him. In 1868 he was elected to the office of Clerk of the District Court and moved to Garnett. He served as Clerk one term. He was elected Clerk of the District Court in November of that year and served one term. In 1870 he embarked in the real estate business and three years later associated with him in that business George W. Iler. In 1874 they purchased the Plain Dealer and continued to conduct both businesses until February, 1878, when they dissolved and Mr. Kauffman took the paper and published it alone until he admitted his present partner, H. M. Brook, in 1881. On June 14, 1878, Mr. Kauffman was appointed postmaster at Garnett, which position he still occupies.

HON. LESTER K. KIRK, attorney, was born in Mahoning County, Ohio, December 6, 1841, removing with his parents to Mercer County, Pa., when quite young where he was reared on a farm. In August, 1861, he enlisted in Company G, One Hundredth Pennsylvania Infantry. Was promoted to Second Lieutenant March 18, 1863, to First Lieutenant February 25, 1864, and to Captain on June the 1st following. While participating in the attack on Petersburg in June, 1864, he received a severe wound in the left shoulder, and on account of this was discharged in the following October. He then studied law at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, with Ambler Bros., and was admitted to the bar in 1865. Mr. Kirk came to Anderson County, Kan., in the Spring of 1866, located near Garnett, and for a few months was engaged in sheep raising. He then moved into Garnett and has since been engaged in the practice of law. He was elected first Mayor of Garnett in 1870, a member of the State Legislature in 1876, and in 1879 he was elected for a term of four years to the State Senate from the Seventeenth District.

W. W. KIRKPATRICK, of Kirkpatrick & Witherspoon, proprietors of the Elevator Mills, was born in Springfield, Clark County, Ohio, March 1, 1832, and six years later his parents emigrated to Kosciusko County, Indiana, where he was reared on a farm, and where for some years he conducted a farm of 320 acres. He came to Kansas in 1867 and located in Monroe Township, Anderson County, where he followed agricultural pursuits for some years. In 1876 he built, in company with A. Harbison, an elevator at Garnett, with capacity of 7,000 bushels. In 1878 they added a saw-mill, and in the fall of 1881 built a flour-mill adjoining. In the fall of 1881, Mr. Kirkpatrick moved into Garnett. He has been in partnership with J. O. Witherspoon since July, 1882.

JOHN T. LANTER, of Hiatt & Lanter, merchants, was born February 10, 1835, in Wayne County, Indiana, and reared on a farm. At the age of seventeen he went to Arkansas, where he remained about five years. In the spring of 1857 he moved to Kansas and located near Greeley, Anderson County. He at once identified himself with the Free State party, and was sent as a delegate from Anderson County, in 1858, to the Osawatomie Convention, which organized the Republican party in Kansas, and from that time to the present he has been a firm supporter in that party. In May, 1858, he was elected to the Territorial Legislature on the Free-State ticket under the Leavenworth Constitution. In the same year he was a delegate to the Ottumwa Convention, in which nineteen counties that had been disfranchised by the bogus Legislature were represented. He was the author of the Resolution adopted by that Convention which brought the grievances of southern Kansas to the notice of the public. In the spring of 1860 he was elected County Assessor, and the following winter was Engrossing Clerk of the last Territorial Legislature. In 1861 he was appointed United States Assistant Assessor and held that position until the office was abolished. In 1863 he was commissioned Assistant Provost-Marshal with the rank of Lieutenant, and assigned to duty on the border. He remained there about eighteen months. In 1872 he was elected to the State Legislature, where he was active and instrumental in defeating Pomeroy for the United States Senate. In 1873 he was appointed one of the trustees for the State Insane Asylum. He was elected Mayor of the city of Garnett in 1874, and served one term. In 1876 he was appointed one of the State Board of Charities. In 1872 he organized the Citizens' Bank at Garnett, elected President, which position he filled for some years. Since 1878 he has been largely interested in lead mines at Galena, Kansas, and in February, 1882, he became associated with J. G. Hiatt in mercantile business. Previous to organizing the Citizens' Bank, Mr. Lanter followed agricultural pursuits.

HON. JOHN G. LINDSAY, attorney, was born in Franklin County, Ohio, November 13, 1836, and six years later his parents moved to Van Buren County, Iowa, where he followed agricultural pursuits. He received his education at Washington College, Iowa. On June 5, 1857, he came to Garnett, and pre-empted 160 acres of land, eighty of which are now in the town site. He followed farming. In 1858 he began the study of law with ex-Governor S. J. Crawford. He also attended the law school of the Cincinnati College, Ohio, where he graduated early in 1860, and a few months later was admitted to the bar in Franklin County, Kansas. He enlisted May 15, 1861, in Company E, Second Kansas Infantry; was at once appointed First Lieutenant. The regiment was re-organized in November of that year and he was mustered out, after which he was employed in the Recruiting Service of the Government, until April, 1862. Returning to Garnett he recruited a company, which was mustered into the Eleventh Kansas Infantry, afterwards changed to cavalry. He was appointed First Lieutenant September 11, 1862, and promoted to Captain May 1, 1865, serving until mustered out August 31, 1865. Returning to Garnett, he at once resumed the practice of his profession. He was County Attorney for Anderson County from 1866 to 1870 and from 1876 to 1878, and was a member of the State Legislature in 1870 and 1871.

CONWAY MARSHALL, Sheriff of Anderson County, was born in Pickaway County, Ohio, July, 23, 1840, and was reared on a farm. In the fall of 1864 he enlisted in the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and served four months. Afterward followed farming in his native county. In March, 1866, he came to Kansas, located in Jackson Township, Anderson County, and has since followed agricultural pursuits. He has a farm of 320 acres, all improved, and 120 of which are in cultivation. He also raises considerable stock. Mr. Marshall was for three years Trustee of his Township, and in the fall of 1881 was elected Sheriff on joint Greenback and Democratic ticket.

W. H. MELLEN, real estate and loan broker, was born in Chautauqua County, N. Y., August 5, 1840, where for three years he followed mercantile pursuits. He came to Kansas in August 1868, located in Franklin County and was engaged in sheep-raising near Lane for about four years, after which he removed to Greeley, Anderson County, and taught school. In the fall of 1873 he was elected Register of Deeds and served two years, after which he was appointed to fill a vacancy in the County Treasurer's office, which position he occupied a few months. In 1876 he established the Western Business Agency, to which he has given his sole attention. Since August, 1880, he has been in partnership with J. J. Honston. The agency does a large real estate, loan, and insurance brokerage business. Mr. Mellen is also interested in twenty-two mines in Colorado and does quite an extensive business as a stock-broker.

JOSEPH P. MORGAN, carriage repair shop, was born near Cleveland, Ohio, August 19, 1838. Removing with his parents when quite young to Essex, Conn., there he learned the trade of carriage-maker, and followed it as an occupation in that State. In August, 1862, he enlisted in Company H, Fourteenth Connecticut Infantry, and served three years. Mr. Morgan came to Garnett in May 1869 and at once established himself in this business. He does general repairing work and carriage painting. He is a good workman and has had twenty-six years' experience in his business.

L. H. OSBORN, of Osborn & Thomas, merchants, was born in Champaign County, Ohio, in 1846, and was reared on a farm. In August, 1866, he came to Anderson County, and followed agricultural pursuits. His farm consisted of 160 acres, and was located five miles west of Garnett. He also taught school for a time. In 1875 he was elected Superintendent of Public Instruction for Anderson County on the Greenback ticket. He then moved into Garnett and filled the office for two years. In 1877 he was appointed agent for the Anderson County Co-operative Association, and managed their store at this place. In January, 1880, he purchased the business in company with his present partner, D. O. Thomas. The firm do a large business and carry a well assorted stock of about $7,000. Mr. Osborn was elected to the City Council in 1881, and has been a member of the School Board for several years.

POLLARD & PEIRCE, general merchants. This business was originally established in the spring of 1870 by Crouse & Wittich, with a stock of about $1,300. In August, 1882, the business was purchased by the present firm. H. G. Pollard, the senior member of the firm, was in the employ of the old firm for some seven years, has an extensive acquaintance throughout the country, and being popular controls considerable trade. S. Peirce, his partner, is from Hagerstown, Ind., where for six years he was engaged in conducting a flax-mill. They carry a well assorted stock of goods of about $15,000 and do the leading business in Garnett.

NICHOLAS PONTIOUS, Deputy Sheriff of Anderson County, was born in Pickaway County, Ohio, November 25, 1838. There he followed agricultural pursuits, carrying on a farm of 160 acres. In September, 1869, he came to Anderson County, Kan., and farmed for seven years in Monroe Township. Afterward he opened a restaurant at Garnett and conducted it for a year. He then opened the Garnett House, which hotel he carried on for two years. Afterward gave his attention to teaming, draying, etc. During 1881 he served as Constable in the city of Garnett and in January, 1882, was appointed to his present position.

DR. G. J. ROGERS, was born in Trumbull County, Ohio, in 1827. He studied medicine at Warren, Ohio, with Prof. William Payne, attending Cleveland Medical College, and graduating there. He practiced in Ashland County for two years, then at Bowling Green, the county-seat of Wood County. In February, 1873, he came to Garnett, and for several years

ANDEWEG, BASTIAN AND DESCENDANTS

F1

Bastian Andeweg was born Nov.11, 1878 near Pella, Ia. He was the son of Jacob and Anna Den Hartog Andeweg. Bastian, or Bas as he wanted to be called, had two sisters, Nan and Agnes and one brother, John. He lived his entire lifetime of 96 years in Pella.

Bas owned the freight and transfer business, known as Andeweg Transfer, and worked in the business until his retirement. At the time of his death in 1975 he was the oldest member of the Second Reformed Church in Pella.

Bas married Alida Veenman on Apr. 26, 1904. They had one son, LeRoy, born Feb. 13, 1905.

In 1929 LeRoy, or Roy, was married to Wilma Van Gorp, the daughter of Peter and Nellie Vander Syde Van Gorp. Roy worked at the Star Oil Station for 18 years and in later years worked for the freight business his father owned. He also was the distributor for Schwinn bicycles in Pella for several years, and supplied many children with their bicycles. Roy and Wilma also owned a Toy and Hobby Shop.

Roy and Wilma were the parents of two children, Logan Stanley and Marilyn Ruth. Wilma passed away on Feb. 14, 1988.

Logan, born Apr. 25, 1933, married Jennette Noordsy. They have three children. Steven Kent, a cardiac anesthesiologist, is married to Arlene Marino, and they are the parents of one son, Derek. Susan Kay is married to Bill Boyd, an electrical engineer for 3M, and they are the parents of two sons, Billy and Justin. Robert Dean is a lawyer in Des Moines, and is married to Karen Rod.

Marilyn, born Sept. 30, 1936, married Keith Aldrich, and they are the parents of three children, Mark, Kathy and Beth.

Logan, Jen, Keith and Marilyn are owners of an advertising, commercial printing and office supply business, known as Pella's Town Crier.

AWTRY, SIMON PETER AND MARGARET FLAUGH

F2

Giles and Nancy J. Awtry and two sons, Giles S. born in Kentucky on Oct. 17, 1829 and Simon Peter born Apr. 27, 1841 at Winchester, Ill., 50 miles southwest of Springfield, were accompanied by Jacob Iler to the Pella area. They had stayed three years in Illinois on their westward trek. Awtry and Iler were the first settlers from Kentucky in Sandridge, arriving three years before Dominie Hendrik Pieter Scholte founded Pella in 1847. Mary L. Awtry, only daughter of Giles and Nancy, died in 1851 at the age of 10 months and 26 days. The Awtrys gave a beautiful spot of their homesteaded land on a hill overlooking the creek for a public burial ground 'until the end of time' to be known as Sandridge Cemetery. Their oldest son Giles died Dec. 21, 1854, at the age of 25 years, two months, four days. Giles and Nancy were buried by their children. Two of Wyatt Earp's sisters were originally buried at Sandridge but later were moved to Pella. The Earps and the Awtrys were cousins. Jacob Iler and family are also buried in that cemetery.

Giles Awtry has the distinction of hauling the stone-grinding wheels by an ox-drawn cart from the Port of Eddyville to the first mill in Pella, located in what is now known as Sunken Garden Park.

Simon Peter Awtry was 20 when he enlisted in Company C, 15th Iowa Infantry Volunteers on Nov. 1, 1861, discharged as a Corporal on Dec. 13, 1863 at Vicksburg, Miss. He re-enlisted on Jan. 1, 1864 and was discharged as Sergeant on July 24, 1865 at Louisville, Ky. Simon spent several months in a Confederate prison. Company C, 15th Iowa was a member of Crocker's Brigade. The Iowa Regiment marched 9,985 miles and was in 68 battles.

Two years after Simon's return to Sandridge from the Civil War, he married his beloved wife, Margaret Ann. She was the daughter of Rev. Elisha and Hannah (McLaughlin) Flaugh who lived near Dairy Grove Cemetery, also known as Derry Grove, later called Bethany. The couple married Mar. 7, 1867, by the bride's father, Rev. Flaugh. Simon and Margaret Ann lived their married life on the homestead farm at the foot of Sandridge Hill, the hill so named for its sandy soil. The farm is now owned by Mrs. Paul Bandstra. The Awtry children all attended Sandridge School, located seven miles northeast of Pella. Simon Awtry was school board secretary 1874-75. The original school district comprised parts of Marion and Mahaska counties and covered an area of ten square miles. In those early days there were only four Holland families but religious education was as much of the curriculum as reading, writing, and arithmetic.

Simon Peter died July 25, 1891. Margaret Ann continued to live on the farm until the children were grown. She and her youngest daughter Effie moved to Newton, where Margaret died Aug. 22, 1910. Simon and Margaret are buried at their Sandridge Cemetery. The Awtrys were noted for their beautiful, high-spirited horses.

The eight Awtry children and their progeny are as follows: Ramson Amos Awtry (Dec. 17, 1867 – Oct. 16, 1950) married Mary Jane ("Mamie") Coakley, who died Aug. 9, 1901. They had two sons: Earl (died in infancy); Harry Norbet (Aug. 3, 1895 – Aug. 26, 1977 and buried in Oakwood Cemetery), married Gertrude Klein Dec. 31, 1919. He worked for the Veterans Administration in Tomah, Wis. Ramon's second wife was Lucy Lankelma (Mar. 17, 1908). She already had two children: Faye (Mrs. Mark Rillihan) Des Moines, Ia., deceased; and Herman Peter Lankelma. Ramson was a partner in the Awtry & Lankelma Furniture & Undertaking located at the site of the present Boat's Home Furnishings, 620 Franklin St. Pella.

Oliver Porter Awtry (Oct. 4, 1871 – Mar. 27, 1961) married Eliza Belle Osborn (Mar. 25, 1869 – Apr. 30, 1914), was buried in Bluff Creek Cemetery, Eddyville. "O.P." was a farmer and managed a stock buyer association in Eddyville which shipped cattle to the Union Stockyards in Chicago. They had four children: Velma Lucille (Oct. 17, 1897 – Apr. 8, 1973); Ray Bruce (June 16, 1899 – Sept., 1974), married Mary Miller and had three children: Ruth Ann (Mrs. John) Granless born Nov. 28, 1924; Donald Ray (Jan. 10, 1929); and Oliver Jack (Dec. 9, 1931). Ray and Mary are buried at Highland Cemetery, in Eddyville. Inez Irene Awtry married on Nov. 30, 1922 Dwight H. Mateer (July 13, 1899 – July 12, 1973) and had two children: Lucille Ion (Mar. 7, 1924) married Vernon Lorence (May 15, 1915) and had three children: Jon Porter (Aug. 16, 1948); Joanne (June 6, 1950); and James Charles (Aug. 11, 1951). Dwight Harold Mateer, Jr. (Nov. 14, 1928) married Loma Bomell Phillips and had two sons: Dwight H. Mateer III (July 13, 1950) and Ronald Perry (Sept. 7, 1951). Helen A. Awtry (Apr. 17, 1904 – Oct. 9, 196-) was married in 1933 to Frank Charles Reed (Apr. 28, 1897 – Dec. 25, 1976) and had one son, Frederick Charles Reed (Mar. 27, 1935 – Dec. 25, 1986).

Cora Awtry (1869-1872) was buried by her parents at Sandridge Cemetery.

Emmet Awtry (July 29, 1873 – July 31, 1950) married on Mar. 17, 1897 Nellie Boat (Jan. 19, 1875 – Aug., 1963) and had one daughter Margaret Marie who died June 12, 1914 at the age of 15 years. They were all buried at Lynnville. Emmet lived in Sully and Pella after his retirement. He was a land owner and was associated with the Macy Brothers in a cattle shipping operation and a coal and feed business in Sully.

Zella M. (Aug. 4, 1875-1954) was married Mar. 17, 1897 to Warner S. Wehrle, a farmer at Taintor, (Nov. 24, 1869 – July 8, 1922) and had two sons:, Vestal Paul (Dec. 17, 1895-1959) married Lulu Frances Dillman (Mar. 24, 1899 – Mar. 28, 1979) and had three children; Raymond Wehrle, who married Gertrude Van Wyk on June 25, 1925 had two children: Marvin Gene (July 6, 1951) and Mary Rae Wehrle (Dec. 18, 1953). Normal Lee Wehrle (May 13, 1937) married Loretta Wanders (June 2, 1934) and had three children: Brian Lee (Aug. 8, 1962); twins, Bryce James and Bruce Paul (Jan. 25, 1966). Lois Ann Wehrle (Feb. 26, 1937) married on Mar. 20, 1956 Vernon W. Van Wyk (May 20, 1937), were divorced March 1970, but had four children: Nancy Lee, July 7, 1957; Mark Paul, Jan. 15, 1960; Curt Wesley, Dec. 12, 1963 and Ruth Ann, Feb. 3, 1966. Major Awtry Porter Wehrle (Dec. 9, 1903 – Nov. 2, 1974) married Leona Diddie, Nov. 14, 1908 and had two children: Allen Warner Wehrle (Apr. 17, 1941) and Ann Louise Wehrle (Sept. 13, 1946). Major Wehrle was stationed during World War II in Germany, the Fiji Islands, and New Zealand.

Harry E. Awtry (Aug. 19, 1887 – July 21, 1910) married Maude Sheesley on Oct. 11, 1901. Maude was a bride of two weeks when she died of typhoid fever and was buried in the Peoria Cemetery. Harry married again to Carrie Rucker (Dec. 9, 1885 – Mar. 18, 1966) on Feb. 3, 1909. Harry died in a hay derrick accident on the Awtry farm and was buried at Sandridge. He left his wife and baby daughter of six months, Northa Awtry (Jan. 18, 1910) was married on June 28, 1933 to Henry William Locker (June 26, 1896 – Jan. 25, 1974). They had two sons: John Henry (Dec. 15, 1935 – Dec.8, 1981) married to Joanne Solanuda on Sept. 18, 1964. They had three children: Kirsten Elizabeth (Nov. 18, 1965); Dana Marie (Apr. 8, 1967); and John Henry (May 24, 1968). Robert Autry Locher, (Mar. 18, 1938) married Mar 10, 1962 Judith Lynn Swalve. Their four children: Mark Brady (Apr. 27, 1963); Shaun Jeffries (Mar. 24, 1966)) and twins Rory Michelle and Ryan Christopher (Dec. 27, 1968). Bob Locker should be remembered as a relief pitcher for the Oakland A's when the ball club won two World Championships.

Lena Mable Awtry (Aug. 21, 1880 – July 2, 1955) married on Dec. 18, 1904 Dr. Newton J. Thomas (Nov. 2, 1878 – Jan. 13, 1959) a dentist in Chicago. He attended Central College, was an ordained Baptist minister, and later attended dental college at Northwestern University. Later he was a teacher at the University of Arkansas. Dr. Thomas wrote a book, The Long Winter Ends about his early life in the ore country of Michigan. One daughter, Lora Frances (Oct. 14, 1905) was married on Sept. 3, 1930 to Dr. Joseph Vaile (Jan. 13, 1902 – Feb. 18, 1978) head of the Horticulture Department at the University of Arkansas.

Ora Effie Awtry (Mar. 7, 1884 – Mar. 31, 1941) was married Nov. 27, 1912 to John Varenkamp (Mar. 3, 1872 – Mar. 7, 1939). In his early years, John owned a store in Sully. His first wife died leaving a daughter, Gertrude who married Paul Lautenbach and had two sons, Charles and Keith. John then married Effie Awtry and they moved to the Sandridge area. John served as secretary of the Sandridge School for many years starting in 1917. Three generations attended school at Sandridge. John and Effie Varenkamp had one daughter Margaret Ann (July 12, 1921) who married Roy J. Fournier (Mar. 26, 1901 – Nov 3, 1980) and had one daughter, Ann Louise, born Dec. 9, 1953. It should be noted that Margaret Ann's grandfather Edward C. Varenkamp ran The Pella Weekblad years ago in Pella.

The Awtrys are gone from the Sandridge and Pella area but their descendants visit this area whenever possihle and consider Pella their home.

BALLENGER, GEORGE "HUNTER" AND MARGARET GERALDINE "JERRY" (THOMPSON)

F3

Jerry (Thompson) Ballenger was born in Oskaloosa, Ia. on June 4, 1910, the youngest of four children. Her parents were Bertha Louise (Thomas) Thompson (July 19, 1882-June 15, 1924) and Charles Edwen Thompson (Feb. 19, 1872-Jan. 15, 1915).

Hunter Ballenger was born April 3, 1910, the middle child of three. His parents were Stella Elizabeth (Morris) Ballenger (1887-1946) and James Samuel Ballenger (1877-1952).

On June 4, 1931, Jerry and Hunter were married. They lived in Oskaloosa where Hunter worked for the city and Jerry worked at the laundry. Their first child, Jimmie Lloyd Ballenger, was born Sept. 10, 1934.

The couple moved to Pella and opened Jerry and Hunter's Tavern on July 14, 1939. It was located at 834 Main Street in the Old Post Office. Eleven years later the couple had two more children: Effie Kelene "Kelly" (Ballenger) Teeter was born Nov. 30. 1950 and Michael Earl Ballenger was born Feb. 14, 1952.

The couple worked long hard hours but enjoyed family time at their cabin by the Des Moines River, and square dancing where Hunter was a "caller".

In 1967 they moved the tavern next door, to where the old movie theater was. Hunter died very suddenly in April, 1968.

Jerry continued operating the business until she retired in June, 1972. She still owns the building in which she lives upstairs and rents the downstairs. She enjoys relaxing and spending time with her children, grandchildren, and friends.

Death of Mrs. Iler

Mary Ann Iler was born March 4, 1840 and passed away Nov. 4, 1919 at the age of 79 years of age. She married William C. Iler March 17, 1857 To this union nine children were born, two of whom passed away in infancy. Seven grew to manhood and womanhood. The first loss in the family was December 28th, 1907, when Mrs. Lena Vera Hull passed away. The husband passed away September 5, 1918. Six children survive her:—I. D. Iler, Bakersfield, California, Mrs. Ribby of Creston, Mrs. Belle Swanger of Orient, Mrs. Effie Ayers of Council Grove, Kansas, Charley and John of this place. She was a stepmother to Mrs. Mary Gray who passed away in February, 1908. She also raised her grand daughter, Mrs. Beulah Loomis of Council Grove, Kansas. She has twenty-one living grand children and twenty great grand children. Grandmother Iler has been a resident of Greenfield thirty-two years excepting 4½ years which she spent in Council Grove, Kansas. She was baptized in, 1906, and was a faithful member of the Church of Christ at this place.

She loved children and was loved by them. She was very patient in her suffering. She like Paul, said, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give to me at that day." Rev. Youtz had charge of the services which were held last Thursday afternoon, Nov. 6th at the home of her son, C. R. Iler at 2:30 p. m., using the text found in Amos 5:8. Interment was made in the Greenfield cemetery.

MRS W. ILER TAKES OWN LIFE

Aged Macksburg Woman Is Found Hanging to Apple Tree

Mrs. Warren Iler, 70 years of age, took her own life by hanging at her home three miles northeast of Macksburg, Monday morning of last week. The lifeless body was found hanging to an apple tree in the yard about 6 o'clock. She was discovered by her husband a few minutes after the act was committed but all efforts to revive her were useless.

According to the Winterset News: Mrs. Iler had been dearanged for several years and it was feared that some time she might commit suicide. Mr. and Mrs. Iler resided on the farm which they had purchased from James Pindell. Monday morning Mr. Iler awoke about 5 o'clock and discovered that Mrs. Iller had already risen. He immediately went in search of her and discovered her hanging to a branch of an apple tree close to the kitchen door. She had taken a dish cloth from the table, tied it to the tree and around her neck.

Amanda R. Silverthorn daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Silverthorn was born in Muscatine County, Iowa, August 15th 1854 departed this life at her home near Macksburgh Iowa May 28th 1923 at the age of 68 years 9 months and 13 days.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Foster

Mrs. Wm. Foster fell asleep on Sunday, February 3rd, 1918 at her home in Greenfield on the corner of East and Elm Street aged seventy-four years, five months and seventeen days.

In speaking of the closing of such a life, the word death would not be appropriate as those who knew her best feel that she merely closed her physical eyes to this life to open her spiritual eyes to the realities of that better land which she often spoke of as home.

She has been declining in health practically ever since her family left the farm in the year 1892. Her last illness covers two years. During the last three months or more she has had the care of two assistants, not including the love and care of her only son, W. A. Foster and family, who left the farm to be near and see that she had every comfort within their power.

Miss Matilda Savage was born August 17th, 1843 near Enskelen, county Fermaugh, Ireland. She was married to Wm. Foster, August 12th, 1871 in the same church where during infancy, she was baptized. During her residence in the old country and also in Illinois, she was affiliated with the Episcopal church, but upon her removal to Iowa, she united with the Methodist church where she has held her membership for about thirty-nine years.

The family came to American and located in Bureau county, Illinois in April 1872 and in 1879 came to Richland township, Adair County, Iowa. In 1881 they moved to a farm in Lee township and in 1892 retired from farm life and moved to Greenfield.

She was bereft of her husband on December 16th, 1914 and leaves to mourn her departure one son, W. A. Foster and family, including three grand children. She was one of a family of ten children, six sisters and three brothers, Mrs. R. J. Barr of Greenfield being the only member of the family now living. Besides these she leaves one nephew, J. A. Barr, also of Greenfield.

The funeral was held at the home on Tuesday, February 5th, 1918 at 2 o'clock p. m., conducted by Rev. J. E. Matheny of the Methodist Church. The body was laid away in the Greenfield cemetery. Friends viewed the remains between the hours of 10:30 a. m. until 1:30 p. m. The relatives have the sympathy of the entire community in the passing of this good woman.

WM. ILER ONE OF THE PRIONEER SETTLERS PASSES AWAY AT THE AGE OF 94 YEARS.

At the good old age of ninety-four year, four months and ten days, Wm. C. Iler, passed away in the evening of September 5th, 1918 at 9:50 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Beli Swanager at the Arlington Hotel, Orient. He was bedfast only a few days and conscious to the last.

For several years he has been declining in strength although his health kept good for one of his age. For sometime he has made his home with his children in this vicinity, going to the home of his daugher at Orient several months ago.

The subject of this sketch was born in Kentucky April 25th, 1824. So long has been his residence at Greenfield that for years back, he has been known as Grandpa Iler.

He was the father of ten children. Mrs. Mary Grey (deceased) by his first marriage. The mother dying in young womanhood. Mrs. Lizetta Ribby, Creston; Mrs. Wilbur Ayers, Council Grove, Iowa; I. B. Iler, Bakerfield, California; Mrs. Belle Swanager, Orient; John and Charles, Greenfield; Mrs. Lena Howe (deceased) and two children dying in infancy.

Regarding the funeral the Free Press correspondent, Orient writes as follows: "The funeral services were held at the Hotel parlors, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. M. J. Rarick, pastor of the M. E. Church at Orient preaching the sermon. At the close the remains were taken to the Greenfield cemetery where interment took place. Father Iler is survived by his aged wife, who on account of illness could not be present. Our oldest and much respected citizen has gone and friends extend sympathy to the bereaved."

EULER, EILAR, EYLER, ILER, OILER, AND OYLER FAMILY

W. Monroe Oyler

[W. Monroe (8), Lewis (7), James Monroe (6), Daniel (5), Frederick (4), Valentine II (3), Valentine (2), Conrad Oyler (1)]

I have taken advantage of the fine work that has been done by Dr. Eilar of Albuquerque, New Mexico, Mrs. Cleo Griggs Johnston of Boise Idaho, Catherine Schorn of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and many others who have brought the immigrant family down through the first three generations.

I was fortunate to be able to connect our present line through my great-grandfather Daniel Oyler, who was born in 1816 in Marion County, Tennessee, to his father Frederick who was born either in 1875 in Maryland or in one or two years later in Virginia.

I believe Frederick was born in 1785 as his report to the federal census taker both in 1850 and 1860 shows this would have been approximately the right birthdate. Here is where I was able to tie-in with the work done by the above named family members so that I could have continuity from the first generation down through my own.

We do not know for sure when the first immigrant Conrad Euler was born. It appears to be about 1690 in Hessen, and perhaps near Maar, a village near Lauterbach. I have corresponded with Karl Euler, a man about my age who was a retired major in the German Army from World War II. Karl lives at Hahnenteichstrase 42, 6420 Lauterbach, Hessen, Germany. Karl sent me a copy of the Lauterbach telephone directory showing about twenty-five Eulers listed. He says the local church in Maar had a Euler crest on the wall inside and he said they have records going back to about 1400 A.D. listing Eulers in that area. He mentioned there was a Konrad Euler listed in the late 1600's who was married to Anna Helfenbein. This couple, or their children, could have been our ancestors.

At any rate, the records of the Church of the Brethren show a Conrad Euler and his wife, Margaret, and four daughters were on the ship Allen with the Captain being James Craiges, came from Rotterdam and landed in Philadelphia on September 11, 1729. There are further records they took the oath of Allegiance on landing. They were a part of the load of around fifty members of the church and its Pastor, Alexander Mack.

I have noted over the years about ten other Eulers coming to this country between 1729 and 1800. I have found at least two or three Oylers who came from England.

The next records found are in the Pennsylvania Archives Series, Volume XXLV, page 399. It tells about Conrad and his oldest son, Jacob, each taking out a warrant for 200 acres of land in Lancaster County on October 3, 1738.

About 1763-4, Valentine Oyler, the youngest son, bought the shares of his sisters and brother. This article in the Archives indicates their father, Conrad Oyler, had died about 1751 without a will. The sisters and their husbands who sold their shares along with their brother Jacob's, showed the following residence of each:

Jacob, a carpenter, living in Manheim Township, Lancaster County, Pa.
Frederick Croyder and Barbara, a sister, living in Frederick Co., Va.
Lawrentz Schnep and Elizabeth, a sister, living in Atkin River, N.C.
Jacob Vertreez and Catherine, a sister, living in Frederick Co., Va.
Frederick Galwix and Mary, a sister, in Manheim Twp. Lancaster, Va.

We have records from Egle's Notes and Queries, The Annual Volume 1896, written from the records of the Reverend John Casper Stoever, a Lutheran minister, page 81, showing the marriages of three of the sisters of Jacob and Valentine:

Frederick Denrich Geelwicks and Marie Dorthea Euler, married April 10, 1733 in Providence.
Jacob Verdriess and Catherine Euler, married March 9, 1737 in Warich.
Frederick Kreuter and Anna Barbara Euler, married September 19, 1740 in Conewago.

Here is the family list as compiled by Mrs. Leslie Norman Schorn, 4624 East 45th Street, Apt. 224, Tulsa, Oklahoma, 74135.

1. Conrad Euler

Born about 1690 in Germany and married to Anna Margaretha, born about 1694. They were living in Manheim Township, York County, Pennsylvania. Their children were:

Elizabeth, born about 1711, married Lawrentz Schnep.

Maria Dorothea, born about 1713, married Frederick Galewix on April 10, 1743.

Jacob, born December 14, 1717, died April 10, 1790.
Married Anna Maria ____ about 1743.

Ana Barbara, born about 1718.
Married Frederick Croyder on September 19, 1740 in Conewego.

Valentine (my ancestor), born about 1722. Married twice, first to Appolina and then to Susannah. Died April 21, 1790.
Valentine was listed as an inhabitant of York County Pennsylvania in 1783 as owning 154 acres, with three in his family at that time, also in York County 1780, 1781, 1882.

Catherina, born about 1726
Married Jacob Verdriess on March 9, 1736 in Warwich.

Mrs. Schorn shows Valentine Oyler's family as follows:

2. Valentine Oyler

Born about 1722 in Germany. He married in 1745, first to Appolina, and later to Susannah. He died between March 1790 and April 21, 1790 in Menhallen Township, York County, Pennsylvania. His children were:

John Johanas, born June 5, 1746. He died about 1804. Married Susana Wirdt December 19, 1771.

Madlina, born October 3, 1747. She married John Etsler.

Frederick, born about 1749. Married Salomia Hines.

Margritha, born February 11, 1752.

Valentine II (my ancestor), born about 1754. Died November 8, 1825 in Franklin County, Virginia. Married Mary "Molly" Arndt about 1780.

Jacob, Born January 7, 1756, died July 26, 1807. Married Barbara Arndt. (All of the above children were born in Manheim Township, Lancaster Township, Pennsylvania)

Elias Daniel, born January 15, 1758.

Catherina, born about 1760. Died about 1837. Married Peter Arndt.

Mary, born about 1767. Died about 1851. Married Peter Fackler.

Christina, born about 1764. Married Peter Hind.

3. Valentine Oyler, II

Valentine and Mary "Molly" Arndt were married in Pennsylvania about 1781.

Frederick (my ancestor) was shown by Mrs. Schorn as having been born in Franklin County, Virginia about 1780; however, I believe he was born about 1785 in Maryland. He married Nancy Cochran, daughter of Samuel Cochran from Henry County, Virginia. About 1818 Samuel and his family still at home, and his son-in-law, moved to Sumner County, Tennessee, where he received a land grant for his war service. He lived there until his death about 1842, collecting his pension as a veteran of the Revolutionary War.
Nancy Cochran, Samuel's daughter, married my great, great grandfather in Franklin County, Virginia in 1808. They had two children in Virginia and then moved to Marion, Tennessee about 1812 with sister Elizabeth and brother-in-law John Dame. Frederick died about 1866 in Marion County and Nancy died between 1850 and 1860, as Frederick had remarried by 1860 showing his new wife in the 1860 federal census.

John, born July 17, 1781. Married Elizabeth Wysong on January 4, 1808. He died on his farm in Franklin County, Virginia on February 4, 1846. (I and my cousin Earl Oyler visited his farm about 1983 and saw his old mill still standing and John's tombstone in the family graveyard on the corner of the farm. I have corresponded with several of his descendants).

Valentine III, born January 12, 1783. Died March 17, 1852. Married Catherine Wysong May 17, 1806. Later moved to Randolph County, Indiana about 1819.

Elizabeth, born about 1784. Married John Dame on March 2, 1807 in Franklin County, Virginia. She moved to Marion County, Tennessee with her brother Frederick about 1812. (I have corresponded with several of her descendants). John was well-known in Marion County and was in the War of 1812 with his brother-in-law, Frederick Oyler.

Catherine, born about 1785. Married Henry Wysong April 5, 1814. Probably died in Preble County, Ohio.

Jacob, born about 1788. Married Susannah and later Martha Mills.

Daniel, born in September or December, 1792 in Franklin County, Virginia. He married Elizabeth Crooks February 1, 1819. (I have corresponded with many people that are descendants of Daniel and Elizabeth).

David, born about 1794. He married Elizabeth Hutts September 20, 1824.

Mary, born about 1796. Married Abel Meador September 4, 1820. (I have seen several gravestones in Franklin County, Virginia when I was there about 1983 that had Meador on them in the Church of the Brethren cemetery).

Lewis, born about 1798 and married Polly Roupe November 16, 1823. He later moved to Wabash County, Indiana and died there. (I have met several of his descendants).

Abraham, born about 1800. Being the youngest child he was listed in the 1820 federal census in Randolph County, Indiana, having moved there about 1818 with his brother Valentine.

When my cousin Earl Oyler and I made the trip to Franklin County, Virginia about 1983, where we found several records of the family in the courthouse. It appears that Valentine and Mary "Molly" moved there about 1788 and bought land and built a large four-room brick home in the country. The style of the home was four long rooms, two downstairs and two up. Each end of the house had a large fireplace to heat the two lower and upper rooms. This house was still standing in 1983, but was badly run down and vacant.

The land around the county is rolling, about 25 miles south of present day Roanoke, Virginia on the edge of the Blue Ridge mountains.

The will of Valentine Oyler was in the Franklin County Courthouse, indicating he died about 1825. Mary "Molly" died about 1830.

I saw a beautiful letter, I thought, written by Mary "Molly" Oyler after Valentine died to her children telling them about his death.

4. Frederick Oyler C566

As I mentioned earlier, my great, great grandfather, Frederick Oyler married Nancy Cochran in 1808 in Franklin County, Tennessee. I saw the copy of the marriage agreement between Frederick and his father-in-law, Samuel Cochran. They had two children born in Virginia:

C5661 Mary "Molly," was born about 1812 and died in Arkansas about 1873.

C5662 John was born about 1813. He later married Frances Spurlock and died in Arkansas. Then they moved to Marion County, Tennessee, with John and Elizabeth Dame. In Tennessee six more children were born.

C5663 Frederick, Jr. was born about 1814 and married Nancy _____. He died in 1842. Records of his death are listed in Jasper, Franklin County, Tennessee courthouse.

C5664 Dethus Daniel (my great grandfather) was born in 1816 and married Jemima Smith from Kentucky about 1835. Daniel died in Alabama about 1881. Jemima died between 1857 and 1860 as Daniel had remarried by the next federal census in 1860.

C5665 Andrew, born about 1818, married Elmira Brown about 1846 and died in Alabama in 1885.

C5666 Elizabeth, born about 1820, died about 1897. (I have corresponded with one of her descendants in California).

C5667 Nancy was born about 1826 and married Hiram Curtis about 1847. She died in Sequachie, Tennessee in 1897. (Here again, I have personally met two of her descendants who live in the Tennessee area and corresponded with others.

Valentine, the youngest child, was born about 1829 and was listed in both the 1850 and 1860 federal census as living at home with his father, Frederick. (I have never found out anything further about Valentine).

5. Dethus Daniel Oyler

My great grandfather was born about 1816 in Marion County, Tennessee. He and his brother fought the Cherokee Indians in that area in 1836. He married Jemima Smith from Kentucky. She was born in 1816 also.

John, their first child, was born about 1836 while they lived in Tennessee. In the next year they moved to Dekalb County, Alabama, about thirty miles southwest of present Chattanooga, where several more children were born.

Frederick, born in 1838 and died in 1909. He married Sarah _____ about 1860. They had nine children. (I have corresponded with at least two of them). I found Frederick's grave, along with his father Daniel, in the Baptist cemetery about five miles from Bridgeport, Alabama.

Smith was the third child, born about 1840. He died in Taylorville, Illinois at age 90. He was considered fairly well off, as he owned several hundred acres of land and had eleven children. He was first married to Cora Wood from Kentucky and after her death he married Martha Chandler.

Sarah was born in 1841 and died in 1903. (I saw her monument near Sulphur Springs, Alabama. Her children had purchased a large stone and had all the names of her children on it. She and her husband, Ben Adkins, had ten children. I have met one of her grandchildren and corresponded with one).

George Washington was born about 1843 and died about 1906. His death was probably caused due to the time he spent in prison during the Civil War. George taught school in Alabama after the war and he donated land on which the school was built.
(I have corresponded with one of his grandsons who was the high school athletic director in Akron, Ohio).

James Monroe, the next child and my grandfather was born about 1843.

Gilliam was born in 1844 and was killed at the Second Battle of Bull Run in August, 1863 near Manassas, Virginia.

Nancy A. born about 1846 and married Mike Tinker.

Nancy Ann was born in 1848 and died in 1918. She married John Garrard about 1875 and had three children. (I have corresponded with one of them).

Perina, born about 1849, died in 1904. Married _____ Keeth.

William, born 1853 and died in 1864.

Louisa, born in 1853 and married John Austin. I believe they lived near Trenton, Georgia.

Andrew Jackson was born in 1856 and died in Taylorville, Illinois area in 1930. (I knew him as a boy. He was a short, chubby man and had seven children. I have met several of them).

Paralee was the last child born in 1859 and apparently was the daughter of Daniel's second wife, as Jemima, my great grandmother died between 1856 and 1860, for it is here the federal census of 1860 shows the new wife. I have seen Paralee's monument at the Ider Crossing Cemetery in Alabama. She married Frank Coussart and had a one daughter that I am aware of.

During the Civil War, my great grandfather Daniel and his sons, Frederick, Smith, George, James, and Gilliam, all walked from their home in Dekalb County, Alabama, to the nearest enlistment center. It must have been Rising Fawn, Georgia, a small railroad town near the Alabama-Georgia line. They enlisted in what was to become Company H of the 21st Georgia Volunteer Regiment. Captain James Cooper Nisbit was the Company H Officer who took their enlistment. Daniel was discharged a few weeks after his enlistment due to poor health. The rest of the sons were either taken prisoner during the war, or killed, as was the case of Gilliam, or made it all the way until 1865 when General Lee surrendered to General Grant at Appomattox Court House, Virginia.

Immediately after the war, Smith went to Springfield, Illinois, according to his grandson, Darrell Hamilton. About two years later, James and Andrew came to Illinois and all worked on the farms in the area north of Taylorville, until they were married and bought their own farms.

6. James Monroe Oyler

He was born about 1843 and died from pneumonia at his farm north of Taylorville, Illinois in 1926. Grandfather was a short, medium built man. He had one finger gone due to an accident when he was a child. I was born on his farm in 1914. He used to talk about the Civil War. One thing I remember was his recounting seeing several men hung during the war. Later, I found his 21st Georgia Regimental History, written about 1904 by a man named Thomas. The book mentioned during the winter of 1864, General Lee sent General Hoke to North Carolina and while there they became engaged in a battle with the Union Army for one of the forts located near the ocean. During this battle the Confederates captured some former Confederates who had deserted and rejoined the Union Army. These twenty-seven men were brought up for desertion and sentenced to hang. The Regimental History said my grandfather's regiment were charged with forming the hollow square around the gallows.

James married my grandmother, Mary Elizabeth Watts, who had come to the Taylorville area from Kentucky about 1857. They had five children, two sons and three daughters:

Bertha, the oldest child was born in 1873 and died in 1958. She married Elmer Harmon, a farmer. They had one son, Lloyd.

Ada Mae, the next child and my aunt was born in 1876 and died in 1950. She married W.W. Poor and had nine children.

My father, Lewis Daniel, was born in 1877, the third child of James and Mary Elizabeth Oyler. He died in 1964 at age 86 in Taylorville. He had worked on the farm all of his life, except for the last few years when they moved to Taylorville. My mother was Elsie Lee Vaughan. She was born in 1889 and died at age 87 in 1977, after a series of strokes. My father and mother were married in July of 1913 in Decatur, where she was living. They had seven children, I being the oldest.

Walter Henry, my father's brother, was born in 1882 and died in 1961. He was also a farmer and married Ethel Irwin. They had five children.

Nina Pearl, the last child of James and Mary Elizabeth Oyler and my aunt was was born in 1884 and died in 1974. She had one daughter by her first husband, Ambrose Baughman. After a divorce, she married the farmer Calvin Little.

7. Lewis Daniel Oyler

William Monroe Oyler. I was born on my grandfather's farm on February 26, 1914.

Dolores Pearl, my sister, was born April 26, 1915 and married John Mathon, a coal miner. They have two children.

Paul and Pauline were twins, born on my grandfather's farm in 1918. Paul died of cancer in September of 1990, the first of our brothers and sisters. He married Marjorie Deweese. They have no children. Pauline married Elmer Lading. She had one son, Chris.

Robert Lynn was born in 1926 on a farm my father had rented while he continued to farm my grandfather's farm. In 1952 he married Helen Norris and they have six children.

Harlow was born in 1927 and married May Edwards. They have two children. Their youngest son, John, died with cancer at age 12.

Dwayee Vaughan was born in 1931, the year I graduated from Taylorville High School. He married Jean Shiheko in Japan about 1948. They have two children.

8. William Monroe Oyler

Born February 26, 1914, I married Dorothy Louise Krieger from Stonington, Illinois on April 2, 1934 in Burlington, Iowa. This was the place Dorothy was born. At the time I was married, I was working at the coal mine at Langleyville, Illinois, which is about three miles west of Taylorville. We have two children.

9. Gene Kent Oyler

Gene Kent, was born March 18, 1935 in Christian County, Illinois. In September of 1939 I began work for Swift & Company, which I continued until 1961. In August of 1961, I began selling life insurance for Prudential Insurance Company until I retired. Now, I have done various work to keep busy. Presently I am working for my granddaughter and her husband who owns a monument business.

Rita Lee Karch, born March 19, 1954 in Mount Vernon, Illinois, and our son were married in Decatur, Illinois after he spent a year overseas in the Marine Corps. Upon his return to Camp Lejune, North Carolina until he was discharged from the Marines, Kent worked for his father-in-law Krekel Karch in the earth-moving business until it failed about eight years ago. He has been selling new Chevrolet trucks for a local dealer, Miles Chevrolet. Kent and Rita have three daughters and one son.

Linda Louise, our daughter born July 3, 1939, graduated from Calumet High School in Chicago in 1957. I had been transferred by Swift & Company to Paris, Texas. There she attended North Texas University for one year and then went to Chicago and completed the Nursing requirements at St. Lukes School of Nursing. She was then married in 1964 to Dr. Bernard Ruder from Kankakee, Illinois. They are now divorced. Linda lives in Chicago where she does nursing work. She had one daughter and two sons.

10th Generation: Michael Steven Oyler

Michael was born to Gene Kent and Rita Karch on December 21, 1955 at Camp Lejune, North Carolina. He married Vickie Gene Kaskey on July 10, 1982 at Decatur, Illinois. She was born January 18, 1955 at Kingsville, Texas.

interred by the Masonic fraternity with appropriate ceremony, he having been a member of that order. His widow resided at Benton till 1883, since which she has been a resident of Atlanta. She is a member of the Christian church.

SILAS E. MCCLELLAND, physician and surgeon, Beason, was born January 13, 1860, in Decatur, Illinois, his parents, Joseph E. and Margaret McClelland, being natives of Ohio. He was educated in his native town, graduated from the Decatur High School in 1875. He then entered the drug store of J. T. Hubbard, of Decatur, where he remained four years, becoming a skilled pharmacist. He entered Rush Medical College, of Chicago, in September, 1882, from which he graduated in February, 1884. During the summer of 1883 he spent some time in practice with his brother, Dr. W. E. McClelland, of Midland City, Illinois. In 1884 he located at Beason, Logan County, where he has since been engaged in the practice of his profession, and is meeting with excellent success. He is also the proprietor of a well-patronized drug store at Beason. He was married November 26, 1884, to Sarah Armstrong, daughter of Andrew and Sarah Armstrong of Ætna Township, Logan County. The Doctor is a member of the Masonic fraternity of Lincoln, Illinois.

P. H. OYLER, M. D., is the son of George Oyler, a farmer, residing near Carlysle, Pennsylvania. He was born October 13, 1846, and remained on the farm until fourteen years of age, when he left home to seek a more advanced course of instruction than the public schools of the vicinity then afforded. Subsequently he began the study of medicine under Dr. Keiffer, of Carlysle, Pennsylvania, but for want of means he was obliged to abandon his medical studies, temporarily, and resort to manual labor to raise funds to prosecute his studies. In 1864 he was a forage master in General Sheridan's army, in which capacity he continued to serve until in the spring of 1865, when he was discharged. He soon after went to Indianapolis, Indiana, where he learned carriage-making, and attended night school. He continued working at his trade until 1870, having then accumulated several thousand dollars by industry and economy. The next two years he was a clerk in a drug store at Columbus, Indiana. Later he became the proprietor of a drug store and continued in the business until he entered the Louisville Medical College. In 1878 he graduated from the latter institution and moved to Mt. Pulaski, Illinois, where he has ever since been actively engaged in the practice of medicine. He is a member of the State Medical Society of Illinois and a permanent member of the American Medical Association. He was married at Indianapolis, Indiana, in 1868, to Sarah J. Westover, formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, with whom he has three children, two sons and one daughter.

THE FRED J. REYNOLDS HISTORICAL GENEALOGY DEPARTMENT

LOCATING BOOKS

Most of the books in the collection are located in the closed stack areas, though some statewide finding aids, vital records, and other references are available on the browsing shelves of the reading rooms. You can identify the books you would like to use by checking the card catalog under the author, subject, and title. Subjects include the name of the family or the name of a geographic location.

LOCATING MICROTEXT

Microtext records are cataloged separately in the microtext storage room. Check the microtext card catalog under the appropriate subject to get the roll number of the film you would like to use. You may get the microtext materials yourself, however refiling is done by the staff.

LOCATING PERIODICALS

The Periodical Source Index, located at the front of the main reading room as well as with the browsing periodical collection, is the best access to this collection of materials. Check under the name of the family or the name of the state and county for a list of relevant articles. United States genealogical society publications are filed alphabetically in the browsing stacks of the main reading room while historical and foreign titles need to be requested.

. THANK YOU, Jack Coyle, for letting our annual Iler Reunion hold their meeting by Iler Settlement Cemetery and for your kindness in letting us be guests for the day. We really appreciated it.

. HARROW EARLY IMMIGRANT RESEARCH SOCIETY is publishing a historical book on this area. You may be interested in purchasing a copy yet. Prepublication price of $25.00 was extended. Mail to Box 53, Harrow, ON NOR 1GO Canada. Or call Edith Woodbridge at 1-519-638-4368 for update information. She lives just west of Twin Gables a mile.

. Items of past Eiler Reunion: I met Clarence O. Eiler, Secretary, and visited him on several occasions and he was the one who got me interested in Iler history. He was here in this area for the Arner Reunion and knew Alfredy Arner, Sr. One interesting note, he looked very much like my grandfather Edgar Iler.

The Sixth Annual Reunion of the

EILER FAMILY

(Eilar, Euler, Oiler, Euyler, Iler, etc.)

will be held at Wolfe's Point, Manitou Lake, Rochester, Ind., on SUNDAY, AUGUST 3, 1941

Basket dinner at noon hour.

Organization meeting, entertainment and visiting. Boating and bathing, plenty of shade, good water and parking facilities.

All who have any claim to Eiler relationship are urged and welcome to come to this reunion and help boost for one of the greatest organizations of its kind.

Those coming from a distance, will be gladly welcomed to come ahead of time and remain over, as convenient. Kindly notify the secretary, who will arrange for your entertainment.

If unable to come, kindly reply by letter of greeting, which will be read at the meeting. We'll be expecting you.

C. O. EILER, Secretary, Mentone, Indiana.

Note, mistakes are possible and we do not plan on them. Please let Bob Iler know so we can correct anything

. The First Eiler Reunion at Warsaw, Indiana, August 16, 1936. About 100 in attendance; a fine day, fine place; fine occasion. Of the 11 children of Samuel and Susannah (Kulp) Iler and goodly number were present.

Samuel Iler was a brother to our Jacob Iler here only he went to Hagerstown, IN and Jacob came to this area.

."February 9, 1901, Edgar Iler was appointed to go and inspect organ that an agent wanted the church to buy. It was moved and seconded that the old organ be given to brother Edgar Iler". (This was E. Bruce Iler's father)

"March 25, 1901, received an organ from Mr. Karn of Woodstock. It cost $110.00. Mr. Karn agreed to throw off $30.00 making the price $80.00. It was moved and seconded that we purchase it on the above conditions and send the money immediately to Mr. Karn. Lillian Iler, organist (Ernest Iler's wife). Other organists listed in the past: January 1924 Ralph K. Iler organist. "Winnie Wright Iler played organ in the church at the age of 17 years in 1890" (Bruce Iler's mother).

. Bruce Iler saw Haley's Comet in 1910 from doorstep of Iler Baptist Church and the sky was all lit up with the light from it.
. Coming Event: Sat., Aug. 22, 1992, wedding of Cornelius Slikboer and Tamara Ann Ulch, dau. of Murray and Jane (Heboer) Ulch and great grand dau of Philemon and Edna (Iler) Ulch, and grandaughter of Mrs. Donald Ulch, Percita Steifvator, of Harrowood.

Use back for any notes you wish to make.

"March 25, 1901, received an organ from Mr. Karn of Woodstock. It cost $110.00. Mr. Karn agreed to throw off $30.00 making the price $80.00. It was moved and seconded that we purchase it on the above conditions and send the money immediately to Mr. Karn. Lillian Iler, organist (Ernest Iler's wife). Other organists listed in the past: January 1924 Ralph K. Iler organist. "Winnie Wright Iler played organ in the church at the age of 17 years in 1890" (Bruce Iler's mother).

. Bruce Iler saw Haley's Comet in 1910 from doorstep of Iler Baptist Church and the sky w all lit up with the light from it.
. Coming Event: Sat., Aug. 22, 1992, wedding of Cornelius Slikboer and Tamara Ann Ulch, dau of Murray and Jane (Heboer) Ulch and great grand dau of Philemon and Edna (Iler) Ulch, an grandaughter of Mrs. Donald Ulch, Percita Steifvator, of Harrowood.

where he lived for twenty-eight years, and where his family of eleven children were born. The names of these children were: Anne or Nancy, was born July 1, 1772, and died unmarried in 1844; Basil Spalding, who was born October 22, 1773 and died October 13, 1869, in Baltimore City, was married November 18, 1801, to Elizabeth Snowden, who died January 29, 1860; Catharine, who was born March 7, 1776, was the second wife of Joseph Gardiner, of Nelson County, Ky., three of whose daughters by his first marriage became Sisters of Charity of the Nazareth Community, and of these the late Mother Francis Gardiner was for many years Superior of the sisterhood; William Pius, was born May 4, 1778, and died in Baltimore, August 22, 1799; Clementina, who was born June 16, 1780, and died July 21, 1782, was married to Richard Clarke; Ignatius, was born July 21, 1782, and married Monica Green; Theresa, was born March 1, 1785, and died unmarried, December 19, 1816; Thomas Richard, who was born June 14, 1789, and died July 11, 1835, was married to Caroline Clements; Christiana, who was born October 30, 1791, became the wife of John B. Wright; Mary Elizabeth, born May 15, 1794, married John Tarboe; and Maria M., who was born April 11, 1796, was the wife of John Howard. In 1799, Thomas Elder broke up his establishment in Harbaugh's Valley and removed to Kentucky, accompanied by all his children, except Basil Spalding.

Basil Spalding, the second child of Thomas and Elizabeth (Spalding) Elder, was married to Elizabeth Snowden. To them were born thirteen children, three of whom died in infancy. Of the other ten, Eleanora became a Sister of Charity. Another daughter, Mrs. Jenkins, died in Havana in 1846, and another, Mrs. Baldwin, in Baltimore in 1772. Of the sons, Frances W. settled in Baltimore; Basil T., in St. Louis, Mo.; James C., in Baton Rouge, La.; Joseph E., in Denver, Col.; Thomas S., of New Orleans, La.; William Henry, became Bishop of Cincinnati, O.; and Charles D., of New Orleans.

James Elder, the first Catholic of his name to emigrate to Kentucky, was born in Emmitsburg district, Frederick County, in 1760, and was the son of Guy Elder and grandson of William Elder, the American progenitor. He married Ann Richards and immediately went to Kentucky, where he settled on Hordin's Creek. His brother William, joined him a few months later. James Elder died August 15, 1845, and Ann, his wife, January 8, 1857.

DAVID EYLER, deceased, in his time one of the well known agriculturists and highly respected citizens of Mechanicstown district, was born in Eyler's Valley, Frederick County, Md., February 22, 1813, and died on his farm, situated two and a-half miles north of Thurmont, on June 26, 1863. He was a son of George and Elsie (Kauffman) Eyler. C461+ C461

George Eyler lived in Eyler's Valley, where his parents had located after emigrating to this country from Germany and after whom it was named. The members of the family were Moravians in religion. George Eyler and his wife, Elsie Kauffman, had twelve children: Lavenia, deceased; David; Rachel, deceased; Aaron, deceased; Perry, deceased; Benjamin, deceased; Margaret, deceased; Tracy, deceased; Susan, who is a widow, and resides at State Line, Md.; Amanda, deceased; Harriet, the wife of Ephriam Harbaugh, of Waynesboro, Pa.; and Judith, deceased.

David Eyler, son of George Eyler and his wife, Elsie Kauffman, spent his life following agricultural pursuits. In politics, he was a Republican, but never sought public office. In religion, he was one of the charter members of the old Thurmont United Brethren Church, where for many years he was one of the leading members. He was married to Mary Doub, daughter of Abram and Catherine Doub, and they were the parents of eight children: William; Markwood; Enrezetta Virginia, on the old home, "Brookside"; Arbelon Clementine, who married Rev. Charles Martin Hott, of whom below; David F., deceased; and the others died in childhood. C4612 7543 7547

Arbelon Clementine Eyler was married at Myersville, Md., January 23, 1877, to Rev. Charles Martin Hott, son of Rev. Jacob F. and Jane (Streit) Hott. He was born near Winchester, Va., September 11, 1851, and died in California, June 15, 1890, in the town of Woodbridge. He was a minister in the United Brethren church. He began preaching in 1869. In 1872 he united with Virginia Conference, and was ordained by Bishop Edwards. As a preacher he had but few equals in the church. At the early age of twenty-one he had filled the pulpit in connection with Lebanon Valley College, at the same time pursuing collegiate studies. In 1879, he was called to Shenandoah Institute, Dayton, Va., where he both preached and taught. He was a member of the General Conference of 1885, and for the eight years prior to his going to California, he resided at Boonsboro, Md., serving two years as presiding elder and six years as preacher. In December, 1889, he accepted a call to the United Brethren church at Woodridge, Cal., where he remained until his death a short time afterward. Rev. Charles M. and Arbelon C. (Eyler) Hott had two children: G. Dwight, manages the old Eyler farm, is a bookkeeper by profession, and married Bertha Summers, daughter of Jonas Summers, and has two sons, Dwight Kingston and Charles Eldon, and one daughter, Virginia Evangeline; and Mary Vada, with her mother on the Eyler homestead. 33888

Rev. Jacob F. Hott, the father of Rev. Charles M. Hott, was for many years a minister in the United Brethren Church. He was married to Jane Streit. They were the parents of the following children: James William, deceased, was a bishop in the United Brethren Church and in his day ranked very high in that denomination; John E., a minister in the United Brethren Church, residing in Augusta County, Va.; Ellen F., deceased, was the wife of Rev. M. F. Keiter, also a minister in the U. B. Church; George P., a minister in the U. B. Church, located at Dayton, Va.; Charles M., deceased, married Arbelon C. Eyler; Jacob W., a merchant of Dayton, Va.; Isabella S., the wife of James M. Hott, of Winchester, Va.; and David, died while studying for the United Brethren ministry.

The Hott family was one of the early settled ones of Virginia. The American ancestor was Francis Hott, who was of French origin.

THE LATE THOMAS F. EYLER, who was the leading merchant of Sabillasville, Frederick County, Md., son of Ex-County Commissioner Charles A. and Charlotte L. (Gurley) Eyler, both deceased, was born on the old homestead, in Eyler's Valley, Mechanicstown District, Frederick County, Md., September 17, 1858.

Frederick Eyler, grandfather of Thomas F. Eyler, was born in Switzerland, April 9, 1776. In early manhood, he and a brother came to America and settled in the northern part of Frederick County, Md., where he purchased a large tract of farm and timber land and named the place of his settlement Eyler's Valley. A part of this land is still in the family, the property of his grandson, Ross R. Eyler. Mr. Eyler worked hard and was rewarded by success. On his share of the land, he built a dwelling, a barn, and all necessary out-buildings, and improved his land until the wild land had become a fair garden. Mr. Eyler became a prosperous farmer, and a highly respected citizen. He was a Democrat. Frederick Eyler was married December 15, 1809, to Margaret Willier, who was born September 11, 1783. Their children are: 1, ———, died in childhood; 2, J. Frederick, deceased, a farmer of Mechanicstown District, Frederick County; 3, Caroline, deceased, married to the late Robert Clugston, of Waynesboro, Pa.; 4, Marie, deceased, married to the late John Benchoff, of Hagerstown, Md.; 5, Lizzie E., deceased, married to the late Samuel M. Diffendall, of Mechanicstown District; 6, William, deceased; 7, Charles A.; 8, Rebecca, widow of the late George Favorite, of Thurmont, Md. Mr. Eyler and his wife were members of the United Brethren Church. Mr. Eyler and his wife died at their home in Eyler's Valley. 7437

Charles A. Eyler, ex-County Commissioner of Frederick County, father of Thomas F. Eyler, was born on the old homestead, in Eyler's Valley, Mechanicstown District, August 30, 1818. He was educated in the public schools of Mechanicstown District, and remained with his father on the home farm. After the death of his father, Mr. Eyler and his brother, Frederick, bought from two to three hundred acres of the homestead, which they cultivated together, until the death of Frederick, when Mr. Eyler became sole owner of the property. The location of the farm is beautiful, and Mr. Eyler's intelligent cultivation, and improvements have made it one of the desirable farms of the district. Mr. Eyler was a Democrat. He was nominated by his party for County Commissioner of Frederick County, and carried the county by a large majority. He discharged the duties of the office promptly and efficiently, giving satisfaction to all. He was a prosperous farmer, and an honored citizen of Frederick County. Charles A. Eyler was married, October 29, 1857, to Charlotte L., daughter of Thomas Gurley, who was a prominent citizen of Cumberland, Md. Of their eight children, five reached adult age: 1, Thomas F., a merchant of Sabillasville, Md.; 2, Ellen I., widow of Albert Colliflower, of Graceham, Md.; 3, Emma C., widow of John C. Firor, of Graceham; 4, Edward Ross, a farmer of Mechanicstown District: 5, Charles R., a farmer of Mechanicstown district. Mr. Eyler and his wife were members of the United Brethren church of Eyler's Valley. He was one of the most active workers in the church, and held office for many years. He always contributed liberally to benevolent objects. Mrs. Eyler, who was born February 20, 1835, died October 18, 1879. Mr. Eyler died at his home in Eyler's Valley, January 21, 1901, and was buried beside his wife in the cemetery of the United Brethren church in Thurmont, Md.

Thomas F. Eyler was educated in the public schools of his native district, and remained with his father on the homestead until the spring of 1886, when he began business for himself as general merchant in Sabillasville, Md. His good judgment in buying, and his honest dealing soon established a large trade, and he became the leading business man of Sabillasville. He owned his beautiful home and the store in which he carried on his business successfully for twenty-two years. After his death his widow retired from business and rented the store. She still resides in her husband's home. Mr. Eyler was a Democrat. He was a member of Acacia Lodge, No. 155, A. F. and A. M., of Thurmont; and of the Junior Order of American Mechanics, Buena Vista. He was one of the leading business men of Frederick County, and was highly esteemed as a merchant and as a citizen. He was one of the directors of the Citizens' Bank of Thurmont.

Thomas F. Eyler was married to Bertha, daughter of Simon W. and Elizabeth (Smith) Harbaugh, whose father was a prominent retired farmer of Sabillasville. Her mother is living in Sabillasville. They have one child, Hazel M., at home. Mr. Eyler and his wife were members of the Lutheran church in Sabillasville. He was a liberal contributor to the church and served the congregation as deacon and as elder for many years. He died at his home in Sabillasville, July 9, 1908, and is buried in the cemetery at Thurmont, Md.

WILLIAM WARREN DOUB, secretary of the People's Fire Insurance Company of Frederick County, and a well known citizen, was born at Myersville, in Jackson District, Frederick County, April 18, 1865. He is a son of Jonas A. and Ann F. (Waters) Doub.

The Doub family is of French lineage and was among the pioneer families of Middletown Valley, in Frederick County.

Enos Doub, the grandfather of William Warren Doub, was a son of Abraham Doub. He was a native of Middletown Valley, and followed agricultural pursuits all his life. He lived to be over eighty-seven years of age. In religion, he was one of the leading members of the United Brethren Church in his district. Mr. Doub was married to Mary Sheffer. They were the parents of a large family, among whom was Jonas A.

Jonas A. Doub, son of Enos and Mary (Sheffer) Doub, was born in Jackson District, Frederick County, October 25, 1840, and died in the borough of Middletown, October 2, 1907. Mr. Doub was married to Ann F. Waters in 1863. She is a daughter of James and Ann E. (Schlosser) Waters. There were four children by this marriage: William Warren; Annie E., married H. E. Zimmerman and died October 7, 1894; Harvey L., died in childhood; and James E., of Middletown, manager of the G. L. Baking Company, Frederick, Md.

William Warren Doub, son of Jonas A. and Ann F. (Waters) Doub, grew to maturity on a farm in Middletown district, Frederick County. While a boy he was engaged in farm work and attended the public schools. He later went to the Middletown Academy. Upon the completion of his education, he was for two years a clerk for A. W. Smith, of Middletown, who conducted a general merchandise store. At the age of twenty-three years, Mr. Doub entered the employ of T. C. Rudy & Son in a similar capacity, they also operating a general store in Middletown. Here he remained for one year until 1889, when he became discount clerk for the Valley Savings Bank of Middletown, a well known financial institution of the county. This position—Bookkeeper and Teller at different periods—Mr. Doub filled until January 1, 1907, at which time he became deputy county treasurer under George W. Crown, holding this office until December 10, 1907. On that date, Mr. Doub was chosen secretary of the People's Fire Insurance Company of Frederick County. He has since been connected with this widely known enterprise and has discharged his duties with much ability. He is well known and is recognized as one of Frederick County's leading and substantial citizens.

Mr. Doub is a stanch adherent of the Republican principles in politics. Fraternally, he is connected with Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A. F. and A. M., of Frederick City, and the Junior Order United American Mechanics, of Middletown. Religiously, he holds membership in the Lutheran Church, in which he takes an active part. For the past fourteen years he has been superintendent of the Sunday School, and is treasurer of the church council.

On October 2, 1894, Mr. Doub was married to Harriet E. Remsburg, daughter of George W. and Joanna (Derr) Remsburg, a member of an old Middletown Valley family. There are three sons by this marriage: Virgil W., John W., and Donald J. (See the Doub, Remsburg and Ramsburg sketches in this volume for further history of these families).

D. W. DEITRICK, one of the foremost citizens of Frederick City and well known in milling circles, is a native of Reading, Pa., where he was born August 22, 1867.

Mr. Deitrick's ancestors were among the early settlers of Berks County, Pa. They were of sturdy German and Swiss stock, and their descendants have been and are at the present time among the leading business and agricultural people in various parts of the United States. Mr. Deitrick was educated in the Berks county schools. He first engaged in the milling business in 1892, and now operates flour mills at Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Reading, Pa., and Frederick, Md. His establishment at the last named place is known as the Mountain City Mills. This mill is a four-story brick building, equipped with all the latest and modern improved machinery for the manufacture of all grades of the finest flour. This is the foremost industry in Frederick County of its kind. The mill is located at the Baltimore and Ohio depot and has a capacity of 1000 barrels daily, the output being chiefly disposed of to the domestic trade. The plant is operated by steam.

Mr. Deitrick is strictly a self-made man, and has risen to his present position by his own efforts entirely. In politics, he is Democratic, and in religion is a member of the Reformed Church. Mr. Deitrick is a member of the New York Produce Exchange, the Commercial Exchange of Philadelphia, the Chamber of Commerce of Baltimore, the State Millers' Association of Pennsylvania and Maryland, and the Holstein Fresian Association. He is president of the Farmers' Exchange of Frederick.

ROBERT LEE DAVIS is a well-known young farmer, residing upon the old Homestead Stock and Dairy Farm, on the Washington and Frederick road, four miles from New Market. He was born on this farm, November 8, 1867, and is a son of Isaac T. and Sarah F. (Spalding) Davis.

The fine Old Homestead Farm lies along the line between the New Market and Urbana districts. It was formerly a more extensive tract than it is now. From "time out of mind," a couplet has been traditionally connected with it—very curiously, because it is not verified by facts, since every owner of that farm has been successful, and accumulated a competency; the lines are:

"Vulcan's Valley and Cowtail Hill,
For want of the money, the work stands still."

This farm has been in the same family for more than a century. It belonged to Robert Lee Davis's great-great-grandfather, William Morsell, was inherited by his great-grandfather, also a William Morsell, from whom it passed to a daughter, Rachel Morsell, who married Eli Davis, the present owner's grandfather, who bequeathed it to his son, Isaac T. Davis, as a life possession, to be inherited by his children. The old barn, which was torn down in the spring of 1907, was erected so many years ago that the oldest resident of the neighborhood has no recollection of it. On the same site, the present owner has built a fine new barn, 45x70 feet in dimensions. The residence, or a part of it, was built at the same time as the barn. The north end is built of brick, while the south end is frame, or weatherboarded logs—the north end having been burned down in the year ———, and rebuilt with bricks.

George Davis, great-grandfather of Robert Lee Davis, married Miss Elizabeth Hyatt. They spent the later years of their life with their son, Eli Davis. George Davis was by occupation a merchant. He died at the age of seventy-seven years, his wife at seventy-two; both were interred in the old Friends' graveyard, near Monrovia. Their children were: 1, Julia Ann (Mrs. Ezra Greentree); 2, Mary; 3, William, who went to Ohio, and died there; 4, Eli; 5, Isaac, all his life engaged in farming, near Sugar Loaf Mountain; he married Catherine Miles; 6, George, who married Margaret Bosley, lived and died in Baltimore; 7, John, who removed to Zanesville, O., in the service of the B. & O. R. R.; returned in later years, and died in New Market District; never married; 8, Rufus, also single, died in Urbana District; 9, Mary Ann; 10, Charlotte, (Mrs. Thomas Fowler), died in New Market District; 11, Richard, all his life engaged in farming, married Annie Williams; died in Frederick City.

Eli Davis and his wife, Rachel (Morsell) Davis, spent all their married life at the Old Homestead Farm. Both were born in the year 1809; Mrs. Davis died in 1886, and her husband followed her in 1887; both were buried by the Friends' meeting-house near Monrovia. They had united with the Methodist Protestant Church, but Mrs. Davis was of a Quaker family. Politically, Eli Davis was first a Whig and later, a Democrat. Their children were: 1, Mary, who died in early life; 2, William M., deceased, who married Antonia Windsor; 3, George W., a retired farmer of Urbana District, who married Elizabeth Price; 4, Henry Clay, who died young; 5, Isaac T.; 6, John F., of Urbana District, married Josephine Spalding; 7, Samuel B., deceased, married Rebecca Ebert; 8, Eli, died in infancy; 9, Charles G., of New Market District, married Laura Warfield; 10. James A., deceased, married Lola A. Day.

The fifth member of this family, Isaac T. Davis, was born on the Old Homestead Farm, December 16, 1841. He was educated in the public schools, began life as a farmer, and followed the same calling until his retirement from active life, a few years ago. In 1866, he married Sarah F., daughter of Elias and Nellie (Howard) Spalding. She died in May, 1905; she was a member of the Catholic Church at Urbana, where she is buried. Her early home was near Greenfield Mills, in Frederick Coun-the Maryland Legislature for one term, and looked after the interests of his constituents with marked fidelity and zeal. In religion, he was a leading and consistent member of the Jefferson Reformed Church. He was married to Elizabeth Boteler. They were the parents of three children: H. B., who is a practicing physician of Jefferson, Frederick County; Flora, who was married to James W. George, of Haymarket, Va.; and William L.

William L. Gross, son of Charles and Elizabeth (Boteler) Gross, was reared on the old homestead near Jefferson, Frederick County, and educated in the public schools of his home district. He followed agricultural pursuits until he was twenty years of age. Then, in 1877, he came to Berlin, now Brunswick, and purchased a half interest in the general merchandise store of Lingam Boteler, the firm name being Boteler & Gross. This partnership lasted for nine years, until 1886, when Mr. Gross purchased the half interest of Mr. Boteler. He has since continued to conduct the business alone. In the thirty-three years he has been engaged in business in Brunswick, he has seen that place grow from a small village of 300 souls to the present thriving town of 5,000. Mr. Gross has met with much success in his business. The first year he took charge of the store the sales were less than $10,000, and in 1908, the amount of goods sold aggregated over $61,000. His store is one of the largest houses of its kind in western Maryland, and Mr. Gross is recognized as one of Brunswick's most prominent and progressive business men. He has managed his store with a sagacity and foresight that stamp him as a man of fine executive capacity and rare mercantile acquirements.

Mr. Gross is a public-spirited citizen, and has always supported anything that promised to benefit the community. He was chairman of the committee through whose efforts the present system of water works was established in Brunswick in 1909. The water supply is pumped from an artesian well, 305 feet deep, from which flows ninety gallons a minute. The tank is located on a high hill above the town, thus giving one of the highest pressures of any water plant in the State of Maryland. Mr. Gross' efforts were largely instrumental in securing this needed improvement.

In politics, Mr. Gross is a stanch adherent of the Democratic party, but he has never sought public office, preferring to devote all his time and energy to his large business. Fraternally, he is a member of Delaware Tribe, No. 43, I. O. R. M., and the Modern Brotherhood of America. In religion, he is a consistent member of the Episcopal Church of Brunswick, in which he is active, serving as a member of the vestry for 15 years.

Mr. Gross was married September 27, 1893, to Anna C. Householder, daughter of Silas and Roxana (Schooley) Householder, who are natives of Virginia, and descended from an old Quaker family of that State. They are the parents of five children: Charles A., Edward Lynch, Flora Clarke, Anna Louyse and William Boteler.

HENRY M. GITTINGER, a public-spirited citizen of Frederick, who is a contractor and builder and resides at No. 405 North Market street, was born on a farm north of Frederick, December 3, 1853. His parents were George and Catharine (Young) Gittinger.

George Gittinger was a native of Frederick County, Md. He spent his entire life following the occupation of a farmer. Politically, he was in early life an old line Whig but upon the formation of the Republican party he joined its ranks and voted for the candidates of that organization the rest of his life. In religion, he was all of his life affiliated with the Reformed Church. Mr. Gittinger was twice married. His first wife was Charlotte Scholl. They were the parents of these children: Mary E., wife of William D. Worman, deceased, and she lives at Harmony Grove, Frederick County, Md.; John E., deceased; Lewis C., an engineer in the employ of the Great Southern Printing Company of Frederick; George William, unmarried, of Harmony Grove, Frederick County; Margaret J., unmarried, lives in Washington, D. C.; and Sarah, died in childhood. Mr. Gittinger was married secondly to Catharine Young. They were the parents of five children: Henry M.; Clara M., has never married; Laura C., also unmarried; Daniel F., deceased; and Samuel J., engaged in farming in Frederick district.

Henry M. Gittinger, son of George and Catharine (Young) Gittinger, was raised in his native city and in the public schools secured an education. He followed farming until he was twenty-one years old, at which time he began to learn the carpenter's trade. In 1885, Mr. Gittinger began contracting and building on his own account and he has since been engaged in this occupation.

He is now one of the leading men in his line in Frederick County, and has erected many of the fine buildings of the city and county, among which is the Frederick City Hospital. He has thoroughly mastered all the details of his profession and has taken high rank in his own branch of industry. Mr. Gittinger is one of the well-to-do and energetic citizens of Frederick. He is a director in the Franklin Savings Institute, of Frederick, one of the strong financial institutions of that part of the State.

Politically, Mr. Gittinger is a staunch Republican. In religion, he is a member of the Evangelical Reformed Church of Frederick, in which he serves in an official capacity, being at present an elder, and in the work of which he is very active. At the election held June 14, 1900, he was elected to the board of Aldermen of his native city.

Mr. Gittinger was married in 1886 to Susan Fessler Simmons, whose forebears were among the early settlers of Frederick County. She is a daughter of the late John A. and Rosanna C. (Fessler) Simmons. Mr. and Mrs. Gittinger have no children.

CHARLES H. HEFFNER, junior member of the firm of Debring and Heffner, of the Monon Steam Laundry, Frederick, Md., son of Frederick and Julia (Eyler) Heffner, was born near Frederick City, November 6, 1864.

Daniel Heffner, grandfather of Charles H. Heffner, was born in Brevair, Germany, and came to America in early manhood, landing at Baltimore, Md. He was a blacksmith and machinist, and was employed in these lines all his life. Mr. Heffner was a skilled workman, and was successful in business. He resided near Lewistown, Frederick County, Md., and was highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. He was a Democrat, and was always interested in the welfare of the community in which he lived. Daniel Heffner was married to Susan Eyler, and among their children was a son named Frederick.

Frederick Heffner, son of Daniel and Susan (Eyler) Heffner, and father of Charles H. Heffner, a retired farmer, was born near Lewistown, Md., July 1, 1832. He chose the vocation of farming in which he was engaged for many years. He was a successful agriculturalist, and cultivated his land until after his wife's death, when he retired, and resides with his daughter, Mrs. John S. Himes, at Mt. Zion, Ballinger District, Frederick County. Mr. Heffner is a Democrat, and is numbered among the reliable citizens of the county. Frederick Heffner was married to Julia Eyler, Woodsboro, Md. Their children are: 1, John D., deceased; 2, Charles H.; 3, Matilda A., married to M. C. Fulmer, a farmer of Braddock District, Frederick County; 4, Ida L. C., married to John S. Himes, contractor and builder, of Ballinger District. Mr. Heffner now holds membership in the Lutheran Church at Mt. Zion, and takes an active part in church work. Mrs. Heffner, who died July 27, 1904, was also a member of the Lutheran Church.

Charles Henry Heffner spent his boyhood and youth with his father on the farm of Mr. Samuel Zimmerman, at Feagaville, and attended the public schools of the district during the winter months. When he was nineteen, Mr. Heffner apprenticed himself to Mr. John H. Abbott a machinist of Frederick, Md. His relations with Mr. Abbott were always pleasant, and at the end of his four years' apprenticeship, although he received other offers, he decided to remain with Mr. Abbott, thinking that as he had received years of careful instruction, he ought to show his appreciation of the kindness received by remaining with his old employer. Mr. Heffner was prompt and reliable as an employe, giving faithful service for value received; always ready, early and late, to respond to the call of duty. In October, 1894, after being nearly twelve years with Mr. Abbott, Mr. Heffner formed a partnership with Mr. H. B. Debring, and established the Monon Steam Laundry. Mr. Heffner's skill as a machinist proved very valuable to the firm, and enabled the partners to establish their own plant, and to keep it in successful operation. Mr. Heffner is a progressive business man. Always courteous, kind, and charitable, he never intentionally wrongs any one; should a wrong occur, however, he is ever prompt to right it. He is a conservative Democrat, interested in everything that pertains to the interest and improvement of his adopted city. Mr. Heffner's life has been one of industry and usefulness, and his upright conduct has surrounded him with a host of friends. He is a member of the Royal Arcanum; the Modern Brotherhood of America; the Modern Woodmen of America; the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and Mystic Circle. He is a Lutheran, and holds his membership in Mount Zion Lutheran Church, near Feagaville, Md., where he attends service regularly. He is deeply interested in all that pertains to the welfare of the church, and has, at various times, served as an officer in the congregation and in the Sunday School.

Mr. Warner and his wife are members of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, in Creagerstown. Mrs. Warner is an active worker in the church. Mr. Warner died at his home in Woodsboro District, September 23, 1898, and is buried in the cemetery at Woodsboro, Md. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Warner returned to Creagerstown, where she now resides.

The ancestors of the Martz family were Germans who emigrated to America in 1700. Daniel Martz, grandfather of Mrs. Jane E. (Martz) Warner, was prominent as a farmer and merchant in Woodsboro and Johnsville where he lived to a good old age. He was married to Elizabeth Curfman. They had three children: 1, George D., father of Mrs. Warner; 2, William H., of Ladiesburg, Md., deceased; 3, Joanna (Mrs. Francis Renner). Mr. and Mrs. Martz are dead. His wife died June 8, 1880. Both are buried in the cemetery at Woodsboro, Md.

The late George D. Martz, son of Daniel and Elizabeth (Curfman) Martz, father of Mrs. Warner, was born June 28, 1825. He received his education in the public schools of the district, and remained on the homestead working with his father until he began farming for himself. Mr. Martz purchased, from his father, a fertile farm of 161 acres in Woodsboro District, Frederick County, Md., which he cultivated so successfully that he was able to buy a second property, situated in Woodsboro District. To this place he removed and spent the remainder of his life in improving it. He was a stockholder in the Creagerstown and Woodsboro Turnpike Company, and was highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. George D. Martz was married to Mary Ott. Of their four children only one, Jane E., widow of Daniel M. Warner, survives. Mr. Martz was a member of the Lutheran Church in Woodsboro. He died August 30, 1906, and rests in the cemetery in Woodsboro. At her father's death, Mrs. Warner came into possession of both farms which are now rented.

THOMAS WILLIAM FOGLE, one of the old and highly respected citizens of Woodsboro District, was born near New Midway, Frederick County, December 20, 1839. He is a son of William Fogle and his first wife, Margaret Strine.

Henry Fogle, the great-grandfather of Thomas W. Fogle, came to Frederick County, Md., from Pennsylvania. He was wealthy and purchased a farm for each of his five children. These tracts were in Woodsboro District. He could have bought land around Frederick City but it was full of malaria and it was not so thickly settled in the neighborhood he chose. He is buried at Rocky Hill. Mr. Fogle was the father of five children: William, who died near Liberty, married a Miss Anders; John; Mathias, who died on his farm in Woodsboro District, was married, but the name of his wife has not been ascertained; Nancy, married Balser Fox, and died in Creagerstown District; and Susan or Annie, married George Locke and died near Woodsboro.

John Fogle, son of Henry Fogle, was born, lived and died in Woodsboro District, Frederick County. He grew up a farm boy. He bought books and studied veterinary surgery. He afterwards engaged in that work, and went by the old fashioned name of "witch doctor." He also studied medicine, and conducted sort of an apothecary shop on his farm. He was the owner of a fine farm in the vicinity of New Midway. He was drafted and served in the second war with Great Britain, 1812-15. Mr. Fogle was married to Catharine Eyler, daughter of John Eyler. They had issue, as follows: Frederick, who died in Woodsboro District, married Margaret Fogle, daughter of Mathias Fogle; Susan, married Jacob Eyler and died in Frederick District; Mary, became the wife of Andrew Miller and died at Frederick City; William; John, who resides at York, Pa., was twice married, first to Eliza Eyler, and secondly to the widow of Adam Fogle; Eliza, married John Fogle and died at Frederick City; Catharine, became the wife of Wesley Keeney and they settled and died near Winchester, Va.; Isaac, a retired farmer near New Midway, married Barbara Fogle; and Margaret, married Jacob Kieffer and died in Woodsboro District.

William Fogle, son of John and Catharine (Eyler) Fogle, was born and reared on his father's farm near New Midway, Frederick County, now owned by John Bastian, December 31, 1814. He received a limited education, and lived home until he was married. His first work was day laboring, after which he began farming near New Midway and later rented farms in Frederick and Buckeystown Districts. He died in Frederick District, December 31, 1900. He was an independent voter, and in his religious views was a Lutheran. Mr. Fogle was married twice. His first wife was Margaret Strine, who died in Woodsboro District. By this marriage were the following children: Catharine, married David Culp and died in Frederick District; Thomas William, whose name heads this sketch; Margaret, married William Welty, and lived in Woodsboro District, but died in Frederick district; John Henry, died aged five years; Ephraim, located at York, Pa., and married Harriet Albaugh; Lewis, who lives in Virginia, has never married; Isaac, died in Woodsboro District without marrying; Annie, married William Pittinger, of Woodshoro District; Mary Ellen, the widow of Henry Myers, lives at York, Pa.; and Sarah Alice, married a Mr. McClelland, and lives at York. Mr. Fogle was married secondly to a Miss Staley, of Ohio, by whom he had one child: John, now a resident of Frederick District.

Thomas William Fogle, son of William and Margaret (Strine) Fogle, attended the old fashioned subscription and the later public schools until he was fifteen years old. He was reared in the usual manner of farmers' sons, and early began work. At the age of twenty-two he began burning lime. He had previously learned this occupation with a man in York, Pa., serving eighteen months. He followed this vocation in Frederick County for ten years. He then purchased his present farm of 100 acres and this tract he cultivated until his retirement about 1899. He has since then rented the farm to his son. He erected all new buildings on the place after securing possession of it, and in 1869, the year he located there, built his home. In 1879 he put up the barn and a grain shed was constructed in 1885. Mr. Fogle is a man of high character and is highly thought of in the community in which he makes his home.

In politics, Mr. Fogle lends his influence and support to the Democratic party. He is a member of Solomon's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Woodsboro, and was formerly an elder.

Mr. Fogle was married January 2, 1867, to Lydia Ann Fox, of Woodsboro. She is a daughter of Balser and Lydia Ann (Stitely) Fox. She was born in Johnsville District, Frederick County, May 13, 1835. She is a Lutheran in religion. To Mr. and Mrs. Fogle have been born one son: Abner Eugene, who was born August 22, 1868, married Emily Fox, daughter of Hezekiah and Mary Matilda (Smith) Fox, by whom he has five children, Ruby Estella, Lula May, Calvin Earle, Oscar Arthur, and Chester Lynn.

Balser Fox, Mrs. Fogle's father, was born in Johnsville District, Frederick County. He was a farmer, and died in his native district at the age of eighty-seven. His wife, Lydia Ann Stitely, lived to be eighty years old. They were Lutherans, and had these children: Lydia Ann, (Mrs. Fogle); Jacob, of Mount Pleasant District, married Emily Lugenbeel; Catharine, the wife of John Wesley Strasburg, of Frederick City; Mary Ann, who is deceased; Lena Elizabeth, married John W. Engler, and lives in Washington, D. C.; Rachel Sophia, widow of Peter Perry; Emily Jane, deceased, was the wife of Jacob Slonecker; Sarah Susan, became the wife of John Fox; and Margaret Ellen, married Alexander Phillips. Balser Fox was a son of Jacob and Elizabeth Fox, both of whom died in Frederick County.

ANDREW D. ARNOLD, of the "Wanderer's Return Farm," who is the second son of David Arnold, was born on his father's farm, near Burkittsville, September 25, 1866. (See sketch of David Arnold.)

During his early youth Mr. Arnold's time was divided between attendance at the schools of Burkittsville, and such work as he was able to do upon his father's farm. As he and his elder brother used to feed the cattle during the winter, school engagements often had to give way to home duties. He thus became practically acquainted, early in life, with the details of farming; and three years before his marriage, he took possession of the farm he now occupies, which he purchased from his father in 1895. The "Wanderer's Return" is a tract of 315 acres, lying along the road between Petersville and Catoctin Station. In 1892, Mr. David Arnold had built a fine new house upon this farm; the barn, also, was built by him. It is said that this farm, in the early days of the Republic, was once visited by Gen. Washington, its proprietor at that time being Thomas Hawkins, a government surveyor.

Andrew D. Arnold was married, April 17, 1894, to Miss Amanda Catherine Young, daughter of Jacob and Charlotte Elizabeth Young. Their children are: 1, David Jacob, born July 27, 1896; 2, Mary Elizabeth, born April 24, 1899; 3, John Thomas, born July 15, 1901; 4, Amanda Catherine, born April 23, 1905; 5, Andrew Daniel, born September 8, 1907; 6, Maurice Lenord, born August 30, 1909.

Mr. Arnold is an adherent, in politics, of the Democratic party.

store for a period of twenty-two years. In the spring of 1897, he went to live in Walkersville and has there since remained. He has disposed of his farm. Mr. Lease was married to Minerva Zimmerman, daughter of George Zimmerman. They were the parents of three children: George D.; Anna May; William N. O. D. Lease has eight brothers and sisters: Josiah, Martha, Mary, Catharine, Rachel Ann, Ellen and Gideon.

George D. Lease, son of Oliver D. and Minerva (Zimmerman) Lease, was eight years old when his parents removed to Woodsboro District, and located on a farm near Pine Tree school. There he was raised and attended school in the winter until he reached the age of twenty. His teachers were Thomas Ennis, Adam Roser, Basil Stitely, Malissa Long and Franklin Harshman. As a boy he early displayed marked intelligence and was an apt student. As a youth he assisted in the work on the farm and also helped in his father's mercantile establishment. He stayed home until he was twenty-three years old. He was at that time married and went to live on his mother's farm near Walkersville, where he was located for fourteen years. He then secured possession of his present place from J. H. Stauffer. This is a valuable piece of realty. The house was erected by the Nelsons. Mr. Lease has greatly enhanced the desirability of the place by making extensive improvements. He is allied with the Republican party in politics. He is not affiliated with any religious body.

Mr. Lease was married January 21, 1890, to Ida Elizabeth Dinterman, daughter of Jacob and Ellen (Kunkle) Dinterman, of near Walkersville. She was born on what is now the Howard Flinkinger farm, on the Woodsboro pike, near the town of Woodsboro. She is the mother of one child: Nellie May.

Jacob Dinterman, Mrs. Lease's father, was born in Mount Pleasant District, Frederick County, March 31, 1823, and died August 24, 1907. He was a farmer all his life. He was married to Ellen Kunkle, who is living at the age of sixty-six years. They were the parents of five children: Ida Elizabeth (Mrs. Lease); Ella, the wife of Jonas Eyler, of Walkersville; Alfred, of Walkersville, married Minnie Toms; Elsie, married to William Strine, of Frederick; and Katie, the wife of Harry Crum, of near Walkersville.

HARRY W. BOWERS, senior member of the "William D. Bowers Lumber Company," of Frederick, Md., son of William D. and Charlotte E. (Routzahn) Bowers, was born near Frederick City, Md., September 29, 1864.

The William D. Bowers Lumber Company was founded in 1868, by Joseph Routzahn and William D. Bowers, at which date the present buildings were erected. This partnership lasted until the death of Mr. Routzahn, in 1886, when Mr. Bowers bought out the Routzahn interest, and conducted the business until his death in 1888. After his father's death, Harry W. Bowers and his mother took charge of the business, and carried it on until 1895, when his brother, Grayson E. Bowers, became a member of the firm, which has continued under the name of the William D. Bowers Lumber Company.

Daniel Bowers, grandfather of Harry W. Bowers, was born in Frederick County, Md. Daniel Bowers was married and they had seven children: Daniel W.; Jacob; William D.; John H.; Elizabeth; Margaret; and Mary.

William D. Bowers, son of Daniel Bowers, father of Harry W. Bowers, was born in Frederick District, Frederick County, Md., July 8, 1828, and died in Frederick, July 20, 1888. He was a life-long Republican, and was, for many years, one of the leading business men of Frederick. William D. Bowers was married, in 1851, to Charlotte E., daughter of Joseph Routzahn, whose ancestors were among the first settlers of Frederick County. Their children are: 1, Joseph Edward, with the William D. Bowers Lumber Company, of Frederick City; 2, Cora E., married Thomas H. Haller, a merchant of Frederick City; 3, D. J., died aged seventeen; 4, Harry W.; 5, Ralph R., with the William D. Bowers Lumber Company; 6, Viola R., died in youth; 7, Grayson E., a member of the firm of William D. Bowers Lumber Company. Mr. Bowers was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Harry W. Bowers grew up in Frederick and attended the schools of his native town, completing his education at the Eaton and Burnett Business College, in Baltimore, Md. Mr. Bowers, who is one of the leading business men of Frederick, is highly esteemed by his fellow citizens. He is a self-made man, and attributes his financial success to industry and close attention to business. He is at the head of the largest lumber company in Maryland outside of Baltimore. The company has four yards in Frederick and manufactures sash, doors, and all kinds of lumber used in building. Mr. Bowers is a stanch Republican, actively interested in the success of his party. In the spring of 1909, he was the party's nominee for clerk of the Circuit Court of Frederick County, and was elected in the fall of the same year. He is an efficient officer, prompt and reliable, and is one of the progressive business men of Frederick. He has been connected with several public enterprises which have contributed greatly to the improvement of the city. He was interested in several railroads, and is one of the few who have helped to beautify the place. He was the pioneer of Clarke Place, one of the finest streets, where he built the handsome residence in which he and his family reside. He has always taken an active interest in his native city, and to him are due the improvements on East Second and Third streets, which not only make the place beautiful but add greatly to its financial value. Mr. Bowers is a stockholder in the Frederick County Agricultural Society, of which he was a director for a number of years. He is one of the directors of the Independent Fire Company of Frederick, and has been for many years a director of the Frederick Building Association. He is a member of the F. M. C., and of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, of Frederick City.

Harry W. Bowers was married, in 1887, to Anna I., daughter of Charles B. Fox, of Frederick, deceased. They have four children: Elizabeth, Viola R., William D., and Harry Hubert. Mr. Bowers is a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, in which he and his family are active workers. He is a liberal contributor and takes great interest in the Sunday School in which he has been one of the librarians for many years.

Since 1909, when Mr. Bowers was made clerk of the Circuit Court, the junior member of the firm, Grayson E. Bowers, has assumed the management of the William D. Bowers Lumber Company, and is handling the extensive business of the company with marked success. He is one of the enterprising business men of Frederick. He is a member of Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A. F. and A. M., of which he is a Past Master; and of Jacques De Molay Commandery. He is an active member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in which he has held various offices, and is one of the directors of the Young Men's Christian Association.

DAVID KEMP CRAMER, deceased, was a man of the highest character. He was held in great esteem in the community in which he lived, and at his death was in comfortable circumstances, having made a success in life. He was the owner of "Meadow Brook" farm of 150 acres. This was the homestead of Major Beatty, who owned a tract of 1,000 acres. The house was built by the Major in 1757, and is of stone, two stories and a-half in height, and contains fourteen rooms. The barn was built by Ezra Cramer, the grandfather of our subject. Mr. Cramer was born on the farm now owned by Theodore Stauffer, in Walkersville District, Frederick County, September 19, 1855, and died January 30, 1909. He was the eldest child of Ezra Lewis and Henrietta (Kemp) Cramer.

The Cramer family, which is one of the largest in numbers and one of the best known in Frederick County, Md., is of German origin and has been settled in this country for a long time. The first of the name to leave their native land, were three brothers, who landed in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1705. Two of these brothers located at or near Atlantic City, N. J., but the mosquito pest was unendurable, and they left that neighborhood. One of the brothers after departing settled in Pennsylvania. The other, John George Cramer, is the ancestor of the Frederick County Cramers.

John George Cramer removed to Maryland, and took up his residence in Frederick County. His home was on what is now the William A. Cramer farm. This tract was part of the old Dulaney Manor, which was a grant from one of the Lords Baltimore. He was a member of the Reformed Church. Either Mr. Cramer or his son, John, donated a piece of land for a church and burial ground to the Reformed congregation, and when the church was removed the right and the ground were forfeited.

John Cramer, son of John George Cramer, the immigrant, was a large land owner. He was the possessor of seven farms, and at the time of his death was a heavy stockholder in the bank of Westminster. In a codicil to his will, dated 1820, he speaks of willing two hundred shares of stock to his son Lewis, to be held in trust for him by his brother Henry.

Ezra Cramer, son of John Cramer, was born on the old homestead near Walkersville, Frederick County, March 2, 1797. He inherited from his father the farm now owned by David Cramer. He later sold this to his brother David, who had fallen heir to the home farm, and David thus became owner of the two properties. Ezra Cramer was a land speculator, purchasing farm after farm, and disposing of them at a good profit. He also owned mills and operated a distillery on what is now the Samuel Barraek farm. He hauled his whiskey by wagon to Baltimore. He made his home on the various farms which came into his possession. He lived and owned the "Meadow Brook" farm cated in the schools of his native town. He learned the trade of a tinner under his father, for whom he worked. About 1901, Mr. Saylor went to Baltimore, where he entered the employ of Charles C. Heath, the stove man, who conducts one of the oldest concerns of its kind in that city. From there he went to Frederick City, where he worked for N. J. Wilson & Company, after which he returned home to Walkersville. In 1903, he assumed charge of the enterprise founded by his father. Three years ago he erected a new shop and store. Business was first carried on by the elder Saylor in a small frame building that stands in the rear of the store of C. C. Saylor, and later removed to a log building opposite the establishment of J. H. Stauffer. It was next located on the corner diagonally across from the last named place, from whence it was taken to its present stand by our subject. Mr. Saylor stands high among the business men of Walkersville. He has displayed much ability in the conduct of his enterprise, and his success has been well merited. He is progressive and energetic, and these qualities have been in a large measure responsible for the success he has achieved.

In politics, Mr. Saylor is in sympathy with the principles of the Democratic party. He holds membership in the Junior Order United American Mechanics. In religious affairs, he is a Lutheran.

Mr. Saylor was married in Walkersville, November 16, 1904, to Daisy Eyler, of that place. She is a daughter of Christian and Louisa (Michael) Eyler, and is a most estimable woman. She is a member of the Lutheran Church, in the work of which she is much interested.

Ezra James Saylor, the father of Thomas R. Saylor, is a leading citizen of Walkersville. He is employed by his son and has been a tinner for forty-two years. He was born on his father's farm in Woodsboro District, Frederick County, September 18, 1840. He was educated in the county schools, under David Rupp, Basil Stitely, and others. His father died when he was ten years old, and he was taken by his mother to the village of Woodsboro, where he lived until he was twenty years old. Up to that time he had worked at anything he could secure. When he was twenty-one, Mr. Saylor began to learn the trade of a tinner with John Fletcher, at Woodsboro. While yet an apprentice he bought out his uncle, George Saylor, who was the proprietor of a shop. He hired Mr. Fletcher to work for him. In 1876, he removed the business to Walkersville, and managed it until he sold it to his son Thomas in 1903. Since then he has been in the employ of the latter. He is a Democrat. Mr. Saylor was married March 9, 1870, to Tillie Anders, daughter of Henry and Elizabeth (Vaughn) Anders. She was born July 25, 1834, and is still living. They are members of the Methodist Protestant Church, in which he is one if the stewards. There are the following children by this marriage: Henry L., who was born January 17, 1872, of York, Pa., married Florence Zimmerman, and has one child, Evelyn Louise; Ezra Willard, twin brother of Henry L., resides in Baltimore, and married Etta Cromwell, by whom he has one child, Willard Cromwell; Daniel Johnston, who was born October 12, 1875, is at home; Thomas R., whose history is given above; Charles Clay, who was born December 23, 1880. Charles Clay Saylor went to the Walkersville public schools until he was eighteen years old. He then became a clerk for J. H. Stauffer at that place, and later managed the store of W. S. Ray at Mount Pleasant. In the spring of 1908, he engaged in the confectionery, ice cream and restaurant business at Walkersville.

Henry Saylor, the grandfather of our subject, was born March 10, 1807, and spent all his life in Frederick County, principally on a farm near Woodsboro. He owned there 146 acres, on which he operated a mill, he being a miller by trade. He died on this place, June 30, 1854. He was an honored citizen and well known in his day. He was a devout member of the Reformed Church. Mr. Saylor was married to Catharine Mary Donsife. She was born in Germany, August 14, 1816, and came to this country with her parents when she was four years old. Her parents settled first in Pennsylvania and thence came to Frederick County, Md. Mrs. Saylor died November 3, 1900. She bore five children: Catherine Elizabeth, who was born September 6, 1841, married John M. Holbrenner, of Woodsboro, and died there; Benjamin Franklin, who was born February 14, 1843, is a house painter in Woodsboro, and married Adella Snyder; Ezra James; Sarah Ann, was born February 15, 1848, and is deceased; and Mary Ellen, who was born November 18, 1852, married Jasper Morningstar, of Union Bridge.

Henry Anders, the father of Mrs. Ezra J. Saylor and the maternal grandfather of Thomas R. Saylor, was supposed to be a native of Reading, Pa. He was a captain in the War of 1812, and raised a company about Uniontown, Frederick County, Md. He was a mason in stone and brick. He located at his marriage on Sam's Creek, in Carroll County, Md. He later removed to a farm near Woodsboro, Frederick County, where he died. Mr. Anders was married to Elizabeth Vaughan, a Maryland lady of English extraction. Her parents were Richards and Elizabeth Vaughan, and Richards Vaughan was named after an uncle, Richard Richards. The Richards and Vaughans came from England about the same time. They settled at Hamstead, Baltimore County, Md., which they named after their old home town in England. They later spread to Carroll County. Henry and Elizabeth Anders were the parents of the following children: Mary Ann, who married John Carmack, was born in 1818, and died in Wheeling, West Va.; Thomas, who was born in 1820, married Amelia J. Wagner, and died in Thurmont, Md.; Elizabeth, who was born in 1822, married Dr. Leander Wachter, of Myersville, Frederick County, and died there; Sarah Ann, who was born in 1824, married Jacob Wachter, and died at Alburton, Md.; Caleb Asbury, who was born in 1826, married Alice Haller, of Frederick, and died in Martinsburg, West Va.; Margaret Ruth, who was born in 1831, married David H. Johnson, and lives at Harrisburg, Pa.; Tillie, married Ezra James Saylor; Henry Livingston, died in infancy; and Charles Henry, who was born in 1839, married a Miss Hiteshew and lives in Baltimore.

JOHN D. HENDRICKSON, one of the leading merchants of Frederick City, who carries in his store at No. 42 North Market, one of the most complete lines of dry goods and ladies' readymade garments in Western Maryland, was born in Baker's Valley, Buckeystown District, Frederick County, September 24, 1855. He is a son of Daniel and Mary C. (Haugh) Hendrickson.

The Hendrickson family is of English lineage. It was first located in Philadelphia, Pa., and members of the early family later settled in Delaware, whence some of them came to Maryland.

John Hendrickson, the grandfather of John D. Hendrickson, died in Buckeystown District, Frederick County, at the age of ninety-one. He was a native of Johnsville District in that county. He was a weaver by trade and in religion he was connected with the Lutheran Church. He was the father of these children: Daniel; Ephraim; Abraham; Lydia, married Jesse Bankard; Elizabeth, married John Baird, and Rebecca, never married.

Daniel Hendrickson, son of John Hendrickson, was a carpenter by trade. In later life he followed the occupation of a farmer. In politics, he was an old Line Whig, and later he supported the Republican party. Mr. Hendrickson was married to Mary C. Haugh, daughter of David Haugh, of Frederick County. They were the parents of these children: Amanda, deceased; John D.; Mary, married Lorenzo E. Mullinix, whose sketch see; and Charles B. T., a teller in the Farmers' and Mechanics' National Bank of Frederick City.

John D. Hendrickson, son of Daniel and Mary C. (Haugh) Hendrickson, was born and raised on a farm. While home, he had only a few months a year in which to attend the public schools of the neighborhood, and later spent two years in the Frederick Academy. At an early age he became a hand on his father's farm, and when aged about fourteen years he drove a six-horse team in the winter to and from the Linganore Hills, hauling wood for fuel on the home place. When sixteen years old, Mr. Hendrickson came to Frederick and became a clerk in the dry goods store of Simon Parsons, with whom he remained six months. At the end of that time the latter's brother, W. Irving Parsons, succeeded to the business, and Mr. Hendrickson was in his employ for five years. In 1877, he bought the business from Mr. Parsons and conducted the establishment under his own name at the old stand. He then removed to the store in North Market street, now occupied by A. C. McCardell's confectionery store. Here he managed his establishment for five years, when, in 1887, he leased his present stand at No. 42 North Market street, in what is known as the Mutual Fire Insurance Company building.

Mr. Hendrickson has met with much success in his business, and is one of the prosperous and well-known merchants of Frederick. His store ranks high among others engaged in the same branch of trade and does a large yearly business. Mr. Hendrickson has been interested in other enterprises of the county outside of his store. He is a director in the Domestic Building Association of Frederick, in the W. F. and G. R. R. Company; a director of the Mt. Olivet Cemetery Company, and was for several years a director of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Frederick County.

Mr. Hendrickson is a stanch supporter of Republican principles, but has never had any desire to hold office. He is a member of the Young Men's Christian Association of Frederick, and was a member of the Building committee that erected the present handsome structure, and is one of the present directors. In religion, he is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and one of its stewards.

Henry Fraley, grandfather of Lewis H. Fraley, was one of the first veterinarians of Frederick County. During the Civil War Dr. Fraley was attached to the army as veterinary surgeon, and was stationed at Frederick. When the war closed, Dr. Fraley remained in Frederick, where he was very successful in his profession. Close attention to his profession brought him a rich reward. He became the leading veterinarian of his time in Frederick County, and was highly esteemed as a citizen. Dr. Fraley was an active Republican, interested in all that concerned the progress of the county. Henry Fraley was married to Elizabeth Fagan, of Frederick City. They had eight children six of whom reached maturity: 1, Augustus; 2, Victoria, deceased, married to Luther C. Derr, assistant superintendent of the Maryland House of Correction; 3, Utokeia, widow of Thomas Dixon, of Washington, D. C.; 4, Clara N., deceased, married to the late George Seidling, a merchant of Frederick City; 5, Charles H., dealer in produce, Frederick City; 6, Nettie, married to George H. Beanfelder, coach trimmer, Frederick City. Mr. Fraley and his wife were active members of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Frederick, and contributed liberally to all benevolent enterprises.

The late Augustus Fraley, a prominent veterinary surgeon of Frederick City, father of Lewis H. Fraley, was born in Frederick where his childhood and youth were spent. He was educated in the public schools of Frederick, and under his father's training, became a skillful veterinarian. Mr. Fraley remained with his father until he married, and began business for himself. Besides practicing his profession, Mr. Fraley dealt in live stock, and was so successful that he was said to be the largest dealer in Frederick County. He also paid some attention to the breeding of race horses, and sold a number that made a good record. He had full charge of the Lewis McMurry stables, and also of the stables of L. Victor Baughman. Mr. Fraley was a Republican, and was highly esteemed as a citizen. Augustus Fraley was married to Adaline, daughter of Henry Young, of Frederick City. Their children are: 1, Lewis H.; 2, Cora (Mrs. William Deater), of Frederick; 3, Addie M. (Mrs. Charles T. Fagan), of Frederick. Mrs. Fraley died in 1871, and is buried in Mt. Olivet Cemetery. Mr. Fraley was married, secondly, to Susan E. Eyler. Of their five children, three reached adult age: 1, Robert A., proprietor of the West End Hotel, Frederick; 2, Bertha, married to Harvey D. Martz, superintendent of the Eureka Life Insurance Company, of Frederick; 3, William H., a barber of Frederick. Mrs. Fraley died and Mr. Fraley was married to Susan E., widow of the late William H. Hooper, of Frederick. They have no children. Mr. Fraley was a member of the Lutheran Church. He died March 7, 1906.

Lewis H. Fraley was educated in the public schools of Frederick, and when he was twelve, began to learn butchering with his uncle, L. C. Derr, with whom he remained for nine years. When Mr. Derr was elected sheriff of Frederick County, he retired from business, and Mr. Fraley secured a position as clerk with the firm of B. Rosenour & Sons. He has had several promotions, and is now head salesman for the firm. He ascribes his success to close attention to the interests of his employers. Mr. Fraley is a progressive business man, and owns his beautiful home on West Patrick St., Frederick. He is a Democrat, and in the spring of 1907, was nominated for a place on the board of aldermen of Frederick. He was elected by the highest majority on the ticket.

Lewis H. Fraley was married to Christiana, daughter of Theodore and Elizabeth Burke, both deceased. They have no children. Mr. Fraley is a member of the Lutheran Church; his wife belongs to the Roman Catholic Church. Mr. Fraley is highly esteemed in Frederick. He is a member of Mountain City Lodge, No. 29, K. of P., of Frederick; the Fraternal Order of Eagles, of Frederick; the Sr. Order of American Mechanics, and King David Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 50, Frederick, Md.

JOSHUA ARNOLD, deceased, who was intellectually and morally one of the best men of this region, was a son of John and Sarah (Koon) Arnold, and a grandson of David Arnold, deceased. He was born in 1833, on his father's farm in Burkittsville District.

Mr. Arnold was emphatically a self-made man. He was sent in his youth to a country school, and enjoyed its limited advantages for only fourteen days; yet a better mathematician was hard to find in his neighborhood; and he became one of the most scientific farmers of the district. He assisted in the management of the homestead farm until the death of his father. After that event, he remained at home until his marriage, in 1868. A short time later he removed to the village of Broad Run, where he spent one year; he next resided for five years in Burkittsville. During these years, Mr. Arnold was engaged in various financial enterprises, and among his investments, bought a farm of over 160 acres, in Petersville District, to which he removed from Burkittsville, and cultivated that land until his death, which occurred in 1897.

Joshua Arnold was married in Carroll County, Md., in 1868, to Miss Annie, daughter of Daniel and Lydia (Slifer) Heffelbower, both now deceased. Her paternal grandfather was of German birth, and emigrated to this country, settling in Pennsylvania. His son, Daniel, resided at the time of his daughter Annie's birth, and during her childhood, in Jefferson County, Va. The children of Joshua and Annie (Heffelbower) Arnold, are: 1, Edgar Franklin, who died in his twenty-first year; 2, Inez (Mrs. A. K. Graybill), who has three children; 3, Elizabeth (Mrs. Greenberry House), resides near Burkittsville, 4, J. Claude, residing on the homestead; married Miss S. Grace Flook, and has two children, Austin F. and Dorothy La Rue.

Joshua Arnold possessed one of those rare characters in which great moral strength is combined with the utmost gentleness. He fought manfully against evil in all forms; yet was temperate in his utterances, as in all else, gentle and charitable. In his private relations as son, husband and father, he was exemplary; and when he was called away, not only his family, and a large circle of friends, but the poor who had experienced his generosity, sadly missed him. The best legacy of such a man is his example.

REV. GEORGE WASHINGTON GARBER, preacher in the Beaver Dam German Baptist Church (old order), and fourth ranking elder in his congregation, is one of the highly esteemed residents of Johnsville District, and a man of excellent character. He is a son of John G. and Hester (Poole) Garber.

The Garbers came originally to this country from Germany many generations ago. The branch of the family to which the Rev. George W. Garber belongs and the Saylor family were probably the first people to settle in the vicinity of Beaver Dam.

Henry Garber, the grandfather of Rev. George W. Garber, died on his farm at the head of Beaver Dam and is buried on the farm. He was but thirty years of age at the time of his death and had been engaged in farming. He was not a member of any church. Mr. Garber was married to Mary Green. In her religious beliefs, she was a Dunkard. They were the parents of two children, a son and a daughter: John G.; and Lena, who married Washington Hartman and died in the lower part of Frederick County. After her husband's death, Mrs. Garber was married to Isaac Harmon.

John G. Garber, son of Henry and Mary (Green) Garber, was born on his father's farm, April 18, 1818. He was educated in the old Willow Grove school in Beaver Dam Valley. He chose school teaching as his occupation, which he followed throughout his life. He taught in Frederick and Carroll Counties. His last charge, however, was in Baltimore County, being located at Woodbury. He served in the Union Army during the rebellion and made a most creditable record. He enlisted, in 1861, as a private in one of the Maryland regiments and remained in service until the close of the war. He died at the Soldiers' Home in Washington, D. C. He held membership in the German Baptist Church. Mr. Garber was married to Hester Poole, who was affiliated with the same church. They were the parents of the following children: Mary E., born May 12, 1857; George Washington, our subject; Thomas J. McClelland, was born November 28, 1862, and died in Carroll County, in March, 1908; Catharine Elizabeth, born March 3, 1864, married George Sproul and lives at Woodbury, Baltimore County, Md.; J. William L., born October 26, 1866, lives at Woodbury, Md., and is married to a Miss Tyson; Hannah, born October 1, 1868, and died, unmarried; Amon, born November 18, 1870, and died aged two years; and Effie, was born May 12, 1872, and married a Mr. Tyson, who is deceased.

George Washington Garber, son of John G. and Hester (Poole) Garber, was born on a farm in Johnsville District, Frederick County, May 25, 1860. When he was eight years old he was taken by Henry Saylor, a relative, to raise, who owned a farm in that neighborhood. Here he attended school for part of each year until he was twenty years of age, except for two terms in the Mountain View school, under Daniel Wolfe. His instructors at the former locality were Jesse Fox, Marian Lord, Hannah Doll, Sally Norris, Molly Hendrickson, and Thomas Sidwell. Mr. Garber began life as a farmer's boy or day laborer at the age of fourteen years. His first employer was David Stoner, from whom he received fifty cents a day for dropping corn. When he attained his majority he began farming on the place on which he was raised. Mr. Saylor died about that time, and Mr. Garber managed the farm for his widow for eight years. After Mrs. Saylor's death, the property came into his the copper mines in Liberty District, and remained engaged in this work until 1872. During this time he received from the county commissioners the contract for constructing the pike road extending from Liberty Copper Mine to the Johnsville and Liberty turnpike. This work he completed to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. Subsequent to his employment with the copper interest he became the owner of his present valuable farming property, in Woodsboro District. Here he was actively engaged in agriculture until his retirement from hard work. Few men are more widely known in Frederick County than Mr. Zimmerman. He is a prominent and public spirited citizen, and is always ready to lend his influence and active help in furthering any project that tends to advance the public welfare. His life has been marked by hard work and the strictest integrity, and he is now enjoying the fruits of his labors.

Politically, Mr. Zimmerman is loyal in his support of the principles of the Republican party. In 1893 he was nominated and elected by his party as sheriff of Frederick County by a majority of six hundred and six, the largest ever received by any candidate for that office. He discharged the duties devolving upon him while serving in that capacity with much ability, his administration of affairs being characterized by great energy.

Mr. Zimmerman was married January 1, 1863, to Catharine L. Stitley. Their children are as follows: Alice and Emma L., are both deceased; Zoie, the wife of James H. Crum, an agriculturist of Liberty District, and who served as deputy under Mr. Zimmerman when he was sheriff; Ada, married to William Whitmore, of Liberty District, a stanch farmer; Elsie L., married Harvey Boon, of Woodsboro District; Alvey O., married Miss Mary Freeze, of Detour; Grace B., married Arnold Whitmore, of Liberty, who is an editor; Effie, married William Eyler, a farmer of Woodsboro District.

Mr. Zimmerman and family are members of the German Lutheran Church, to which he is a liberal contributor.

FRANCIS V. STAUB, a well-known grocer of Frederick, Md., who conducts a store at the corner of Market and Fourth streets, was born on a farm in Frederick District No. 2, July 30, 1867; he is the son of Andrew J. and Mary Stone Staub.

Andrew Jackson Staub was a son of Jacob Staub who was the father of a large family. Jacob Staub was born in Adams County, Pennsylvania, near the town of York. He was a wheelwright by trade, not a wagon-maker. He made everything belonging to the weaving and spinning business. He died January 11, 1872, aged 83 years. Jacob Staub married Ann Catheran Littles who was born in what is known as Littlestown. The name of Littlestown was named after this family. She died in March, 1877, aged 85 years; they had seven children: Agnes, Jerome, Lucy, Frank, Catherine, Edward and Andrew. Andrew J. and Mary Staub were the parents of seven children, five of whom grew to maturity: Emma, the wife of Joseph Payne, of Frederick City; Charles Melvin, of Baltimore, Md., married Louise Hohman; Corrine Leslie, the wife of Edward Herring, of Frederick City; Francis V., and Blanche V. who married Irvin J. Payne, formerly of Chicago, Ill., but now a resident of Braddock Heights, Md.; Edith and Roger Lee Staub died when they were infants.

Francis V. Staub, son of Andrew J. and Mary Stone Staub was reared on a farm two miles from Frederick City. His education was received at St. John's Literary Institution, at Frederick. At the age of twelve years Mr. Staub began life for himself; he became a clerk in the grocery store of G. W. B. Shriner, which was located at the northwest corner of Market and Fourth streets, in Frederick. This was in 1880, and he remained here with Mr. Shriner until 1886, when he embarked in the general merchandize business on North Market street, opposite Mr. Shriner's. At this location Mr. Staub remained for eleven years, when he bought the property from Mr. Shriner, the old stand at Fourth and Market streets. Mr. Shriner retired in 1898. Mr. Staub, during the twenty-four years he managed this grocery store, has met with gratifying success. He does a large business, and is one of the well-known and prosperous merchants of Frederick. He has won his own way in the world by hard work; having started business but with $6.00 of his own, success has come to him with industry and the strict honesty that has characterized all of his business transactions.

In politics, Mr. Staub is a Democrat; fraternally, he is a member and officer of Frederick Lodge No. 684; Order of the Elks, and a member of the Order of Eagles; a member of the Frederick Board of Trade; a Director of the Franklin Savings Bank, holds membership in Saint John's Catholic Church; is president of the Catholic Benevolent Legion and is officer of Saint John's Beneficial Society, and also of the Holy Name Society, and a member of Saint John's Choir for twenty-eight years. Mr. Staub was married October 17, 1895, to Frances Murphy, one of Frederick's most popular young ladies, by whom he has three children, Meredith Henry Van-Ranseller, James Marshall, and Mary Pauline.

WILLIAM H. RENN, a prominent farmer of Buckeystown District, Frederick County, Md., residing on his farm at Adamstown, Md., son of George C. and Mary C. (Zimmerman) Renn, was born on his father's farm, five miles south of Frederick, Md., December 30, 1871.

The Renns were among the early settlers of Pennsylvania. The first family of that name came to Maryland in 1734, and bought twenty-three and a-half acres of land, which is still in the possession of the family. It has served five generations, having been purchased by a great-uncle of the great-grandfather of William H. Renn, which makes this family one of the oldest now resident in Ballinger District, Frederick County.

John H. Renn, a prominent farmer of his generation, son of George and Catherine Renn, and grandfather of William H. Renn, was born May 23, 1811. He was of German descent, and spent his life in the improving of the estate which he had inherited. To the original tract of twenty-three and a-half acres, in which he began his wedded life, he made valuable accessions from time to time, until at his death, he was the owner of one thousand acres of farm land, besides other securities. All of this land is still in the possession of his children, who, in their turn, have made valuable additions. John H. Renn was married, October 18, 1838, by the Rev. Daniel Zacharias, of Frederick City, to Sarah Ann, daughter of Eli Pierpont and Ruth (Ridgley) House, whose parents were large landed proprietors in what is known as the famous Middletown Valley. Many of the descendants of the House family reside in this section of the state. The Ridgeleys have moved into the adjacent states, and to the West. Mrs. Renn's parents were of both German and English descent, but both were natives of Maryland. The children of John H. and Sarah Ann (House) Renn, who reached adult age, are: 1, Ruth A. (Mrs. David Degrange), died aged twenty-two; 2, John L., deceased, a retired farmer of Frederick City; 3, George Calvin, a retired farmer of Adamstown, Md.; 4, Sarah A., widow of the late John Degrange; 5, Mary E., married to George Zimmerman, a farmer of Urbana District, Frederick County; 6, Emma E. (Mrs. William S. Flook); 7, Martha Alice, (Mrs. David H. Rheolkey), of Petersville District, Frederick County; 8, Annie E.; 9, Ida E. These two sisters, who are unmarried, reside with their brother on the homestead, "E——— Renn." After spending forty-six happy years together, each having reached the golden age, Mr. Renn died, December 15, 1884, and was buried in Mt. Olivet Cemetery. Mr. Renn was a stanch Democrat, influential in the community. He was an active member of the Lutheran Church in Feagaville. His widow, who was born April 17, 1819 died in 1890, and rests beside her husband.

George Calvin Renn, a retired farmer of Adamstown, father of William H. Renn, was born on the old Renn homestead. He received his education in the public schools of the district, and remained with his father on the homestead until he married, when he began farming for himself in Ballinger District, on land owned by his father-in-law, William H. Zimmerman. Some time later, Mr. Renn removed to the Joseph Zimmerman farm north of Frederick, and thence to a farm belonging to his father near Red Hill, Ballinger District, where he remained for several years. He then purchased the land on which he began his career, a fertile farm of 132 acres, on which he made many improvements. He afterwards sold this place and purchased the Old William H. Zimmerman farm of 100 acres, situated on the Point of Rocks road, five miles south of Frederick. On this place he put up a convenient two-story frame dwelling, a bank barn, and all necessary buildings, and by careful attention made it one of the fine farms of the district. He was a progressive farmer and improved all the land that came into his hands. He worked hard, applied himself closely to his business, and his reward was financial success, and the respect and esteem of his fellow citizens. George C. Renn was married to Mary E., daughter of William H. and Mary C. (Cronis) Zimmerman, both deceased, whose father was prominent among the older farmers of Frederick County. Of their six children, four reached maturity: 1, William H.; 2, Charles C., a farmer of Ballinger District; 3, George E., of Hagerstown, Md.; 4, Roy J. deceased. Mr. Renn and his wife are members of the Reformed Church on the Manor, to which he contributes liberally.

William H. Renn grew up on his father's farm and received his education in the public schools of the district. He remained at home, and when his father bought the farm on which he now resides, he rented the place from his father. After cultivating this land success-tions, on both sides. She is a niece of E. Marshal Gilbert, a successful manufacturer of fine carriages, etc.; his wife is Emma Hammond, a sister of Dr. R. L. Hammond; he is a prominent citizen of Frederick. She is a niece of the late W. Irving Parsons, another prominent citizen of Frederick and formerly clerk of the Circuit Court of Frederick County; his wife, Jane (Albaugh) Parsons, is an aunt of Mrs. Hammond; his father was Mason Parsons, a highly educated scholar, of old New England stock; his mother was Charlotte Gilbert, (sister of Eli Gilbert), a woman of Puritan Christian excellence of character; a good mother, patient and kind. She, Mrs. Hammond, is a first cousin of Harry E. Gilbert of Baltimore, Md., a successful and prominent citizen, lawyer and real estate dealer. Harry E. Gilbert is also a third cousin of Dr. R. L. Hammond, his mother being Louisa Cramer. The children born to this union are as follows: 1, Harold Dorsey, born July 3, 1892; 2, Reginald G., born October 30, 1893; 3, Horace, born July 30, 1895, and died February 7, 1896; 4, Mary Marie, born November 27, 1896; 5, Paul B., born June 21, 1899; 6, Robert Garrison, born February 24, 1901; 7, Frances Willard, born August 7, 1903, and died March 14, 1904; 8, Fannie Lenore, born May 1, 1906.

DAVID H. HOKE, deceased, was one of the most successful farmers in Frederick County and was an honorable and esteemed citizen. He was born on a farm near Spring Grove, Codorus township, York County, Pa., in October, 1850. He was a son of George and Fanny (Graybill) Hoke. His parents died on the homestead in that county.

Mr. Hoke acquired his learning in the public schools of his native county and York Academy, York, Pa. He was reared to farm labor and early learned the principles of industry. In 1876, he removed to Frederick County, Md., where he purchased what was known as the Diehl farm in Glade Valley. This place consisted of 168 acres, locate[d] short distance from Walkersville, on [the] ding to Frederick City. Thi[s] of the most desir- able [farms] rick County. He was a life-long sympathizer and supporter of the Democratic party, although he never sought office.

Mr. Hoke was married in the fall of 1875 to Clara Ann Geiselman, of Adams County, Pa. She is a daughter of Daniel and Fanny (Rife) Geiselman, and is still living in Walkersville. She is a most estimable woman and is held in the highest esteem in the community in which she resides. She is the mother of the following named children: Milton, who died in childhood; Harvey, died in August, 1907; Fanny, the wife of Harry E. Zimmerman, who is operating the home farm (see his sketch); Mattie, married to Harvey R. Cramer, of Walkersville; Lee and David, at home.

ELIAS FOGLE, a veteran of the Civil War, who is now engaged in farming, lives at Ladiesburg, Johnsville District. He was born at Miller's Bridge, Creagerstown District, Frederick County, August 20, 1841. His parents were Balser and Margaret (Wetzel) Fogle.

Balser Fogle was born near Rocky Hill, Woodsboro District, Frederick County. He received a common school education and learned the trade of a carpenter. This occupation he followed, together with day laboring. After his marriage he located near Woodsboro, where he stayed for one year. He then took up his residence at Miller's Bridge, where he lived for a period of thirty-one years. Mr. Fogle afterwards went to live at Detour, where he died at the age of sixty-two years. He voted the Democratic ticket. He was married to Margaret Wetzel, who lived to be eighty-three years old. They were members of Mount Zion's Lutheran Church, and were the parents of ten children: Joseph, is living at York, Pa., at the age of ninety years, and married a Miss Mort; Harriet, married Thomas Boston, who is now deceased; Lucy Ann, deceased, was the wife of John Snyder; Emanuel, who is dead, was married to Lydia Ann Pittinger; Hezekiah, died without marrying; Francis, deceased, lived in Frederick City and was married to Maggie Bohn; Mary Ann, married Henry Eyler, deceased; Elias, whose name heads this sketch; James, a resident of Dayton, O.; and Martin M., also of Dayton, O., married a Miss Staub.

33902 Elias Fogle, son of Balser and Margaret (Wetzel) Fogle, had but meagre educational advantages, and the small amount of learning which came to him in his early life was secured at the Rocky Ridge school house, under Mary Hoges, James Valentine, and a Mr. Rupp. Part of each winter he attended this subscription school, but as his father was in very poor circumstances, he was forced to begin work when he was only six years old. His father put him out for his board and clothes, which arrangement lasted for four years. His father then hired him out for $2.50 a month, and young as he was he did practically a man's work. When he was about twenty years old he began to receive seven dollars a month for his services. The Civil War having broken out, Mr. Fogle resolved to enlist, which he did, becoming a member of Company B, Seventh Maryland Volunteer Infantry, on August 20, 1862. He remained in the service for three years, and was in the Army of the Potomac under General Meade. He took part in all of the engagements in which his command participated. Among these were Hay Market, Va., and the Wilderness, Va., in which latter struggle he was deprived of the sight of his left eye. He made a most creditable war record.

After the close of the rebellion, Mr. Fogle returned home and went to work on a farm. He was employed thus for some time, after which he worked on the repair gang of the Pennsylvania Railroad for several years. Thence he went to the pump station at Key Mar, where he was employed for thirteen years. He then returned to the repair gang, and was engaged in this way until 1904. In that year he began the cultivation of his farm, which he purchased nineteen years ago. For a period of thirty-one years he was a faithful employe of the railroad. His pretty home in Woodsboro is surrounded by 32 acres of land.

33903 EMB 33902 Mr. Fogle was married to Anna Elizabeth Eyler, daughter of Michael and Margaret (Fogle) Eyler, of Woodsboro district. JOHN FRANCIS SMITH, one of the ablest and most prominent younger members of the Frederick County Bar, is a native of Frederick City, where he was born May 22, 1874. He is a son of Dr. Francis Fenwick and Maria Lee (Palmer) Smith.

The ancestor of this Smith family was John Smith, a native of England, whence he emigrated to this country, and settled in what is now Calvert County, Md., between 1660 and 1666. He was the owner of a plantation that was known as "Brooke's Adventure." He was married to Dorothy Brooke, a daughter of the Rev. Robert Brooke, a minister of the Episcopal Church, then residing in Calvert County. Robert Brooke had grant of "De la Brooke Manor," 2,000 acres on Patuxent River.

John Smith, son of John and Dorothy (Brooke) Smith, was a native of Calvert County, Md. He was married to Jane Brooke, a daughter of Leonard and Ann (Boarman) Brooke. Leonard Brooke was a son of the Hon. Baker Brooke, of "De La Brooke Manor," and his wife, Ann Calvert, daughter of Leonard Calvert, the first Governor of the province of Maryland, son of Sir George Calvert, First Lord Baltimore.

Leonard Smith, son of John and Jane (Brooke) Smith, was one of the early settlers of Frederick County, Md. He laid out the village of Berlin in 1787, now the flourishing town of Brunswick on the Potomac river. This tract of land was originally known as "Merry Peep-o-Day." During the Revolution, Leonard Smith was on the committees of Safety and Observation for Frederick County, Md. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Neale, daughter of Dr. Charles Neale and great-granddaughter of Captain James Neale of "Wollaston Manor," granted in 1642.

John Smith, son of Leonard and Elizabeth (Neale) Smith, was a soldier of the Revolution, and rose to the rank of Captain. He was a member of the Maryland line that served in the "Flying Camp" in 1776, and, throughout the war. He was a member of the "Order of the Cincinnati." Captain Smith was married to Elizabeth Fenwick, a daughter of Ignatius Fenwick, of Cherryfields, St. Mary's County, Md. Ignatius Fenwick was a lineal descendant of Cuthbert Fenwick, one of the signers of the Religious Toleration Act of 1649.

near Waynesboro, Pa. He followed the occupation at Orville, O., for one year, and then returned to Maryland, embarking in the milling business near Middleburg, Carroll county, for two years. Mr. Etzler then turned his attention to farming, living for three years in Johnsville District. In 1889, he went to Woodsboro, and built the Woodsboro Rolling Mills, which he conducted until March, 1904. He then organized the Glade Valley Milling Company and turned his plant over to the new concern. He shortly afterwards bought the Walkersville Elevator Company, erected a mill there, and merged them. Mr. Etzler was president and general manager of the Glade Valley Milling Company until 1905, when he disposed of his interest in the enterprise. As head of this well known and successful company, he displayed great business and executive ability. In June, 1906, Mr. Etzler accepted a position as bookkeeper for the Woodsboro Savings Bank. In December, 1907, he was elected cashier, which position he still holds. He has discharged the duties of this position most creditably. The bank with which he is connected is one of the sound and well known financial institutions of Frederick County. Its deposits on January 1, 1909, were $239,446.58. Mr. Etzler is also a member of the board of directors. He is one of the leading citizens of Woodsboro and is highly esteemed by every one with whom he has come in contact.

In his political views, Mr. Etzler is a Republican. He was formerly a member of the German Baptist Church.

Mr. Etzler has been twice married. He was married first February 6, 1884, to Ida M. Ecker, daughter of Levi and Elizabeth (Giddings) Ecker. She died January 21, 1901, leaving four children: Cora V., the wife of Claude H. Barrack, of Woodsboro, but has no issue; Ada V., Roscoe E. and Dorsey P., all at home. Mr. Etzler was married secondly to Dessie Saxten, of Woodsboro. She is a daughter of Rev. John A. Saxten, of Woodsboro. This Saxten family is the one from which Mrs. William McKinley was descended. There are no children by this second marriage.

Jeremiah W. Etzler, an elder brother of A. H. Etzler, is the owner of Mill Brook farm in Johnsville District. He was born on this place, November 8, 1859. He studied in the common schools and was employed by his father on the home farm until the latter died. He then operated the tract for three years as a tenant, at the end of which time he purchased it. Politically, he is a loyal Republican. He is a member of the Reformed Church. In the spring of 1889, Mr. Etzler was married to Fanny E. Martz, daughter of the late Lewis J. and Margaret (Staley) Martz. There are two children by this marriage: George L., at school; and Silas W., at home.

HARRY WILLIAM BOONE, tenant on the Solomon Longenecker farm, situated on the road which leads from Johnsville to Clemsonville, in Johnsville District, is an industrious farmer and a man of moral worth. He is a son of the late Henry and Louisa (Yingling) Boone.

The name of this family is sometimes spelled Bohn, instead of Boone. Thus did Emanuel, the grandfather of Harry W. Boone, sign himself.

Emanuel Bohn lived in Frederick county. He was married to Elizabeth Smith, a sister of Christian Smith, who was the first engineer on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Henry Boone, son of Emanuel and Elizabeth (Smith) Bohn, was born near Johnsville, Frederick County, January 12, 1835. He was reared in that vicinity. He was a carpenter by trade and followed that vocation for a period of seventeen years. He secured what learning he possessed in the common schools. He afterwards turned his attention to agriculture, and began farming on what is now the D. M. Devilbiss farm, in Johnsville District. After two years here, he removed to the Adam Devilbiss place, near Johnsville, where he spent six years. Ill health compelled him to live in retirement for two years. When he returned to farming, he took charge of the J. Hamilton Repp farm in Johnsville District for six years. He next lived on the H. F. Hoge place, one mile north of Johnsville, staying here seven years. On the M. H. Lippy place at Rocky Ridge he farmed for one year, and then followed three years on the Stonesifer farm at Bunker Hill. He next resided on the property of George W. Garber for one year. In the fall of 1901, he made sale, and returned to his old home in the vicinity of Johnsville, where he died September 14, 1902. He supported the Democratic principles, and held membershipp with the old order of German Baptists. Mr. Boone was married twice. His first wife was Mary Grimes, by whom he had two children: James, of Daysville, Frederick County; and Charles Franklin, of Johnsville District Mr. Boone was married secondly to Louisa Yingling. She was born February 14, 1844, and makes her home with her son, Harry W. There were four children by this union: Harry William; Elizabeth May, died aged sixteen years; Alice J., the wife of M. T. Warner, and resides at Willow Grove, Johnsville District; and one, died in infancy.

Harry William Boone, son of Henry and Louisa (Yingling) Boone, was born on the D. M. Devilbiss farm in Johnsville District, January 26, 1875. Until he was twenty-two years old, he attended the Johnsville public school, receiving instruction from these teachers: Rose Callahan, Georgie England, George Nicholas, George K. Sappington and D. O. Metz. Until several years after his marriage, he worked for and with his father. He began farming on the Stonesifer farm, and three years later located on the John T. Ott place, at Rocky Ridge, where he lived for one year. For two years he managed a tract near Motter's Station. He then had sale and removed to Willow Grove, staying there for two years. In the spring of 1907, he settled where he is now living, the Solomon Longenecker farm, in Johnsville District.

In his political affiliations, Mr. Boone is a Democrat. He is an influential member of Mount Tabor Lutheran Church of Rocky Ridge, in which he has filled the office of deacon for three years.

Mr. Boone was married December 22, 1898, to Maggie Cordelia Valentine, of near Motter's Station, Frederick County. She is a daughter of Grayson H. and Alice (Eyler) Valentine. They have three children: Ruth Naomi, born September 30, 1900; Roy V., born in 1906; Helen, born in 1908.

MILTON CARTER, deceased, was a man of much intellect and the strictest integrity. He was a well-known farmer of Liberty, Frederick County, and a citizen who was held in the highest regard by the community in which he resided. He was born at Sykesville, Carroll county, Md., November 2, 1833. His parents were Henry and Charity (Scheinflew) Carter.

Henry Carter was a farmer by occupation. He was widely known in his day and a leading man. He removed from Carroll County to Frederick County, where he purchased a farm known as "Howard's Paradise," in Liberty District. This place contained 180 acres and is now owned by the widow of Milton Carter. Here Mr. Carter died about 1858, aged about sixty-two years. He was not connected with any church. Mr. Carter was married to Charity Scheinflew. She survived him until 1895, dying in Frederick City at the age of ninety-four years. They were the parents of eight children: Elizabeth Jane, married Jeremiah Baile; Henry, deceased, married Margaret Nicodemus; Lucinda, deceased, was the wife of Martin Nicodemus; Milton, our subject; Olivia, deceased, was married to Augustus Lawrence, also deceased; Alcelia, deceased, married William Paine; Grafton, deceased, married Emma Troxell; and Fanny, the wife of Joseph Webb, recently of Frederick.

Milton Carter, son of Henry and Charity (Scheinflew) Carter, was educated in the schools of Carroll County. He grew up a farm boy, and was a young man when he went with his parents to Liberty District, Frederick County. Soon after the death of his father, he purchased the home farm, which he cultivated. He became a successful and prosperous agriculturist, and was a man of prominence in Liberty District, progressive and greatly esteemed in the community. In 1875, he retired to the village of Liberty, where he resided until his death, which occurred, May 27, 1899. His death was regarded as a distinct loss to Liberty and its vicinity.

Mr. Carter was all his life a supporter of the Democracy and its principles. He was not connected with any religious body.

On September 4, 1860, Mr. Carter was married to Elizabeth Baker, of Linganore, Frederick County. She is a daughter of John and Mary (Baile) Baker. She was born near Linganore, August 18, 1840, and survives her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Carter had issue: Charity, died in infancy; Cora, also died in infancy; Edith, died at the age of thirty years; Milton, Jr., who is a merchant at Liberty, married Virginia Kling, and has two children, Bessie and John Milton; Albert, deceased, was married to Mollie Beall and left four children, Robert Hugh, Charles and Edith; and Myrtie, at home.

John Baker, Mrs. Carter's father, was a highly respected farmer of the vicinity of Linganore, Frederick County. He and his wife, Mary Baile, were the parents of twelve children, nine of whom died small and three that reached maturity, namely: Elizabeth (Mrs. Carter); William, of Liberty; and Andrew, who died at Hanover, Pa. John Baker was a son of William and Catharine (Hull) Baker, who were the grandparents of J D. Baker, a banker of Frederick City.

JAMES F. CRAMPTON, a prosperous and intelligent farmer of Braddock District, was born in Middletown Valley, Frederick County, March 12, 1853. He is a son of Joshua and Annie M. (Feaster) Crampton, the former deceased and the latter living.

Joshua Crampton was born in 1815. He received a common school education in Middletown, Frederick County, and was reared on the farm of his father. He was the owner of a farm of 140 acres in Jefferson District, three miles south of Middletown. He farmed this place until his death, after which his widow has been managing it ever since. Mr. Crampton was married to Annie M. Feaster, daughter of John Feaster. They were the parents of three children: James F., our subject; John C., lives on the home place; and Jennie, the wife of Samuel Bowlus, of Jefferson District. The family has always been members of the Reformed Church, and Joshua Crampton was a Republican in politics.

James F. Crampton, son of Joshua and Annie M. (Feaster) Crampton, procured his education in the public schools of Middletown Valley and while a lad assisted in the work at home. He has followed agricultural pursuits his entire life. He began farming on a place owned by John Stone in Middletown Valley, where he remained four years. He then removed to the old Main farm at Braddock Heights, where he continued eight years, after which he purchased his present farm of 160 acres from Joseph Thomas. This consists of excellent agricultural land and is situated about three miles west of Frederick on the National pike in Braddock District. He improved this piece of land by the erection of new buildings, and it is considered one of the best farms in the district.

Mr. Crampton is thoroughly versed in all that relates to the cultivation of the soil, and is one of the successful farmers of the county. He started life in poor circumstances but by industry and strict attention to business has risen to his present comfortable position.

Mr. Crampton is a stanch supporter of the Republican party in politics. In religion, he is affiliated with the Reformed Church.

Mr. Crampton was married to Annie M. Fraley, daughter of John and Mary Fraley, of Mount Zion, Frederick County. They are the parents of three children: Floyd J., Katie and Harry. Mrs. Crampton holds membership in the Lutheran Church.

JOHN T. COLLIFLOWER, who is one of the highly respected citizens of Frederick County, was born in Creagerstown District, September 29, 1840. He is a son of John and Mary Matilda (Wilhide) Colliflower.

The Colliflower family is one of the early settled ones of Frederick County, Md. John Colliflower lived to be eighty-three years old. By trade, he was a shingle maker. In politics he was affiliated with the Democratic party. In religion he was a member of the Moravian Church of Graceham. He was married to Mary Matilda Wilhide, who died at the age of seventy years. They were the parents of the following children: Michael J., deceased; Barney, deceased, was one of the Judges of the Orphans' Court of Frederick County; Samuel, (deceased); Susan Elizabeth, married to John Fogle; Mary Jane, deceased; John T.; and Jago, of Graceham.

John T. Colliflower, son of John and Mary Matilda (Wilhide) Colliflower, was born and reared on a farm. At the age of twelve years he hired out as a farm hand, and during the winter months, when farm work was at a standstill, he attended the public schools. At the age of eighteen, he began the shoemaker's trade, and worked at this in Graceham, Frederick County, for fifteen years. In 1873, he rented the old Yonson farm, where he remained for three years. For the next fifteen years, he rented the John Witherow farm. He then purchased the John Hobbs farm of 145 acres of good land, which he still possesses. In 1896, he rented his farm, and retired from active farming, purchasing at that time his present comfortable home in Graceham. Mr. Colliflower met with much success at agricultural pursuits, and is one of the well known and highly esteemed citizens of that section of the county.

In politics, Mr. Colliflower is a supporter of the Democratic party, but has never been desirous of holding public office. In religion, he has been for forty years an active and consistent member of the Moravian Church of Graceham, in which he has served in an official capacity for many years, acting as trustee and elder.

Mr. Colliflower was married December 13, 1863, to Mary I. Hesser, daughter of George and Amy (Knauff) Hesser. They are the parents of six children, namely: Elmer E., born December 18, 1864, married Annie E. Wilhide, and has four children, Ruth, Ross, Edith and Lloyd; Lula Catharine, born November 30, 1866, and died in childhood; Laura May, born September 1, 1868, married Adam R. Zentz, and has two children, Hazel and Lottie (see his sketch); Clarence Wilson, born July 19, 1871, married Nora G. Freeze, and has a daughter, Viola; Joseph Howard, born March 3, 1873, married Lula Dorsey; Lloyd Ross, born August 19, 1877, married Mary Collins, of Washington, D. C., and has one child, Mary Isabel.

The Hesser family is one of the early families of Pennsylvania. George Hesser and his wife, Amy Knauff, were both natives of Berks County, Pa., and were the parents of eight children, of whom three are living, namely: Susan, the wife of John Troxell; Lillie, the wife of Samuel Newcomer; and Mary, the wife of Mr. Colliflower.

JESSE EDGAR CLARY, a well-known farmer of Linganore District, Frederick County, Md., son of Jesse T. and Susan (Dudderar) Clary was born at the Clary homestead in Frederick County, Md., in 1866.

Mr. Clary's ancestors were emigrants from Ireland. His father, Jesse T. Clary, was born in Frederick County, in 1824. He attended the public schools of the district, and completed his education at college. He grew up on the home farm, and began business for himself as a clerk in a general store. After his marriage, Mr. Clary opened a store in Woodville, Md., which he managed successfully for some years. He afterwards turned his attention to the cultivation of the soil, and settled on the old Clary farm in Linganore District, Frederick County. After some years, Mr. Clary removed to Union Bridge, where he again opened a general store in which he did a good business for ten or twelve years. He then returned to the home farm where he spent the remainder of his life. Mr. Clary was a Republican, but afterwards voted with the Prohibition party. Jesse T. Clary was married, in 1847, to Susan Dudderar. Their children are: 1, Fanny (Mrs. Albert Buffington), deceased; 2, Lizzie, deceased; 3, Alice (Mrs. William Wagner), of Union Bridge, Md.; 4, Dora; 5, Ida (Mrs. Ernest Pearre), of Laurel, Prince George County, Md.; 6, Lina; 7, Jesse Edgar. Mr. Clary and his wife were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in which he was a class-leader and steward. He and his wife died at the Clary homestead, and are buried in the cemetery at Union Bridge, Md.

Jesse Edgar Clary grew up on his father's farm and attended the public school at Oak Orchard, Md. When he was eighteen, he left home and spent three years at a Normal College in Southern Indiana. Returning to Frederick County, he engaged in farming with his father until 1892, when he settled at Union Bridge, where he was employed in manufacturing cigars. Two years afterwards, Mr. Clary removed to his present home, the old Urner homestead, a fertile farm of 147 acres situated in Linganore District, Frederick County, Md. Mr. Clary is an intelligent, enterprising farmer, and a genial gentleman, well-liked and highly esteemed by his contemporaries. He is interested in political affairs, and votes the Prohibition ticket.

Jesse Edgar Clary was married, in 1892, to Laura, daughter of Jonas and Tabitha (Milton) Urner, of Frederick City. Mr. Clary and his wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

MARSHALL D. BOONE, one of the energetic and leading agriculturists of Woodsboro District, possesses a fine farm of 98 acres, which is situated on a high eminence overlooking a beautiful range of country extending to Frederick City. Mr. Boone was born near Daysville, Frederick County, Md., April 23, 1858. He is a son of Dennis and Sophia (Waltz) Boone, and a descendant of Daniel Boone.

Dennis Boone was born in Frederick County, Md., in 1822. In his early days he followed huckstering, and later was engaged also in farming. He moved to Shepherdstown, W. Va., engaging in the dairy businesss and livery. His death occurred in Frederick County, in 1882. Mr. Boone was married to Sophia Waltz, daughter of Isaac Waltz. She was born in 1822, and died at Shepherdstown, West Va., in 1872. By this marriage there were sixteen children, only two of whom reached maturity, namely: Marshal D.; of Woodsboro District; and H. Hanson, of Mount Pleasant District, the latter married a Miss Welker.

Marshall D. Boone, son of Dennis and Sophia (Waltz) Boone, was a boy when his parents removed to Daysville, Mount Pleasant District, Frederick County, from Shepherdstown; he then was fifteen years old. The family spent three years at Shepherdstown, West Va., after which they returned to Frederick County, as above noted. Mr. Boone acquired his education in the various places where they lived. He began life at farm work and was engaged at whatever he could earn money by. After the death

R. Wilhide, was born in the northern part of Frederick County, where his childhood and youth were spent. He owned a valuable farm situated near Graceham, Md., adjoining the Moravian Church. After cultivating and improving this land for several years, Mr. Wilhide sold his property, and removed to Henry County, Indiana, where he purchased a large tract of land on which he spent the rest of his life. Frederick Wilhide was married to Catherine Peitzel. Of their six children five reached maturity: 1, Benjamin; 2, Henry, deceased, farmer of Mechanicstown District; 3, James, of Indiana; 4, John, died in early manhood; 5, Maria, married John Boller, Graceham, and Mrs. Gernand, of Graceham.

Mr. Wilhide's father, Benjamin Wilhide, was born on his father's farm near Graceham, April 21, 1802. He grew up on the farm and remained with his father until after his marriage, when he began business for himself. For some years he was engaged in hauling merchandise from point to point. He was successful in this business, and invested his gains in a large tract of timber land situated three and a-half miles from Thurmont, Md. Mr. Wilhide cleared a part of this land and made it his homestead. He was a worker in timber, and owned the first saw-mill set up in that section of Maryland. The timber on his land was very valuable, especially the fine lots of poplar, and he hauled a great deal of poplar lumber to Frederick, receiving a dollar for every hundred feet. He was an active business man and prospered in his undertakings. At the time of his death he owned 800 acres of excellent farm and timber land. Benjamin Wilhide was married to Mary B. Knouff. Of their nine children, eight reached adult age: 1, Josephine A., deceased; 2, Herbert, Hagerstown, Md.; 3, Louisa, widow of Samuel Anders, of Thurmont, Md.; 4, Catherine, deceased; 5, Susan, deceased, married to Simon Eylor; 6, Washington, of Indiana; 7, Arnold R.; 8, Frederick M., a farmer of Mechanicstown District. Mr. Wilhide and his wife were active members of the Moravian Church. They both died on the old homestead, near Thurmont, and were laid to rest in the United Brethren Cemetery at Thurmont.

Arnold R. Wilhide was educated in the public schools of his native district, and remained on the home farm until he was able to buy a small tract of land and begin farming for himself. After cultivating this land for one year, Mr. Wilhide rented the Diffendall farm, four miles west of Thurmont, where he remained for five years. He next rented the Adam Bower farm in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, and the next year removed to the William Black farm. But, like his father, Mr. Wilhide loved the timber land, and after spending two years on the Black farm, he sold his stock and bought 244 acres of excellent farm and timber land, a part of his father's estate. Here he remained for eighteen years engaged in getting out fine timber, and in burning charcoal for J. B. Kunkle, at Catoctin Furnace. Mr. Wilhide afterwards sold this land to a firm in New York making a large profit, which he investeed in his present home, a fine fruit farm and valuable timber land. This place of 244 acres, was a part of the old Eyler homestead, in Eyler Valley, the property of J. C. Eyler. He now resides on the Eyler farm. Mr. Wilhide also owned a fertile farm of 40 acres on the line between Creagerstown and Mechanicstown Districts which he later sold. He has made many improvements on his land and his farms are numbered among the desirable properties of the district. Mr. Wilhide has had hard work and plenty of it, but is now able to enjoy the fruit of all his toil. He is a Republican, interested in all that concerns the progress of the district. In the Spring of 1862 during the Civil War, Mr. Wilhide hauled a load of merchandise to Winchester, Va., where he and his fine team barely escaped capture. This was while General Banks held Winchester, Va.

Arnold R. Wilhide was married to his cousin, Isabella, daughter of Henry and Catherine (Delphia) Wilhide, both deceased. Their children are: 1, Charles E., a farmer of Mechanicstown District, Frederick County; 2, David B., of Edgemont, Washington County; 3, Fannie K., the wife of Charles Eyler, of Parris, Ohio; 4, John H., deceased; 5, Clara (Mrs. George Ridge), of Edgemont, Md.; 6, Jennie (Mrs. Alonza Williard), of Thurmont, Md.; 7, Amanda E., the wife of Clinton Kaufman, of Woodsboro District; 8, Florence E. (Mrs. Mann), of Carroll County, Md.; 9, Emma (Mrs. Daniel W. Renner), deceased; 10, Addie, died unmarried; 11, Maggie (Mrs. Harry Buckenham), of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Wilhide died September 3, 1890, and was buried in the cemetery of the United Brethren Church at Thurmont. Seven years after the death of his wife, Mr. Wilhide was married to Julia, daughter of Samuel and Caroline M. (Biggs) Lidia, of Thurmont, Md. Their children are: 1, Vivian V.; 2, Lewis M.; 3, Randolph N.; 4, Horras D.; 5, Oscar; 6, Raymond; 7, Washington E., all at home. Mr. Wilhide and his wife are members of the United Brethren Church in Thurmont. He is a liberal contributor to benevolent enterprises.

FREDERICK A. ORDEMAN, a retired farmer of Frederick City, son of Captain H. D. and Catherine (Schmaul) Ordeman, both deceased, was born on his father's farm at Park Mills, Urbana District, Frederick County, Md., October 28, 1857.

Mr. Ordeman's father, Captain Ordeman, was born in Bremen, Germany, November 28, 1812. He was a very young man when he began life for himself, signing as a common seaman. For thirty-two years he sailed the great ocean, working his way slowly and laboriously from seaman to Captain. But he had the joy of success and became the owner of two seagoing vessels. After living in Baltimore for some time, Mr. Ordeman abandoned the sea, and removed to Park Mills, Md., built a distillery, and afterwards purchased a farm of 300 acres of farm and timber land, and spent the remainder of his life in cultivating and improving it. Mr. Ordeman had been diligent and careful in business, and was well rewarded. He enjoyed the respect and esteem of his fellow citizens. Captain Ordeman was married to Catherine Schmaul, who was born in Paris, France, in March, 1816. Their children are: 1, John H., of Philadelphia, Pa., deceased; 2, Charles O., a sergeant in the Confederate Army, was killed at Perryville, Ky.; 3, Georgiana, died unmarried; 4, Daniel T., of the firm of Prince & Ordeman, hardware merchants, of Frederick, deceased; 5, Mary C., widow of the late John E. Price, of the firm of Price & Ordeman; 6, Emma C., widow of the late Eugene Hughes, of Washington, D. C.; 7, Frederick A. Mr. Ordeman was a member of the Reformed Church. His wife held her membership in the Lutheran Church. Mr. Ordeman died at his farm near Park Mills, in September, 1884, and is buried in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, in Frederick. His widow died in Frederick in 1890, and was buried beside her husband.

Frederick A. Ordeman received his primary education at St. John's School in Frederick, and completed his studies in a private school in Urbana, Md. He remained with his parents until he married when he began farming for himself, having purchased from his father, a farm of 163 acres near Hyattstown, Md. After cultivating this land for two years, Mr. Ordeman returned to the homestead and, two years later, purchased, from Mrs. Mary Brown, 400 acres of land known as the Old Fleecy Dale farm. The dwelling on the original tract was built in 1768, of bricks brought from England. It was on this farm that the first works for the manufacture of glass in the state were opened. Mr. Ordeman divided his land, put up a second set of fine buildings, and made of it two desirable farms. He next bought the old homestead, consisting of 206 acres of excellent farm land, and built on it a comfortable two-story stone dwelling, a bank barn, and convenient out-buildings, and brought the land to a high state of cultivation. He afterwards purchased the old mill and the mill farm of 79 acres at Park Mills. He remodeled the mill, and operated it for some time, but afterwards rented it. From this old mill Park Mills received its name. Besides the care of his land, Mr. Ordeman dealt in general merchandise in Park Mills, for a number of years, and also owned a large steam saw-mill near the village, from which he furnished much of the heavy lumber used for the large buildings in and around Frederick. In the spring of 1909, he retired from business, but remained on the farm until the spring of 1910, when he removed to his beautiful home on East Second Street, in Frederick City. Mr. Ordeman is one of the most energetic business men of Frederick County, and ascribes his financial success to close attention to business. He has made a number of improvements upon his farms, which are among the best and the most highly cultivated for miles around. As a farmer he was progressive; as a citizen he favors all progressive projects. He is a stanch Democrat and was postmaster at Park Mills during President Cleveland's administration.

Frederick A. Ordeman was married to Sarah Catharine Smeltzer, of Springfield, Ohio, a most estimable lady. They have no children. Mr. Ordeman and his wife are members of the Methodist Church.

GEORGE WASHINGTON BELLESON, one of the highly esteemed and oldest residents of Johnsville District, is a native of Carroll County, Md., where he was born August 7, 1830. Despite his seventy-nine years, he is still very active.

The first of the Belleson family to come to this country was the great-grandfather of George W. Belleson, William Belleson. He was a native of England. On the ship coming to this country, he met and fell in love with a German girl, whom he married. They landed in Baltimore, Md., and there settled. He was a gunsmith by trade.

William Belleson, son of the immigrant, was born in Baltimore City. He was a ship carpenter by trade. He removed to Franklin District, Carroll County, Md., where he died. He was married to Lucretia Fowler. They were the parents of seven children: Mary, died without marrying; Richard; Henrietta, married Frederick Koons; Annie, became the wife of John Malohan; George W.; William; and Corrilla, married Perry Green.

Richard Belleson, son of William and Lucretia (Fowler) Belleson, lived and died in Carroll County, Md. After his marriage he located in Freedom District, where his death occurred. He followed the occupation of a blacksmith. He was married to Rebecca Pennington. They were the parents of the following children: Thomas M., who died in Carroll County, was twice married, first to Annie Smith, and secondly to Margaret Bohn; George Washington, whose name heads this sketch; William, settled in West Virginia, where he died; Mary Ellen, deceased, was the wife of Emanuel Yingling; Rachel, deceased, was married to Rufus Dell; Lucretia, married Washington Grimes; Milton, deceased, married a Miss Willis; Richard, also deceased; and Catharine.

George Washington Belleson, son of Richard and Rebecca (Pennington) Belleson, attended the old fashioned subscription schools in Freedom District, Carroll County, his birth place. When he was eighteen years old he learned the trade of a blacksmith with James Wood, of Johnsville, Frederick County. In this occupation he has been engaged for a period of sixty years, with the exception of three years spent in the army. In August, 1862, he enlisted as a private in Company F, Seventh Maryland Volunteer Infantry, under Captain Rinehart and Colonel Webster, in the Sixth Corps, General Warren commanding, Army of the Potomac. He participated in twenty-two battles and skirmishes, among which were the Wilderness, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, Spottsylvania, and Weldon Railroad. He possesses an enviable record as a soldier and was honorably discharged at Baltimore, in June, 1865, after nearly three years service.

After the close of the war, Mr. Belleson returned to Frederick County and located with his family at Creagerstown, where he opened a blacksmith shop. This he conducted until the spring of 1870, when he settled at his present location in Johnsville. For the long period since then he has been engaged in business at this stand. He is one of the best known citizens in the district and possesses the high regard of every one who has the pleasure of knowing him. Although he is seventy-nine years old, he possesses a retentive memory and keeps abreast with the times, being acquainted with present day topics.

Mr. Belleson was married September 21, 1851, to Margaret Eyler, daughter of John and Catharine (Strine) Eyler. She died April 23, 1910, aged seventy-eight years, and was laid to rest at Beaver Dam Church. They were the parents of three children: Lavinia, the wife of Reuben S. Grabill, of Johnsville; Harriet, married to Isaac P. Stitely, of Johnsville District; and Rosa, married Wesley Repp and lives with her father. Mr. Belleson reared his two grandchildren, Samuel George Repp, of Uniontown, Md., who married Rhoda Fleiger, and has three children, and Margaret P. Repp, a graduate of the Maryland Collegiate Institute and of Columbia College, Hagerstown, Md. Mr. Belleson is a supoprter of the principles of the Republican party. He holds membership in the Church of God, in which he served in the capacity of a deacon for a number of years.

JOHN WESLEY STRAWSBURG is one of the prominent agriculturists of Johnsville District. He resides one mile and a-half from Union Bridge, on the Union Bridge and Liberty turnpike. His farm contains 151 acres, all of which is under a good state of cultivation. Since he purchased the property in 1904, he done general farming, but he now intends to convert it into a stock farm.

Josiah Strawsburg, the father of John W. Strawsburg, was a native of England. He came to the United States with his mother. His father was accidentally drowned in England when he was fourteen years old, and shortly after that his mother, with her three sons and one daughter, emigrated to this country. Her maiden name was Coppersmith, and took up her residence in the lower part of Frederick County, near Clemsonville. Here Josiah grew up, and was employed by the Norris family. Of his brothers, Jacob went to Missouri, where he still lives, William went to Illinois; and his sister, Cassie, married a Mr. Gilbert and went west. Josiah received no education. However, he was very intelligent and had natural business ability. He began dealing in sheep and in this way got a start in life. He then followed the business of a huckster. In this line he was engaged for a period of twenty-five years, finding a market for his produce in Baltimore. In 1872 he purchased the farm now owned by our subject, on which he farmed until 1882. His death took place in November of that year, and he is buried at Beaver Dam Church Cemetery. He voted the Democratic ticket and held membership in no church. Mr. Strawsburg was married to Susan Fogle. She is still living, being aged about seventy-five years. They were the parents of the following children: Sidney, married John Whitmore, of Carroll County, Md.; Anna Mary, is unmarried; William H.; John Wesley, whose name is at the head of this sketch; Julia, the wife of John Warner, of Union Bridge, Md.; Rebecca is unmarried and lives in Baltimore; Charles, who resides at Union Bridge, married a Miss Whiteleather; Sarah, married to John Smith, of Unionville, Md.; Samuel, of Carroll County, married a Miss Whiteleather; Jacob, of Taneytown, Md., married Sally Miller; and Edward, of Union Bridge, married Hattie Miller.

John Wesley Strawsburg, son of Josiah and Susan (Fogle) Strawsburg, was born about January, 1861, in Johnsville District, Frederick County. He acquired his learning at the Fountain and the Ridge schools. When his father purchased the farm it was in woods, and the boys were kept busy at work at home, this preventing their regular attendance at school. Until a year before his marriage, Mr. Strawsburg remained at home. He then went to work for Reuben Saylor, near Union Bridge. After his marriage he lived for one year in a tenant house on the home farm. After his father's death, he cultivated the homestead for one year, after which he located in Johnson County, Mo., remaining there nearly a year. He then returned to Frederick County, and worked and farmed on different tracts until January, 1904, when he purchased the parental homestead. Here he has since made his home. Mr. Strawsburg is one of the prosperous and successful farmers of Johnsville District.

In 1879, he was married to Lizzie Harris, of Pennsylvania. There is the following issue by this union: Mary Alice Virginia, married E. Frank Bohn; Bessie V., married Howard Frock; Roland, Oscar, Winfried, John, Jr., and Blanche Pearl, all unmarried; Lettie O., at home; and Naomi, at school.

Mr. Strawsburg is an adherent of the Democracy in politics. In 1893 he became a member of the Beaver Dam German Baptist Church, in the work of which he takes a keen interest.

R. HARWOOD MAGRUDER, one of the most prominent farmers of Urbana District, Frederick County, Md., son of Rufus K. and America (Pritchard) Magruder, both deceased, was born on the old Magruder homestead, now his property.

Mr. Magruder's ancestors, who were Scotch by descent, were among the early settlers of Montgomery County, Md. His grandfather, James Magruder, was one of the most progressive farmers of Montgomery County, where he owned a valuable property near Clarksburg which he spent his life in cultivating and improving. He was wellknown, and was highly esteemed as a citizen. He married Eleanor Harwood and among his children was a son named Rufus K.

The late Rufus K. Magruder, son of James and Eleanor (Harwood) Magruder, and father of Harwood Magruder, was born on his father's farm in Montgomery County, Md., October 6, 1816. He grew up on the home farm, and received his education in private schools. He learned tanning, and was successfully employed at the business near Clarksburg, Montgomery County, Md., for ten years. He then removed to Frederick County, Md., where he engaged in farming in which he was eminently successful. He purchased the old Magruder homestead, a farm of 230 acres of valuable farm land, now the property of his son, R. Harwood Magruder. He was a progressive business man and improved his property in every respect, putting up a two-story frame dwelling, a bank barn and all the out-buildings required for a well-kept farm. A few years before his death, Mr. Magruder gave up active work but continued to reside on the farm. He was highly esteemed by the people of the county. He was interested in local affairs, and was one of the active Democrats of that section. He and his family were members of Zion Episcopal Church. Rufus K. Magruder was married, October 22, 1850, by the Rev. G. W. Israel, of Clarksburg, Montgomery County, Md., to Miss America Pritchard, daughter of the late Benjamin and Elizabeth (Lewis) Pritchard, and was born December 7, 1826. They were the parents of eight children, five of whom reached maturity: 1, Zachariah Claggett, a prominent farmer of New Market District, Frederick County, married to Mollie Lowe, and has two children, Charles L., and Rufus H.; 2, R. Harwood; 3, Columbia M., the wife of Charles A. D. Williams, a retired farmer of New Market District, has two children, Courtnay May, and Dougless; 4, America F.; 5, Eleanor E., resides with her brother, R. Harwood Magruder. Mr. Magruder died November 23, 1898; his wife died July 15, 1867. Both are buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery in Frederick, Md.

R. Harwood Magruder was educated in the public schools of his native district, and remained on the farm with his father. After his father's death, he purchased the homestead, containing 230 acres of excellent farm land, situated ten miles east of Frederick and one mile east of Urbana, on the county road known as the Magruder road. He has been very successful in handling the land and has improved the place in every way, making it one of the most valuable farms in the county. He keeps his farm well stocked with fine animals, in good condition. He was the owner of another fine farm which he improved and then sold to advantage. Mr. Magruder is one of the most successful farmers in the county, and attributes his good fortune to close application to his business. He is a stockholder in the Frederick County Agricultural Society, of which he was chief marshal for two years. He has always taken an active interest in the welfare of the society, and for the past four years, has been one of the directors. He is a member of the Elks, of Frederick, Md., No. 684. In politics, he is a Democrat. He takes an active part in county politics and has served the county as registration officer for six years. Mr. Magruder is a member of the Episcopal Church at Urbana, where he has held the office of vestryman and treasurer.

ELISHA H. HAHN, who has achieved much success as an agriculturist, is the possessor of a farm of 117 1-4 acres in Woodsboro District, being farmed by his son. He was born in Creagerstown District, Frederick County, July 28, 1853. He is a son of Jacob and Margaret Hahn, and a grandson of Michael Hahn, who died in Woodsboro District some years ago. The parents are also both deceased, and were well-known in their day.

Mr. Hahn acquired his learning in the schools of Utica Mills, Frederick County, under the supervision of Jacob Miller, George W. Miller, Edwin Gittings, David Stauffer and Andrew Cramer. At the age of seventeen he was taken from school to get permanent employment. He started to work when a small boy in his father's cooper shop. His father was also a carpenter. After his first marriage in 1873, Mr. Hahn secured employment in Liberty Copper Mines, pursuing this vocation for ten years. As time went on and finances accumulated, he invested in farm land until he possessed 64 acres. He then turned his attention to farming in 1882. He sold this tract in 1894, and for the next five years cultivated his father-in-law's farm in Woodsboro District. His next move was to the Starr farm where he remained two years.. Mr. Hahn then bought the 117 1-4 acre place in Woodsboro District, which he tilled until he retired. Then he bought his present place where he now resides at Oak Hill. Mr. Hahn is considered one of the most progressive and successful farmers of the neighborhood. He is a man of intelligence and ranks high in his community.

In politics, Mr. Hahn takes allegiance with the Democratic party. He is an active and devout member of the Rocky Hill Lutheran Church, where he served in the capacities of deacon, elder, and superintendent of the Sunday school.

Mr. Hahn has been twice married. He was married first January 18, 1873, to Emily J. Waltz, daughter of Enoch Waltz. On August 14, 1880, she died and was interred in the cemetery at Utica Mills, but later removed to Rocky Hill Cemetery. By this marriage, there was one son: William E., who is engaged in farming in Johnsville District and is married to Clara E. Powell. Mr. Hahn was married for the second time February 22, 1882, to Emma J. Smith, daughter of Solomon and Adeline (Lock) Smith. They were the parents of three children: Marcella, died in infancy; Oliver F., who also died in infancy; Edgar A., on the home farm, married Cora Keeney; and Carrie Marie, an adopted daughter.

MAHLON A. BOWERS, a hustling and enterprising farmer of Woodsboro District, is an esteemed citizen of that community. He was born in Lewistown, Frederick County, December 10, 1860, and is a son of Jonathan and Julia Ann Bowers.

Mr. Bowers grew to manhood on the old homestead and attended the public schools until he was seventeen years old. As a young man he worked among the farmers of the neighborhood. For five years after his marriage, which occurred in 1879, he lived in Lewistown, and then hired out to M. O. Ramsburg, at Walkersville, for three years. For the following two years he was employed in that locality, and then removed to Mount Pleasant District, where he bought a farm of 48 acres, on which he lived for a period of fourteen years. For the next four years he resided on the Leonard Grove place, near Jefferson. While here he sold his tract of 48 acres. He next had charge of the George W. Crum farm in the same district for one year. Then, in April, 1907, he purchased his present farm of 198 acres from Amos Eyler. This is considered the best red land farm in Frederick County. Mr. Bowers is up-to-date in his methods of cultivation and his labors bring him large returns. He is thoroughly versed in all pertaining to agriculture and is recognized as one of the most successful farmers of his locality.

In politics, Mr. Bowers is a stanch adherent of the Democratic party. He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Johnsville, and is very active in the work of that congregation.

Mr. Bowers was married May 15, 1879, to Louisa V. Perkey, daughter of David and Mary (Jackson) Perkey. She is a native of Madison County, Va., and was partly reared there. She is also a Methodist in her religious beliefs. There are the following children by this marriage: Stella V., was married first to John Bradshaw, by whom she had two children, LaRu and Millard, and secondly to Charles Wallace, of Baltimore City, by whom she has one child, Arther; Lottie I., the wife of Emanuel Brown, of Walkersville, Ontario County, Canada, by whom she has twins, Roger William and William Roger; Charles G., born near Walkersville, March 18, 1885, was educated in the county schools and married Emma Lippy; now

WILLIAM HENRY MORT, who is among the prosperous and esteemed citizens of Woodsboro District, owns 177 acres of fine land, situated five miles north of the town of Woodsboro. Here he has resided since a boy of four or five years. He was born on the Walter farm, in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, January 16, 1850. He is a son of William and Catharine (Oler) Mort.

George Mort, the grandfather of William H. Mort, was a day laborer. He was twice married. His first wife was a Miss Fox, a sister of Balser Fox, of the neighborhood of Creagerstown. After her death, Mr. Mort was married again. By the first marriage, he had one child, William, and by the second he was the father of several children.

William Mort, son of George Mort, was an infant when his mother died and he was taken by an aunt. He lived among strangers until he went to his trade. He was given a common school education and when about fourteen years old went to learn the trade of a stone mason. This occupation he followed for many years, until he bought a farm, now owned by his son. Even afterwards he engaged at his trade occasionally. When he finished his trade he did not have money enough to buy tools. For a time he worked for William Ogle, a contractor at Union Bridge. Mr. Mort also did some contracting for himself, erecting many lime kilns. After his marriage, he made his home at various places until 1854, when he purchased the place on which he lived until he retired to Thurmont. At that place he died in 1887, and is buried at Rocky Cemetery. He used his influence to advance the interests of the Republican party. He held membership in the Lutheran Church. Mr. Mort was married near Bridgeport, Frederick County, to Catharine Oler, who was born and raised near that place. Her parents were Frederick and Peggy (Lynn) Oler. She died at her sister's, Mrs. Powell, near Creagertown, in 1889. She was a Lutheran in religion. By this marriage were born four children: Frances Anna, the wife of Simon Lohr, of Thurmont; Frederick, who died at Loy's Station, Frederick County, married Mary Pusey; William Henry; and George, died aged two years.

William Henry Mort, son of William and Catharine (Oler) Mort, received his education at Grove's Academy near his home. At the age of twenty he quit school. He worked for his father on the farm until he was thirty-six years old. After his marriage in 1886, he worked away from the home farm for three years. He then bought the homestead, and here he has since been engaged in rural pursuits. His home was built in the early forties by John Miller. The barn was put up by his father in 1870. Mr. Mort is a farmer who thoroughly understands his vocation and he receives large returns from his labors. He is highly thought of in the community in which he resides.

In 1886, Mr. Mort was married to Seraphine Elizabeth Ceas, daughter of Nathaniel and Rebecca Ann (McKissick) Ceas. She is a native of Hauver's District, Frederick County. Mr. and Mrs. Mort are affiliated with the Lutheral Church at Rocky Ridge, in which he has served in the capacity of a deacon several times. They have no issue.

He received a common school education of that day and followed the occupation of a farmer all his life. His marriage took place at Middletown, and he then removed to the farm on which he died. He held membership in the Dunkard Church, and was a man of moral worth. Mr. Grossnickle was married to Ellen Blessing, daughter of George and Susan (Easterday) Blessing. She was born February 4, 1825, and died January 9, 1908. They were the parents of the following named children: Nellie, married Addison Haugh, and lives near Waynesboro, Pa.; Clara, the wife of Henry Haugh, of Bascom, O.; Julia, died without marrying; Parker, of near Johnsville, Frederick County, was twice married, first to Mollie Waltz, and secondly to Sarah Stoner; Cyrus, deceased, married Alice Bowers; Benton, of near Union Bridge, Md., married Fanny Bowers; Tilghman L.; Susan, who is deceased; Sarah, the wife of Daniel Ressler, of near Waynesboro, Pa.; Rettie, married Marshall Baumgardner, of near Waynesboro, Pa.; Louie, deceased; and Meadie, the wife of John Bohn, of Waynesboro, Pa.

George Blessing, the father of Mrs. Daniel Grossnickle, was a well known farmer of Middletown Valley. When the Confederates raided through that section, they tried to steal his horses. He fought them alone and single-handed and put the parties that came to his place to rout, killing one and wounding others. His wife was Susan Easterday.

Tilghman L. Grossnickle, son of Daniel and Ellen (Blessing) Grossnickle, grew to manhood on his father's farm in Woodsboro District, and received his learning at Grove Academy, close to the old home, under Doctor Stitely, E. O. Norris, Alice Bowers, Mr. Dupey and Adam Roser. When he was about nineteen years old, he gave up attending school. He worked for his father until the latter's death, and he then carried on the farm for one year. In 1886, Mr. Grossnickle was married, and the succeeding three years lived with his father-in-law. He then went to farming on the L. F. Miller farm, now occupied by J. C. Mentzer. From there he went to the A. D. Birely farm in Woodsboro District, staying for two years. His next residence was on the Michael Lippy farm at Rocky Ridge, where he was located for one year. Mr. Grossnickle then, in the spring of 1897, came to his present farm, which is one of the best in that locality. Mr. Grossnickle is progressive and a hustler. He is a believer in up-to-date methods and by the use of such has been enabled to secure large crops.

Although he is an ardent Republican, Mr. Grossnickle does not take an active part in politics. He is not a member of any church.

Mr. Grossnickle was married October 7,

1886, to Alice Carmack, of Woodsboro District. She is a daughter of Joshua and Amanda (Eyler) Carmack, and was born in Woodsboro District, February 23, 1859. She acquired her education at Grove Academy, and is a member of Haugh's Lutheran Church. She is the mother of six children: Kansie Grace, was born August 17, 1887, and died September 17, 1894; Mary Key, born October 11, 1889; Joshua Carmack, born March 24, 1892; Rhoda, born February 15, 1894, and died September 13, 1894; Phoebe Ellen, born November 19, 1897; and Wilbur Luther, born May 15, 1899.

Joshua Carmack, the father of Mrs. Grossnickle, was born on the old Carmack farm, near Haugh's Church, Frederick County, April 3, 1827. He received a common school education, and followed day laboring. He was married to Amanda Eyler, daughter of John and Catharine (Miller) Eyler. Mr. Carmack died August 2, 1892, and is buried with his wife at Haugh's Church Cemetery. She died August 4, 1894. They had issue: Mary Catharine, who was born October 31, 1856, married Henry Keilholtz, and died of typhoid fever in 1893; and Alice (Mrs. Grossnickle).

John Carmack, the grandfather of Mrs. Grossnickle, was engaged in farming in Woodsboro District, near Detour. He was married to Ida M. Wolf, and had these children: Hanson, William, John, Ephraim, Joshua, Sophia, Sarah and Margaret.

JOSHUA E. MENTZER, who cultivates the L. F. Miller farm of 160 acres, located near Haugh's Church, in Woodsboro District, is one of the best known farmers of that section and is noted for his energy and progressiveness. He was born near Oak Hill, Woodsboro District, Frederick County, on his father's farm, November 1, 1862, and is a son of Amos and Henrietta (Martin) Mentzer.

The grandparents of Joshua E. Mentzer were residents of Carroll County, Md., and lived near York Road. They were farmers, and had six children: George, deceased; Peter, deceased; Amos; Rachel; Polly; and Kitty.

Amos Mentzer was born and raised in Carroll County, Md. He was given a common school education. After his marriage he located at Oak Hill, this county and worked out by the day. He adhered to the principles of the Democracy, and in his religious beliefs was a Lutheran. His death occurred in 1867. Mr. Mentzer was married to Henrietta Martin. She died in January, 1897, aged about sixty-four years. She was a member of the Dunkard Church. Their children were as follows: Sarah, the wife of Charles O. Hummer, of Carroll County; George Michael, of Boonsboro, Washington County, Md., married Clara Foreman; Ellen, deceased, was married to John Young, of Woodsboro District; Joshua E.; and Annie, wife of George Hoff, of Woodsboro District.

Joshua E. Mentzer was but five years old when his father died, and he was put out. He lived for two years with an aunt, Rachel Bloon, at Union Bridge, Md. He then went to live with the family of Hezekiah Pittinger, in Lewistown District, staying there for nine years. He studied at the public schools. His next home was with David Warner, on the old Dr. McPherson farm near Catoctin Furnace. He then hired to Hiram Gaver, of Creagerstown District, for one year. After his marriage in 1883, Mr. Mentzer bought a small place near Miller's Bridge, and worked out by the day. At the end of eight years thus spent, he took charge of the L. F. Miller farm of 140 acres in Woodsboro District, where he was located for three years. His next move was to his present tract, also owned by Mr. Miller. It is entirely due to Mr. Mentzer's own efforts and the help of his wife that he has been able to rise to his present comfortable circumstances. He has worked for Mr. Miller as farm hand and tenant for a quarter of a century. He is one of the best farmers of Woodsboro District judging from results obtained.

Mr. Mentzer uses his right of franchise in favor of the candidates of the Republican party. He is connected with Haugh's Lutheran Church, of which his wife is also a member.

On December 25, 1883, Mr. Mentzer was married to Marcella Hahn, of Creagerstown. She is a daughter of Henry and Anna Mary (Stultz) Hahn, and was born at Rocky Ridge, August 2, 1861. Mr. and Mrs. Mentzer have four children: Charles, who is deceased; George, born October 4, 1890, and Roy W. and a twin brother, died in infancy.

ALBERT W. ECKER, vice-president of the Glade Valley Milling Company, was in charge of the firm's interests at Woodsboro, is a native of Libertytown, Frederick County, where he was born February 14, 1859. His parents were Levi and Elizabeth (Giddings) Ecker.

The American progenitor of the Ecker family was born in Germany. He was the great-great-grandfather of Albert W. Ecker. He settled in Frederick County, living on a farm in Liberty District. This old homestead is now

Samuel Ecker, the grandfather of Albert W. Ecker, was a native of Liberty District, Frederick County and carried on farming there all his life. His wife was of Irish descent.

Levi Ecker, son of Samuel Ecker, was born on the parental estate in Liberty District, Frederick County. He followed rural occupations in his native district all his life. He died on his farm in Liberty District. Mr. Ecker was married to Elizabeth Giddings, of Montgomery County, Md. She was a daughter of George W. Giddings, who was a farmer near Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Ecker had issue, as follows: Jennie, the widow of Alexander Kemp, of Woodsboro; Ida, the wife of A. H. Etzler, of Woodsboro; Cordelia, married to Augustus Etzler, of Linganore District; Albert W., whose name heads this review; Thomas, of Taneytown District, Carroll County, Md., married Ella Utz; Carrie, the wife of Willis Aldridge, of Woodville District; and Clarence, who lives at Liberty, this county, married Ella Kline.

Albert W. Ecker, son of Levi and Elizabeth (Giddings) Ecker, was the recipient of a public school education attending the schools in Liberty District. He completed his education at the age of eighteen in a business college at Oberlin, O. At the age of nine, his father died and he was put out for his board and clothes to Amos Booker, of Mount Pleasant District. At the end of two years he hired out to Washington Bowers, a farmer of Liberty District. He worked there until he was fifteen, when he went to learn the milling trade with his brother-in-law, A. H. Etzler. At the end of two years, Mr. Ecker went west to Oberlin, O., having just enough money to take him there. He worked in a mill there to pay his way through the business college. He then returned to Maryland, and worked for Mr. Etzler again. The latter had in the meantime built a mill at Woodsboro, and here Mr. Ecker was miller for sixteen years. In March, 1904, the Glade Valley Milling Company was formed, and two years later, when the company was reorganized and Mr. Etzler withdrew, the following officers were chosen: J. D. Nicodemus, president; Mr. Ecker, vice-president; H. C. Nicodemus, secretary and treasurer; and J. V. Nicodemus, manager. This concern has mills at Walkersville and Woodsboro, and deals in coal, grain, flour and feed. It is one of the largest enterprises of its kind in Western Maryland and does a large business.

Mr. Ecker is a business man of superior ability and well known throughout Frederick County. He is a stockholder in the Woodsboro Bank and also in the Woodsboro Canning factory. He is the possessor of a farm of 130 acres in Woodsboro District. He votes the Republican ticket. Religiously, he is affiliated with the German Baptist Church.

Mr. Ecker has been twice married. His first wife was Jennie Dougherty, of New Midway, Frederick County. She was a daughter of Charles and Anne (Smith) Dougherty, and bore one child: Merhl. Mr. Ecker was married secondly to Ida Hull, daughter of Cyrus J. Hull, of New Windsor, Carroll County, Md. There is one child by this union: Frank Hull.

JOHN D. KLING, who spent an active life at farming, is now living in retirement at Woodsboro, Frederick County. He was born December 19, 1831, and is a son of David and Susan (Stitely) Kling.

The first of the Kling name to settle in Frederick County came here from Germany.

David Kling was a farmer in Liberty District, Frederick County. He was a member of the German Baptist Church. He was married to Susan Stitely, of Liberty District. She was a daughter of Jacob Stitely, and was a Lutheran in religion. They both died in Liberty District. They were the parents of these children: Eliza Ann, the widow of Augustus Stoner, lives near Pipe Creek; Ann Maria, the wife of John Lightner, and lives in Pennsylvania; John D., our subject; Samuel, deceased, married Mary Shaw; and George, unmarried, of Thurmont.

John D. Kling, son of David and Susan (Stitely) Kling, received but meagre opportunity to secure an education, attending school only a short time each year. His first teacher was Joseph Taney. He worked for his father until he began farming for himself in 1856. He began in Johnsville District, and rented different farms until 1896. He resided on the old General Coale farm at Liberty for a period of twenty-seven years. In the spring of 1896, he removed to Woodsboro, where he has since lived retired. He is recognized as one of the substantial and well-to-do citizens of Woodsboro District. He is the owner of two fine farms, one of 125 acres in Johnsville District and one of 96 1-2 acres in Woodsboro District.

Mr. Kling uses his right of franchise to further the interests of the Republican party. He is a consistent member of the Lutheran Church at Woodsboro, in which he has served in the capacity of an elder for several years.

ISAIAH W. BOLLER, a representative citizen of Woodsboro District, is living in retirement after passing much of his life in agricultural pursuits. He was born on a farm at Graceham, Frederick County, and is a son of Henry A. and Matilda (Hahn) Boller.

The first of the family to locate in Frederick County was Jacob Boller, who came from Bethlehem, Lehigh County, Pa., to Mechanicstown District, where he engaged in farming. He was the owner of several large tracts of mountain land.

John R. Boller, son of Jacob Boller, was the grandfather of Isaiah W. Boller. He was a young man when he came to Maryland with his father, and followed the vocation of a farmer all his life. He died at Graceham, Frederick County. Mr. Boller was twice married. His second wife was a Miss Wilhide. He was the father of the following named children: Charles, William, Israel, Henry A., Maria, Sophia, who is still living, Sarah, and Susan.

Henry A. Boller, son of John R. Boller, was a native of Mechanicstown District, Frederick County. As a boy he worked in the mountains, peeling bark. He afterwards went to farming at Graceham, and then bought a small place below Thurmont, along Hunting Creek. He later purchased another property near the former tract, and on this place he died in December, 1901, at an advanced age. He is buried in the Thurmont Cemetery. He was a Republican, and took an active part in county politics, being well known. Early in life he was a member of the Moravian Church, but afterwards became a Lutheran. Mr. Boller was a man of remarkable energy and strength. When he was eighty-four years old, he could shoulder an axe, go to the mountain and cut his two cords of wood a day. At the age of seventy he could light a candle and snuff it out nine times out of ten with his rifle many yards away, and at the same age could take hold of each end of a barrel of molasses, lift it up and put it in a wagon. Mr. Boller was married to Matilda Hahn, daughter of John Hahn. She is still living. Their children were as follows: Isaiah W., our subject; Jeannette C., married first Martin D. Troxell and was married again, living in the District of Columbia; America Victoria, the wife of Jonas Ramsburg, of Lewistown District; Sherman T. G., on the home farm, married Rena Wilhide.

Isaiah W. Boller, son of Henry A. and Matilda (Hahn) Boller, received his education in the common schools of his native county. As a student, he was noted for his skill at mathematics, of which study he was very fond. Early in life he was engaged in farm work for his father and neighbors. At the age of fifteen, he began to learn the trade of a blacksmith. While living on a farm, he followed agricultural pursuits by day and worked in his shop at night. At his marriage, he lived on the home place and worked for his father for three and a-half years. In the spring of 1878 he began farming for himself on his father's place, living there for two years. He then removed to the Theodore Cramer farm in Woodsboro District and next had charge of the Hyder farm in the same district. This latter tract his father later bought. Mr. Boller farmed here fourteen years on shares, and then purchased the property. A few years ago he gave up active work, and is now enjoying the fruits of his labor on a small place adjoining his farm. He is one of the foremost men in his community and recognized as a substantial citizen.

Mr. Boller became much interested in politics even before he attained his majority. He cast his first vote for Hayes for President, and he and an uncle, John Hahn, walked to see the inauguration of Hayes. He has always been a stanch supporter of Republican principles and candidates. For the past ten or twelve years he has often been urged by his friends to come out for public office, but steadfastly refused until the spring of 1909. His nomination for the desired place, however, was defeated by questionable methods. He took his defeat, however, philosophically. He was raised in the Lutheran faith.

On October 21, 1874, Mr. Boller was married to Susan C. Smith, daughter of Henry and Maria (Hart) Smith. She is affiliated with the Lutheran Church. Mr. and Mrs. Boller are the parents of three children: Ross M., operating the Ecker farm in Woodsboro District, married Effie Renner; Anson E. W., on the home farm, married Theresa Stitely, and has two children, Spencer and Hilda; and John H., at home.

GEORGE U. KOONS, who devotes his time and energy to the management and operation of his farm of 157 acres, formerly the Claybaugh farm, which lies in Woodsboro District, is a native of Carroll County, Md. He was born on the home farm, near York Road, October 12, 1875. He is a son of George and Sarah (Bostian) Koons.

George W. Koons was a son of Peter and Mary (Ott) Koons. He was born at Middleburg, Carroll County, Md., and acquired his learning in the public schools, and college. For several years he followed the profession of school teaching in his native county. He later turned his attention to farming. At his marriage, Mr. Koons located on his father's place, "Koon's Plantation," at Middleburg. From there, he removed to his farm at York Road, Md. He afterwards added the farm now owned by his son George. These two farms adjoined, making a tract of 350 acres, now divided into several parts. Mr. Koons died on his home farm in Carroll County, in December, 1893, and is interred at Haugh's Church Cemetery, Woodsboro District. He was a member of Haugh's Reformed Church, and filled the office of elder for years. He was a sincere Christian and a man of moral worth. He always supported the Democracy. Mr. Koons was married to Sarah Bostian, of Frederick County. She is residing on the farm. Six children were born to this union: Milton, a general merchant at Taneytown, Md., married Iva Weant; Florence Estelle, at home; J. Ross, died, unmarried, in 1908; George U., whose name is at the head of this sketch; C. Blanche and Mary Martha, both at home.

George U. Koons, son of George W. and Sarah (Bostian) Koons, grew to maturity on the farm near York Road, Carroll County, and acquired his education in the common schools and high school of Union Bridge. He discontinued his studies at the age of nineteen and returned to the home farm. He took up farming and upon the death of his father was appointed administrator of the estate. Upon the settlement of the property, Mr. Koons purchased his present farm from the heirs. An estimable young man, he has been deacon and secretary of his church for several years. He is a progressive agriculturist and commands the respect of all who know him.

Mr. Koons was married December 18, 1899, to Edna E. Otto, of Middleburg, Carroll County. She is a daughter of Thomas G. and Catharine Otto. Mr. and Mrs. Koons are the parents of three children: Clyde O., born May 20, 1901; Ruth Estelle, born May 20, 1906; and Sarah Catharine, born February 28, 1908.

CHARLES EDWARD BIDDINGER, well-known in Woodsboro District as a man who has made a success of life by his own efforts, is the owner of "Meadow Brook" farm, which contains 84 acres, and is situated on the road leading from Detour turnpike to Haugh's Church. He was born near Unionville, Frederick County, March 12, 1862, and is the ninth child and sixth son of David and Mary Jane (Harmis) Biddinger.

Mr. Biddinger spent his childhood and early manhood around Mount Vernon and Walkersville, this county. He received his education in the county schools. When he was able to work, his father employed him on the farm, being thus employed in the summer, while during the winter he pursued his studies. When he was twenty-five years old, Mr. Biddinger with his brother Albert, farmed on the Newton Groff place of 250 acres, near Detour, Carroll County, Md., for three years. He then returned home and worked for his father four years. After his marriage in 1895, he farmed on a partnership basis for one year, and then purchased his first piece of land, part of his present farm. This contained 22 acres, and he had but $20 at the time he bought it. From time to time, Mr. Biddinger has added to his original acquisition until now he owns 84 acres of excellent agricultural land. Thus can be seen the energy and perseverance of Mr. and Mrs. Biddinger, who have no one but themselves to thank for the success they have achieved in life. He is one of the well-to-do and highly esteemed citizens of Woodsboro district.

In his political views, Mr. Biddinger is a stanch Republican. He is a consistent and very active member of Haugh's Lutheran Church. He has served in the capacity of a deacon twice and has been assistant superintendent of the Sunday School. For six years he has been sexton. 33902-3

On February 28, 1895, Mr. Biddinger was married to Alice Margaret Fogle, daughter of Elias and Anna Elizabeth (Eyler) Fogle. She was born near Ladiesburg, Frederick County, and was a school teacher. She was educated at Grove Academy, and then spent one season at Summer's Normal School, Woodsboro. For one year she taught at Wakefield, Carroll County, and for a like period in Frederick County. She then studied one term at the Buckeystown Normal School, teaching during the day that she might earn her expenses. She next had charge at Pleasant Hill, Frederick County, for

SAMUEL CORNELIUS THOMAS, a retired farmer of Adamstown, Frederick County, Md., son of George, of Hy., and Julia A. (Hargett) Thomas, both deceased, was born on the old Thomas homestead, two miles west of Adamstown, April 26, 1848.

John Thomas, great-grandfather of Samuel C. Thomas, was born in Germany, in 1731. About 1754, he, and three of his brothers, came to America, and settled on 300 acres of land seven miles south of the present site of Frederick. They were among the first settlers in that part of Frederick County, and their descendants still hold the land. John Thomas married and had four children: 1, Mary, married to George Gear; 2, Catherine, married to Christopher Widegan; 3, Barbara; 4, Henry.

Henry Thomas, of J., well-known among the older farmers of Frederick County, grandfather of Samuel C. Thomas, was born on the old homestead, October 18, 1765. He grew up on the homestead, and his whole life was spent in clearing and cultivating it. He was enterprising and successful, and added to his fertile acres. Henry Thomas was married, November 22, 1790, to Ann Margaret, daughter of George Ramsberg, who was born February 16, 1767. Their children are: 1, Mary, married to Melton Lamb, removed to Kentucky; 2, Michael; 3, Stephen; 4, George; 5, Susan (Mrs. Peter S. Fout). Mrs. Thomas died September 3, 1811. Mr. Thomas died January 17, 1828.

Mr. Thomas' father, George Thomas, of Hy., was born on the Thomas homestead, May 3, 1798. He was one of the wealthy farmers of Frederick County, and was a life-long resident of the homestead, now the property of his son, Stephen A. Thomas. He owned several other large and valuable farms, three near Adamstown, one in Mount Pleasant District, one in Liberty District, and a small tract of land adjoining the homestead. His success in a financial way was somewhat remarkable, for he began his business career without much money, and wrought out his fortune by industry and careful investments. He was very successful in raising fine stock, as well as in general farming. In early manhood he was a Whig, but afterwards identified himself with the Democratic party. For several years he served as county commissioner, and was school examiner for several terms. Although he was privileged to attend school for only a short time, his patient efforts for self-culture made him a well-informed man. As a student he delighted particularly in the study of geometry, mathematics, and philosophy. He taught himself surveying and, at times, was busily employed in that line. His carefully used library is now the property of one of his sons. George Thomas was married, March 15, 1827, to Rebecca, daughter of Daniel Rogan. Their children are: 1, Henry, moved to Illinois; 2, Catherine Susan, married to Frederick Markell, both deceased. Mrs. Thomas died, January 29, 1829. On May 30, 1830, Mr. Thomas was married to Ann Mary, daughter of Peter Thomas, of Gabriel. They had two children: 1, Joseph, resides near Jefferson, unmarried; 2, Ann Rebecca, deceased, married to J. Morris Rhoderick, a retired farmer of Jefferson. Mrs. Thomas died in ——. On April 23, 1836, Mr. Thomas was married to his third wife, Julia Ann, daughter of the late John Hargett. They had nine children, two of whom died in infancy. The children who reached maturity are: 1, Charles A., deceased, a farmer of Mt. Pleasant District, Frederick County; 2, Zachariah, deceased, a farmer of Tuscarora District, Frederick County; 3, John Franklin, a retired farmer of Frederick, Md.; 4, Cephus M., president of the Walkersville Bank, Walkersville, Md.; 5, Samuel C.; 6, Curtis W., a farmer of Buckeystown District, Frederick County: 7, Stephen A., a farmer of Buckeystown District. Mrs. Thomas died April 13, 1879, and was laid to rest in St. Matthew's church-yard on the Manor. Mr. Thomas was sixty-seven years old when he united with the Reformed Church on the Manor. He died in 1883, and was laid beside his wife in the graveyard of St. Matthew's Reformed Church on the Manor, in which he and his wife had been active workers.

Samuel Cornelius Thomas attended the public schools of his native district, and remained on the homestead, assisting his father until he married. After his marriage, Mr. Thomas began farming for himself on land belonging to his father, situated near Adamstown. In 1879, after cultivating this land successfully for three years, he purchased this farm of 185 acres of excellent land, beautifully situated between the New Design road and the Buckeystown turnpike, one mile east of Adamstown. This farm, to which Mr. Thomas devoted all of his skill and energy, is one of the most desirable properties in the county. It has a fine orchard, and is equipped with a fine two-story frame dwelling, a bank barn, and all necessary outbuildings. In 1902, Mr. Thomas retired from farm life and removed to Adamstown where he purchased a comfortable home. He afterwards built his present residence, an elegant brick dwelling furnished with all the modern conveniences, one of the most desirable homes in Adamstown. Mr. Thomas is a stanch Democrat, and is highly esteemed as a citizen and as an able business man. He attributes his financial success to close application to his business. He was one of the organizers of the Adamstown Packing Company, and served as its president and treasurer for a number of years. When it was dissolved and re-organized as the Adamstown Canning and Supply Company, he became a stockholder in the new company. He was one of the organizers of the Buckeystown Packing Company; and is president of the Adamstown Turnpike Company of which he is a stockholder.

Samuel C. Thomas was married to Clara E., daughter of Richard R. and Susan (Wolf) Buckey, whose parents belonged to prominent families of Johnsville District, Frederick County. They have no children. Mr. Thomas and his wife are members of Trinity Reformed Church in Adamstown. He served the congregation as deacon, and is now an elder. Mr. Thomas is an active worker in the church, and has been treasurer of the Joint Consistory of the Manor Charge for thirty years. He was formerly a member of St. Matthew's Reformed Church on the Manor, and was a member of the committee that built the church edifice at Church Hill, on the Manor.

JOHN WILLIAM GREEN, well-known in Walkersville District as one of the enterprising and most successful of the young farmers of that locality, is managing the Milton Zimmerman farm, consisting of 210 acres. He was born near Eilerton, Frederick County, April 14, 1876. From a poor boy, he has risen to be one of the largest of tenant farmers. He is a son of Zachariah and Amanda (Cline) Green.

William Green, the grandfather of John W. Green, followed agriculture near Highland and died there. His wife was Margaret Duple. They were the parents of seven children: Zachariah, Parker P., Harlan, Charles, Ann Rebecca, Louisa and Martha.

Zachariah Green, son of William and Margaret (Duple) Green, was born near Highland, Frederick County, March 6, 1849. There he grew to manhood and went to the schools of that vicinity. He remained with his parents until his marriage. He then farmed for several years near his native place. About 1876, he removed to what is now the Steiner Ramsburg farm, near Utica, Frederick County. Four years later he bought a small place near Lewistown, remaining there for several years. Mr. Green spent the next two years on the Neidig

Daniel A. Bowers, son of Daniel W. and Margaret S. (Riddlemoser) Bowers, was but three years old when his parents removed to the vicinity of Walkersville. He acquired his schooling at Retreat and Mount Pleasant, and spent two years at St. John's College, Frederick. At seventeen years of age he left school. The next year he went to Seward, Neb., with his brother, J. E. Bowers. They engaged in the grocery and insurance business there for ten years. They then sold and went to Colby, Kan. While in Seward corn was so plentiful that it could be bought for eight cents a bushel and it was used for fuel. At Colby the brothers engaged in the same line of endeavor for three years. Mr. Bowers' parents had grown old, and he came home to care for them. He has remained on the home farm ever since. He also cultivates the George W. Stauffer farm, of 100 acres, also in Mount Pleasant District. He erected a new barn in 1902. In his political opinions, he is an adherent of the Democratic party. Mr. Bowers is one of the leading citizens of his district. He is thoroughly versed in all pertaining to agriculture, and has been very successful in that line.

SAMUEL M. STRINE, who is one of the leading and representative citizens of Walkersville District, lives on the Newton Fulton farm. This place contains 110 acres. Mr. Strine was born on a farm near Woodsboro, Frederick County, August 4, 1857, and is the eighth child and sixth son of Benjamin and Margaret (Winebrenner) Strine.

Mr. Strine procured his education in the school at Pleasant Hill, having as teachers Benjamin Garver, Cora Cramer and Lu Dutrow. As a boy, he went out and worked among the farmers until he got enough to start for himself. When his father died, he had very little left, for he had been under heavy expense in caring for his sick parents. When he was nineteen years old he began to win his own way in the world, having at that time but twenty-five cents. His wages ran from $108 to $115 a year, and by strict economy and hard work he managed to accumulate $140. In 1884 he was married, and lived for one year at New Midway, where he worked out by the day. The following three years he managed the Dorsey Stauffer farm on the Woodsboro pike. He removed to Lewistown District, where he cultivated the Daniel Leatherman farm for one year. He then went to live in the vicinity of Walkersville, again working by the day, being thus occupied for two years. He was next employed on the Neidig farm. At Dublin he started for himself. He stocked two farms of Jacob Cramer and lived there for three years. He returned to the Neidig farm, which he rented for two years. For the succeeding six years, he rented the John Diehl farm of 198 acres. In the spring of 1905, Mr. Strine began to live on his present place. This farm shows the great amount of care which is taken with it and it is under a good state of cultivation. Mr. Strine by his long experience in rural occupations has become thoroughly acquainted with all phases of agriculture. He is the possessor of a farm of 50 acres at New Midway.

In politics, Mr. Strine has all his life supported the principles of the Democracy. He is a member of the Lutheran Church, where he has filled the office of deacon several terms, and is at present serving in the capacity of an elder.

Mr. Strine was married February 21, 1884, to Laura M. Albaugh, of Walkersville. They had issue: Virgie, died in infancy; Rhoda E.; and Nannie Florence. Mrs. Strine and daughters are also Lutherans in religion.

Benjamin Strine, the father of Samuel M. Strine, was born on the homestead near Woodsboro, in 1824 and died there January 24, 1876. He spent his entire life on this farm. In the common schools he received his education. He became a farmer and later served as constable about twelve years. Mr. Strine was married to Margaret Winebrenner, daughter of William Winebrenner. She died October 31, 1902, at the age of eighty-two years. They were the parents of the following children: John William; Frank, who resides at Walkersville, married Laura Mentzer and has twelve children; Catharine, the wife of Taylor Toms, of Dublin, Frederick County; Susan, married to William Mort, of Ladiesburg; George H., of Walkersville, was twice married, first to Mary Wenrick, and secondly to Anne Eyler; Isaac, of Troutville, Frederick County, married Lizzie Young; Amos, of Legore Station, this county, married Mary Rempy; Samuel M., our subject; Rebecca, the wife of Webb Wolf, of Baltimore; Pierce, of Legore, was twice married, first to Lee Crum, and secondly to Effie Smith; and Annie, married to William Dewall, of Baltimore.

The grandfather of Samuel M. Strine settled near Woodsboro, Frederick County. He and his wife both died near Woodsboro. They had six children: Benjamin; John, went to Dayton, O., and died there; William, removed to near Tiffin, O.; Susan, married Peter Eyler, and died near Woodsboro; Catharine, married John Eyler and died in the vicinity of Woodsboro; and Polly, married William Eyler.

John William Strine, the eldest brother of Samuel M. Strine, is a retired farmer of Walkersville. He was born December 25, 1842, on the parental estate near Woodsboro. He only attended school three months each year, but by application has acquired further education since leaving school. At thirteen, he went to work on the farm of Samuel Geisleman, now James W. Legore's, for three dollars a month, which went to his parents. He worked by the month and year until his marriage in 1871, when he located close to Woodsboro and did day's labor for two years. He then removed to Catoctin Furnace and ran an engine for four years. He accumulated a little money and went to live on the J. B. Kunkle farm in Lewistown District for one year. On the two next places he spent ten years. Mr. Strine then operated for seven years the Dr. Charles W. Goldsborough place, near Woodsboro. For the succeeding four years he cultivated Clara Hoke's farm near Walkersville. The next place he had charge of was the William A. Cramer farm at Walkersville, for six years. Mr. Strine then bought a home in Walkersville and has since lived in retirement. He is a stanch Democrat. He is a member of the Walkersville Lutheran Church, in which he fills the office of elder, and in other congregations with which he was affiliated he served as superintendent of the Sunday school. Mr. Strine was married January 19, 1871, to Mary A. Miller, daughter of James A. and Lula (Longman) Miller, of near Thurmont. There are the following children by this marriage: Bettie F., who was born November 17, 1871, married Anderson Ersholtz, of near Thurmont, and has seven children, John, Calvin, Grace, Raymond, Ada, Lula and Lillian, who are twins; Minnie, who was born July 27, 1873, is the wife of William C. Rhoderick, of Frederick; James William, who was born November 10, 1876, is a carpenter near Daysville and married Elsie Dinterman, by whom he has two children, Floyd and Russell; Sarah Etta, who was born September 24, 1878, died September 28, 1892; Charles Milton, who was born April 18, 1881, farms the Henry H. Liggett place at Walkersville and married Gertie Crouse; Walter Raymond, who was born October 13, 1884, lives in Walkersville and married Bertha Bowers; and Calvin B., born January 31, 1887, and died May 18, 1888.

ALLEN Z. BURRIER, one of the well-known and hustling citizens of Mount Pleasant District, lives at Chestnut Grove and operates a saw mill and threshing machine. He was born in Mount Pleasant District, Frederick County, October 20, 1852. He is a son of Jacob and Eliza Ann (Harris) Burrier, and a grandson of Jacob Burrier. His father was a farmer, and died, as did his wife, in Mount Pleasant District.

Mr. Burrier went to the Chestnut Grove school until he was eighteen years old. He had but very poor chance of securing an education, and his attendance was exceedingly irregular. He grew to manhood in farm work. At his marriage, he lived for one year on his father's farm. He then had charge of the Nathan Nelson place in Mount Pleasant District for four years, after which he returned to the homestead for one year. He then made sale and was located for two years in Woodville District. He passed a year at Central and a like period in New Market District. Mr. Burrier then took up his residence on his present place, which he had purchased two years before. At the time he secured possession of it, the entire place, except 5 acres, was in bushes. He also erected the buildings. In 1889, Mr. Burrier started a saw mill on the place. He later added a thresher and clover huller to his enterprise. Some years ago, his son Emerson succeeded to the saw mill business. Mr. Burrier is one of the up-to-date and well-known residents of Mount Pleasant District. He has won success by his own efforts, having begun in adverse circumstances.

Mr. Burrier was married to Mary C. Lease, daughter of Gideon and Elizabeth (Sponseller) Lease. Their children are: 1, Emerson, married a Miss Garver; 2, Sally, the wife of Thomas Filler; 3, Katie, at home; 4, Allen J., deceased; 5, Ida Bell, the wife of Charles Welker; 6, Amy Lease, the wife of Lewis Umberger, of Ijamsville; 7, John, lives at McKaig, married a Miss Hamilton; 8, Amanda E., the wife of Emery Lease, of Buckeystown District; 9, Gideon L., deceased; 10, Mary Edna, and 11, Pearl May, at home.

JOHN E. SCHELL, an energetic and successful business man and respected citizen of Frederick City, was born in that place, December 20, 1849. He is a son of Charles David and Harriet (Lambricht) Schell.

Ezra Schell, the grandfather of John E. Schell, was a native of Frederick City, and was a descendant of an old German family of the county. He was the father of Charles David Schell.

Charles David Schell was born in Frederick City about 1822, and died at the age of seventy-four years. He was engaged in the butchering business in Frederick for many years. His politics were Democratic, and in religious belief, he was a Lutheran. Mr. Schell was married to Harriet Lambricht, also deceased. They were the parents of seven children: George, deceased; Lewis, deceased; Charles, deceased; John E.; Nicholas, of Frederick City; Mary M., the wife of Henry Kauffman, of Hagerstown, Md.; and Alice, of Frederick City.

John E. Schell, son of Charles David and Harriet Schell, was reared in his native city and procured an education in the public schools. When he was sixteen years old, he began to learn the trade of a harness maker under Laurence Bentz, in Frederick. He worked at this trade with Lewis Clingham for a period of twenty-three years. In 1891, Mr. Schell embarked in business for himself, and opened a saddle and harness shop at his present stand, No. 108 North Market street. He succeeded E. A. Wallace, who had been engaged in the same line of business at this stand for many years. Mr. Schell is one of the men who have brought success to themselves. He began life without money but, by hard work, honesty, determination and good management he is now in comfortable circumstances. He is doing a first class business and has one of the largest establishments of its kind in the county.

In politics, Mr. Schell has always been a loyal Democrat and active in his support. He served as an alderman of Frederick City for three terms, or a period of nine years. In religion, he is a consistent members of the Lutheran Church. In June 1910, he was elected by the Democratic party as Mayor of Frederick City.

Mr. Schell was married in October, 1885, to Ida M. Fleming. She is a daughter of Charles F. and Susan Rebecca (Ellis) Fleming. There were five children by this marriage, three of whom are living: John Edward, Jr., Samuel Duvall, and Harriet Rebecca.

THOMAS M'GILL WILLIAMSON, one of the leading young business men of Frederick City, has been connectel with the Williamson Drug House throughout his active career. The business was established in 1869 by his father, who upon his death was succeeded by his sons Thomas McGill and J. Alleine Williamson. They are sons of J. Alleine and Eleanor West (McGill) Williamson, and of the fourth generation of this old Scotch family in America.

The first of the Williamson family to come to this country was Joseph Alleine Williamson, who crossed the ocean soon after the close of the Revolution, to visit a young Philadelphian with whom he had become friendly while a student of law at Edinburgh University. The voyage was long and stormy, and throughout its tedious length young Williamson was so ill from seasickness that at times his life was almost despaired of. His experience was so trying that he decided to remain in America. He was a member of a devout Presbyterian family and determined to study for the ministry, and carrying out his resolve he became a leading light in his denomination. Going to Virginia, he accomplished a fine work in planting the Presbyterian Church in the Valley of Virginia and in the upper counties of that State. He was a man of vigorous intellect and of the highest character, and became a forceful preacher. He married Sarah North Newton, of Essex County, Va. Their son, Joseph Alleine Williamson, the second of that name, eldest son of Rev. Joseph Alleine Williamson, and Sarah North (Newton) W—, was born in Clarke County, Va. He was a man of high culture and fervent piety, and noted for his legal attainments, devoting his mature years to the practice of law, in which his ability was recognized wherever his calling took him. A few years after his marriage he removed to Orange County, Va., where he continued the practice of his profession most successfully, at "Woodville," his home, one mile from the village of Orange Court House. Here he contracted typhoid fever, of which he died while in the prime of life. He was a lifelong adherent of the principles of the Democratic party, and in religion was a member of the Presbyterian Church, a typical Christian gentleman of the old school, a good neighbor, an affectionate husband and father, and possessed of a delightful strain of Scotch humor which made him a pleasant companion. Joseph Allein Williamson (2) married Mary Mann Page, daughter of Captain Robert Page, an officer in the Revolutionary army, and a member of the first Congress of the United States, whose mother was Jane Byrd, a daughter of the famous Colonel William Byrd, of "Westover." Roberta Williamson, daughter of Joseph Alleine and Mary Mann (Page) Williamson, became the wife of Rt. Rev. John B. Newton, a bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Virginia, recently deceased.

J. Alleine Williamson (3), son of Joseph Alleine (2) and Mary Mann (Page) Williamson, was a native of Clarke County, Va., born in 1845. He died in Frederick City, Frederick County, Md., in 1896. During the Civil War he was a gallant soldier in the Confederate Army, a member of the First Company of Richmond Howitzers, Ewell's Division of General Longstreet's Corps, Army of Northern Virginia, and participated in many hard-fought battles, including the engagement at Gettysburg, Pa. He remained in active service until Lee's surrender. After the close of the war Mr. Williamson became a planter in Westmoreland County, Va. But he soon settled in Frederick City, Frederick County, Md., where in 1869, he founded the drug business now conducted by his sons, Thomas McGill and J. Alleine Williamson (4), at No. 40 North Market street. Mr. Williamson continued in active charge of the establishment until the time of his death. His business methods were always characterized by high principles, which indeed marked all his relations in life. Politically he was identified with the Democratic party, and in religion he was a member of the Episcopal Church. In 1871 Mr. Williamson was married to Eleanor West McGill, daughter of Dr. Thomas J. McGill, a member of one of the oldest and most prominent families of Maryland. Mrs. Williamson's great-grandfather, Rev. James MacGill, of Scotland, was appointed by the Bishop of London to a parish in Prince George County, Md., and there married Miss Eleanor Hillery. Four of the children born to J. Alleine and Eleanor West (McGill) Williamson survive: Thomas McGill; Mary A., of Frederick City; J. Alleine; and Julia P., also of Frederick City.

Thomas McGill Williamson was born in Frederick City, October 3, 1873, and was brought up there, receiving his early education in the private schools of that place and in the Frederick City Academy. Subsequently he entered the Philadelphia School of Pharmacy, from which he was graduated. Returning to Frederick, he was employed as clerk in his father's drug store, the association continuing until his father's death, when he and his brother, J. Alleine Williamson (4), succeeded to the business, which they still conduct, having one of the finest establishments of its kind in the city. They have maintained the old standards of honorable dealing and high quality of stock upon which the prosperity of the business was originally established, and the patronage has shown a steady growth under their progressive management. Thomas McGill Williamson is interested in other enterprises in Frederick, being one of the directors of the First National Bank of the city. Politically, he is a member of the Democratic party. He is well-known in Masonic circles, affiliating with Lynch Lodge, No. 163, A. F. & A. M.; Enoch Chapter, No. 23, Royal Arch Masons; and Jacques de Molay Commandery, No. 9, Knights Templar. In religious connections he is an active member of All Saints' Protestant Episcopal Church of Frederick, which he serves as a member of the vestry. Mr. Williamson is unmarried.

J. Alleine Williamson (4), second son of J. Alleine (3) and Eleanor West (McGill) Williamson, was born in Frederick City September 9, 1876, and received his education in the private schools of that place and in Frederick City College. He studied pharmacy under his father, and is now in partnership with his brother, Thomas McGill Williamson. He is a Democrat in politics, and fraternally belongs to the Masons and Elks, holding membership in Lynch Lodge, No. 163, A. F. & A. M., and in Frederick Lodge, No. 684, B. P. O. Elks. In religion he is a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He married Miss Jennie M. Hageddorn, of Portland, Oregon, and they are the parents of one son, J. Alleine, the fifth to bear that name.

to Frederick City, and made his home with his daughter, staying there the remainder of his days. In politics, Mr. Clem used his influence in favor of the Republican party, and in religious belief, he was a Lutheran. Mr. Clem was twice married. He was married first to Mary M. Hiteshew, daughter of Philip Hiteshew, of Frederick District. They were the parents of ten children: Catharine, the wife of Milton Crutchley, of Frederick City; George J., lives at Dayton, O.; Margaret, married to Joseph Eaton, of Lewistown District; John H.; Florence, the wife of Samuel Toms, of Kansas; Samuel E., a resident of Dayton, O.; David, deceased; and three that died young. Mrs. Clem died in 1865. Mr. Clem afterwards married and by this second marriage was the father of eleven children.

John H. Clem, son of Jacob and Mary M. (Hiteshew) Clem, secured a public school education, attending the Lewistown school. Early in life he left home to earn his own livelihood. Until he was married he hired out on various farms, working by the month. After his marriage, he took charge of his father-in-law's farm, and this he managed for twenty years. At the end of that time his father-in-law, George Stull, died and the farm was sold, being purchased by Mr. Clem's brother-in-law. Mr. Clem then cultivated the place on shares, being located here in this way from 1889 to 1904. During that period he purchased a farm of 88 acres in Lewistown, which he also cultivated, and in 1904, he secured his present farm of 114 acres of excellent land from Elmer Crum. This place lies about seven miles north of Frederick, on the Washington, Frederick and Gettysburg Railroad, in Lewistown District. It is well improved and is considered one of the most fertile tracts in the district. Mr. Clem has disposed of his 88-acre tract to Charles Rice. Mr. Clem started life in very poor circumstances, and is now possessed of a competency sufficient for his future needs. He is a man of high character and his success is well merited.

In politics, Mr. Clem is an adherent of the Republican party. In religion, he is an influential member and very active worker in the Bethel Lutheran Church. He has served as deacon and elder for the past thirty years, is a member of the board of trustees and has been superintendent of the Sunday school for a long period.

Mr. Clem was married to Wilhelmina S. Stull, daughter of George and Mary S. (Stauffer) Stull. They were the parents of eight children, seven of whom grew up: Mary C., at home; Bradley E., of Lewistown District; Chester G., of Tuscarora District, is a teacher in the Frederick City High School; Harvey S., Thomas M., Altah S., and Walter G. H., are all at home. Mrs. Clem is also connected with Bethel Lutheran Church.

JACOB F. WINEGARDNER, general manager of the Emmitsburg Broom Company, Emmitsburg, Frederick County, Md., son of Franklin Winegardner, baker and confectioner, was born in Albany, N. Y., July 25, 1865.

Jacob F. Winegardner was a little boy when his parents moved to Lancaster, Pa., where he began his education in the public schools. His parents moved from place to place, Jacob attending school in each city. They went from New York to Philadelphia, Pa., thence to Lancaster, Pa., then to Baltimore, Md., back to Lancaster, thence to York, Pa., and again returned to Baltimore, thus affording the advantages of the city schools. He learned coachmaking, and afterwards became a machinist. Not being satisfied with either of these occupations, he secured a position as traveling salesman from a firm in Lancaster, dealing in school supplies, and afterwards traveled for a firm in Baltimore, dealers in the same line of goods. Mr. Winegardner next became agent for a Novelty Company, with headquarters in Harrisburg, Pa. Later, Mr. Winegardner began the manufacture of brooms, in Baltimore, Md., and soon after removed to Emmitsburg, Md., where he built a factory for the manufacture of brooms. In 1906, a company was formed with Mr. Winegardner as general manager. The plant has a capacity of thirty-five dozen per day.

Jacob F. Winegardner was married, in Baltimore, Md., to Miss Amanda Eyler. The Winegardner family belong to the Lutheran Church.

GEORGE WARING TYSON, one of the leading merchants and business men of Frederick City, Md., was born in Frederick, Md., October 26, 1851. He is a son of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Bear) Tyson.

The Tyson family is of English origin and among the first settled families of Maryland. The Tysons can trace their lineage back to the battle of Hastings, 1060 A. D., when Baron Tyson was among the killed.

Jonathan Tyson, the father of George W. Tyson, was a son of Jacob B. Tyson, a native of Harford County, Md., who was a son of Jacob Tyson, also a native of Harford County. Jonathan Tyson was born in 1802, and died in Frederick City in 1877. He was for many years one of the prominent business men of Baltimore, Md., where he was engaged in the commission business. Politically he was a Whig in early life, and later a Republican. In religion he was in his young days a Quaker, but afterwards became a member of the Presbyterian Church. He was married to Elizabeth Bear, daughter of Dr. Jacob Bear, of Frederick City. They were the parents of the following children: Jacob, of Frederick, a dealer in fertilizer; Henry, of Frederick, Elizabeth, the wife of F. F. Grove, of Shepherdstown, West Va.; Charles B., deceased; Mary, unmarried; George Waring, of whom presently; and C. Dorsey, of Baltimore, Md.

George Waring Tyson was reared in Frederick City. He received his education in the public schools and the Frederick City Academy. He then engaged in the fertilizer business in partnership with his brothers Henry and Jacob, and their father, Jonathan. In 1877, he formed a partnership with G. F. S. Zimmerman to manufacture a patent shutter fastener, invented by Mr. Zimmerman. In 1900, he relinquished the management of this establishment, retaining, however, his interest therein. In the same year he bought out the well-known feed, grain and flour business of J. S. W. Jarboe. This business is located on the corner of Carroll and Patrick streets, Frederick, and has been successfully conducted by Mr. Tyson since his purchase in 1900. His business methods have always been characterized by the highest principles, and he is a man of much executive ability and rare mercantile acumen. He is one of the most widely known and prominent business men of the county. Mr. Tyson is a stockholder in the Washington, Frederick & Gettysburg Electric Railway, and is a life member of the Frederick County Agricultural Society.

Politically, Mr. Tyson is a stanch adherent of Democratic principles, and was president of the Board of Aldermen, 1892-94. Fraternally, he is a member of Columbia Lodge, No. 58, A. F. and A. M., of Enoch Chapter, No. 23, Royal Arch Masons, of Jacques de Molay, No. 4, Knights Templar and has passed through all the chairs up to the thirty-third degree; of Mountain City Lodge No. 23 Knights of Pythias; of King David Lodge No. 50 I. O. O. F.; of Chippewa Tribe No. 23 Red Men; and of Purity Lodge, of Good Templars No. 248. In religion Mr. Tyson is an active and consistent member of the Presbyterian Church of Frederick, in which he serves as a trustee and deacon.

Mr. Tyson was married to A. Kate Aubert, daughter of Alfred H. Aubert, of Frederick. She is a member of an old Frederick County family. Mr. and Mrs. Tyson are the parents of one daughter, Catharine.

WILLIAM H. LONG, one of the prominent and progressive farmers and a well-known citizen of Creagerstown District, was born in Woodsboro District, Frederick County, May 25, 1865. He is a son of Abraham and Amanda (Mengis) Long.

John Long, the grandfather of our subject, was a native of Germany, and came to the United States while a young man. He settled near what is now Littlestown, Adams County, Pa. He had learned to be a veterinary surgeon under his father in the Fatherland, and followed that profession in this country successfully for a number of years. He then purchased a fine farm, located near Littlestown, and began farming in addition to his medical work. Mr. Long made a success of life from the time of his landing in America. He began life as a poor boy, but at the time of his death was in comfortable circumstances. Besides his farm, he also owned a small tract in Littlestown, on part of which now stands the Union Church of the Reformed and Lutheran congregations. He was an honored and respected citizen of his community. Mr. Long was married in this country to Sarah Keller, who, like himself, was of German birth and had come to America in early life. They were the parents of these children: Mary, became the wife of Jacob Hahn, who was a farmer of Adams County, Pa.; Edward, was a miller by trade; Philip, followed farming in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, Md.; Barbara, married Henry Baughter; Sarah, died without marrying; and Abraham. In religion, the family was connected with the German Reformed Church.

Abraham Long, son of John and Sarah (Keller) Long, was a prominent farmer of Frederick County, Md. He was born in Adams County, Pa., and received a private school education. For five years he was successfully engaged in teaching school in his native county, but not having a liking for that profession, he bought a farm from William Black, which was situated in Carroll County, Md. Here he began to farm. This tract he cultivated with large returns for some time, and improved it in general. He later purchased another farm containing 133 tract adjoining, on which he began to live. This farm he divided into two tracts, erecting a new set of buildings on one and improving the original houses. He was also the possessor of the farm now owned by his son, John M. He died on his farm in 1875, and was laid to rest in the Lutheran Cemetery at Emmitsburg. In his political affiliations, Mr. Fisher was a Democrat. He was a Lutheran in his religious convictions and was a member of the Emmitsburg congregation. Mr. Fisher was married to Mary E. Rowe, daughter of Daniel Rowe, who was a prominent farmer of Emmitsburg District, Frederick County. She died in 1869. They were the parents of thirteen children, namely: Alice, deceased, was the wife of Christian Shriver, a farmer of Adams County, Pa.; Agnes, deceased, married Samuel Veant, an agriculturist of Carroll County, Md.; Thomas, deceased, followed farming at Richmond, Ind.; Nathaniel, deceased, was a miller of Mechanicstown District; David, deceased was engaged in farming in Mechanicstown District; John M.; Sarah, deceased, was married to Solomon Ridenour, a farmer of Creagerstown District; Lucy A., the deceased wife of Alfred Harner, of Littlestown, Pa., who is a carpenter; Susan, was married to Jacob Hoover, of Waynesboro, Pa., a merchant; Catharine and Vanburn, who were twins, the former the deceased wife of John Stear, a carpenter of Littlestown, Pa., and the latter a farmer of Butler County, Ind.; George W., removed to Ohio; and Amanda, married William Walker, a retired farmer of Carroll County.

John M. Fisher, son of Isaac and Mary E. (Rowe) Fisher, is one of the old and most highly esteemed citizens of Creagerstown District and passed his active years in rural occupations. He was born in Adams County, Pa., near the Maryland line, November 27, 1827. He attended the common schools and followed farming until 1891, when he gave up active work. He helped his father until he reached the age of twenty-six years, when he began the cultivation of his present farm, then owned by the elder Fisher. For four years he was successful in the management of the place, and then bought it. This farm lies one mile north of Creagerstown, on the road from that place to Loy's Station. This tract Mr. Fisher greatly improved by the erection of a two-story brick house, a bank barn and necessary outbuildings, making it one of the fine farms of the district. He also owned the adjoining farm, now in the possession of his son, Allen G. Mr. Fisher is one of the oldest residents of Creagerstown District and is universally esteemed for his excellent character. Mr. Fisher takes allegiance with the Democracy in politics. He is a devout member and leading spirit in St. John's Lutheran Church of Creagerstown. He has served in official capacities, having acted as deacon and is at present an elder. He was also a member of the building committee that erected the new church edifice at Creagerstown. Mr. Fisher was twice married. His first wife was Mary E. Valentine, daughter of Samuel Valentine. By this union there were five children, all of whom grew to maturity: Calvin W., deceased; Laura, the wife of Jesse Gaugh; Sarah E., married to William H. Long, a farmer of Creagerstown District; Allen G.; and Effie M., married to Calvin L. Putman, a farmer of Creagerstown District. Mrs. Fisher died in 1897, and was interred in St. John's Cemetery at Creagerstown. Two years later, Mr. Fisher was married to Annie E. Eyler, daughter of Charles H. and Sarah C. (Staub) Eyler, of this district. There is no issue by this marriage.

Allen G. Fisher, son of John M. and Mary E. (Valentine) Fisher, received a public school education. He lived at home until he began farming for himself. He purchased one of his father's farms, containing 127 acres of excellent land, situated about a mile and a-quarter northwest of Creagerstown, on the road to Graceham. Here he removed and has since remained. He also cultivates the farm of his father adjoining. Mr. Fisher is a hustler and has made much success of farming. He has devoted much time to the improvement of his property and it shows the effects of his labor. He is well known in Creagerstown District and is a prominent citizen.

Mr. Fisher uses his right of franchise in favor of the candidates of the Democratic party. He is a member of Reno Council, No. 48, Junior Order United American Mechanics. In religious affairs, he holds membership in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Creagerstown, in which he has for a number of years filled the office of deacon.

In 1886 Mr. Fisher was married to Cora M. Miller, daughter of Lewis E. and Lavina (Routzahn) Miller, prominent residents of Creagerstown. Mrs. Fisher is a Lutheran. By this marriage, there are two daughters, twins, namely, Nellie M. and Mary E.

JOHN SMITH, a leading citizen and prominent farmer of Woodsboro District, is the owner of Chestnut Hill farm, containing 100 acres, which was the original family estate, and is located one mile west of the town of Woodsboro.

The present home was built by Mr. Smith about seventeen years ago, and the barn was erected about 1859 by his father. Mr. Smith was born March 4, 1837, on his father's farm near Woodsboro. He is the eldest child of John and Elizabeth (Frock) Smith.

John Smith was a farmer's boy, and followed agriculture in after years. He was also engaged in lime burning at Woodsboro and for many years was a justiec of the peace. He served in the second War with Great Britain, 1812-15. Mr. Smith was twice married. His first wife was a Miss Ebert, of Frederick County, by whom he had the following children: Ezra, was twice married, first to a Miss Derr, and secondly to Rebecca Feiser; Mary, became the wife of Dr. John Leggett, of Woodsboro and Middleburg, Carroll County, both deceased; Margaret, married William Carmack, both deceased; Elizabeth, married Thomas Holbrunner, who was at one time mayor of Frederick City; and Susan, married Joseph Groff, who was a captain in the Union Army, engaged in the hotel business, first in Philadelphia and later in Frederick. Mr. Smith was married secondly to Elizabeth Frock. They were both members of the German Reformed Church. Mr. Smith was all his life a Democrat, and died on his farm near Woodsboro. By this second marriage, there were six children: John; Ann Matilda, married Charles E. Dougherty, and both died on their farm east of New Midway; James M.; Calvin P., a retired farmer of Woodsboro, married Elizabeth Albaugh; Isabella Lavinia, married John Edward Stambaugh, who was a dentist in Woodsboro, both deceased; and William A.

John Smith, son of John and Elizabeth (Frock) Smith, attended the county schools until he was eighteen years old, although he went but a short time each year. He was a great lover of horses, and was kept at home to drive teams. He worked on his father's farm and in his lime kilns until he was twenty-two. He was then married and located on the farm which he now owns and occupies in Woodsboro District, at that time possessed by his father. He has spent all the intervening years to the present time on this estate, save seven years passed on a brother's farm. As an agriculturist Mr. Smith has achieved success, and is in comfortable circumstances. He is good natured and jovial, and is highly esteemed and honored in his community. He is a man of high character.

In politics, Mr. Smith is a stanch Democrat. He holds membership in the Lutheran Church at Woodsboro, where he has acted as a deacon.

Mr. Smith was married at Woodsboro in 1859 to Mary Jane Gilbert, daughter of Michael and Margaret (Koontz) Gilbert. She is also a Lutheran in religion. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are the parents of nine children: William H.; Albert, of Liberty District, married Alice Bowersox; Charles, was killed by a team at the age of twenty-eight; Emma, the wife of Upton Merring, of Rocky Ridge, by whom she has four children; Ada, married to Reverdy Staley, and resides at Charlesville, Frederick County; Clara, the wife of Frederick Myerly, of Hagerstown, Md.; John Michael; Marshall, a farmer at New Midway, married Della Fogle; and Jennie, the wife of William Harbaugh, cultivating the home farm of Mr. Smith.

JEREMIAH WASHINGTON WHITMORE, owner of "Whiskey Spring" farm of 72 acres, situated on the Copper Mine road, three miles from Woodsboro, was born on the old Doris Groff farm, on the road leading from Keysville to Double Pipe Creek, in Carroll County, Md., August 25, 1859. His present farm takes its name from a fine spring that used to furnish water for a distillery that was conducted on the place some years ago. He is a son of William and Sabine (Pittinger) Whitmore, the former deceased.

The great-grandfather of Jeremiah W. Whitmore came to America from Germany and it is supposed that he settled in Carroll County, Md.

Jacob Whitmore, son of the immigrant, was a native of Carroll County, Md. He was a day laborer and worked on farms chopping wood. He also put up post fences. He was married to Susan Kuntz. He resided at Graceham, Frederick County, and was later tenant on the Simon Lohr farm in Mechanicstown District. He died at Graceham, aged eighty years. His wife died two years later, being over seventy years old. She was a member of the Reformed Church. He was a Republican in politics. Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore were the parents of these children: John; America; Hamilton; Ann, married Jerry Harbaugh; Sarah; William; Lucinda; Samuel; George and two other daughters.

William Whitmore, son of Jacob and Susan (Kuntz) Whitmore, was born in Carroll County, Md., February 14, 1834. He was quite young when his father removed to Frederick County. He received a good education in the country schools of his day. He began life by working by the year. At his marriage, he located near Detour, Md. For nineteen years he worked for John R. Stoner. He removed to Frederick County in 1869, settling near Thurmont on one of the Stoner farms. His death occurred September 5, 1894. He was a supporter of the Republican principles. Mr. Whitmore was married near what is now Detour, about 1857, to Sabina Pittinger, daughter of John and Lydia (Eyler) Pittinger. She was born near Double Pipe Creek, Carroll County, April 30, 1837, and is still living. There were the following born to this union: Jeremiah Washington, our subject; Anna, the wife of Edward Angel, of Middleburg, Md., by whom she has seven children, William, John, Florence, Frank, Edgar, Charles and Ellsworth; John J., of the vicinity of Catoctin Furnace, married Clementine Miller, and has one daughter, Agnes Viola; Susan Adelaide, the widow of Joseph Freeze; Mary Elizabeth, has never married and lives in Thurmont; Mayme Margaret; Ellen Rebecca, married James W. Harner, of the neighborhood of Emmitsburg, Frederick County.

Jeremiah Washington Whitmore, son of William and Sabina (Pittinger) Whitmore, grew to manhood near Thurmont, Frederick County, attending the public schools part of each winter until he was fourteen years old. His teachers were Mr. Golden, now a Congressman from New York; Dolly Thomas; Minna and Jennie Denton; Ella Scott; William Caulliflower; and William Seabrooke. The first work which he did was chopping wood for use at home. When he was twelve years old, he worked two summers for Jesse Bittler, at four dollars per month. He spent one summer with Samuel Favorite at six dollars a month. He then worked a year for William Martin and his next employer was John Bell. The following two years he was under James Orndorf and one year with David Fisher. Here he received ten dollars a month the year around. For ten years he hired out to John R. Stoner, receiving ten dollars a month for three years and twelve dollars the rest of his time. Mr. Whitmore was next engaged at work on a threshing machine and saw mill for two years. For the next two years he labored for Charles Dorsey at $120 per year and found. He next worked four years on the Thomas R. Jarboe farm below Frederick, on the Buckeystown pike. While attending his father's funeral, he received word that Mr. Jarboe had dropped dead. On September 25, 1894, Mr. Whitmore bought his present farm and removed thereon. Since getting possession of this place he has greatly improved it by the erection of other buildings. Mr. Whitmore is thoroughly versed with all phases of agriculture and has met with much success. He has made his own way in life and began at the bottom of the ladder.

Mr. Whitmore was raised a Republican in politics, but voted for Cleveland for President and has ever since advocated Democratic principles. He is a member of the Reformed Church at Woodsboro. He acted as a deacon for five years and has served as an elder for the past four years.

Mr. Whitmore was married December 21, 1882, to Catharine Susanna Isabelle Fox, daughter of John Philip and Charlotte (Eigenbrode) Fox. They were the parents of three children: Charlotte B., is the wife of James C. Biehl, a school teacher now at Frederick High School, Md., by whom she had two children, John Bryant, deceased, and Katharine Lucille; John William, died in infancy; and Anne Katharine Sabina, at home. Mrs. Whitmore also holds membership in the Reformed Church and is a most estimable woman.

WILLIAM SNIVELY FLOOK, who was one of the leading citizens of Petersville District, Frederick County, Md., son of Daniel Biser and Elizabeth (Mumma) Flook, was born at the ancestral home, "Bloomfield Mills," Frederick County, Md., September 18, 1846, and was killed by a horse kicking him, June 5, 1909.

Jacob Flook, grandfather of William S. Flook, was the owner of Bloomfield Mills and the fertile farm surrounding the mill. He carried on milling and farming very successfully and, at the time of his death had accumulated a competence. From his German ancestors he inherited the sterling qualities of thrift and industry, these joined with good judgment and business foresight placed him among the leading men of the time in Middletown Valley. He was a Republican, interested in political affairs. Jacob Flook was married to a Miss Biser. Their children were: 1, Hanson; 2, Jacob; 3, Elizabeth; 4, Evelyn: 5, Daniel; 6, Perry; 7, Catherine. Mr. Jacob Flook and his wife were members of the Reformed Church.

Daniel Flook, father of William S. Flook, showed himself to be the worthy son of his esteemed father. From boyhood he displayed those traits of character which were so conspicuous in his father. He was born at the homestead, Bloomfield Mills, and received the best education which the schools of that day could give. From the old family Bible, his mother taught him the principles of righteousness, honesty and fair dealing, and to those principles he strictly adhered. When he came into possession of the homestead, he made many improvements that greatly increased the value of the property. He was a Republican, interested in all that concerned the wellfare of the community. Daniel Flook was married to Elizabeth Mumma. Their children were: 1, William Snively; 2, Lewis, a ranchman in Texas, where he purchased land when it was cheap, accumulated a fortune, and a few years ago, retired to Dallas, Texas, where he now resides, married Miss Bechtel, of Middletown, Md.; 3, John, a farmer of Anderson County, Kan., married Miss Beachley, of Middletown, Md.; 4, Millard F., farming the homestead, married Ella, daughter of Captain Stephen R. Bowlus; 5, Fanny E. (Mrs. John Ahalt), of Creagerstown District, Frederick County, Md. Daniel Flook was a life-long member of the Reformed Church. He died in 1870 at Bloomfield Mills, honored and esteemed in the district. His widow died in 1896, aged seventy-nine.

William Snively Flook entered the public school of the district in his sixth or seventh year and attended school a part of each year until he was eighteen. His first teacher was Hamilton Willard, a well-known instructor of that day, and his last teacher, David Ausherman, became a prominent minister of the German Baptist denomination. Under the guiding hand of these and other able instructors, William Flook acquired a good education. Mr. Flook remained at home assisting in the cultivation of the homestead for a year or two after his marriage. In 1872, he purchased the farm which he now occupies situated near Knoxville, Petersville District, Frederick County, Md. This property, consisting of 95 acres of productive land, was purchased from James Reely who built the house and barn in 1866. Mr. Flook is a successful farmer and has greatly improved his place. He is a Republican, well-known and respected in the county.

William Snively Flook was married in 1871, to Mary, daughter of Hanson and Margaret (Welker) Shaffer. They had one daughter, Margaret, married Edward Ausherman, a farmer of Frederick County, Md. Mrs. Flook died in October, 1875; she was buried in the cemetery in Middletown, Md. On January 17, 1877, Mr. Flook was married to Emma, daughter of the late John H. and Sarah (House) Renn, of Carroll Manor, Frederick County, Md. Their children are: 1, Daniel Charles, farming near Petersville, married Nena, daughter of Clayton R. Hemp, of Jefferson District, and who have four children, Emma Evelyn, Nena Adele, Mary Louise, and William; 2, Sarah Grace (Mrs. Claud Arnold), of Burkittsville; 3, Norah (Mrs. Russell Kefauver), of Middletown, Md.; 4, Wilber, and 5, Ridgely. Mr. Flook was an active member of the Reformed Church in Knoxville, and served as an elder in the congregation for thirty years. Mrs. Flook died January 21, 1910.

PETER H. SHAFER, farmer, son of Henry and Mary (Willard) Shafer, was born on what is now the Matthias Ahalt farm in Burkittsville District, Frederick County, Md., July 12, 1828; died January 10, 1911.

Henry Shafer, father of Peter H. Shafer, was born near Rockville, Md. He was a farmer, prominent among his contemporaries, and accumulated a considerable fortune. At the time of his death he owned 1100 acres of land, 600 of which were situated in the state of Iowa. He was a good citizen, interested in all that concerned the prosperity of the district. He was a Whig and afterwards a Democrat. Henry Shafer was married to Mary Willard. Their children are: 1, John Willard; 2, Ann Rebecca (Mrs. Samuel Grove); 3, Caroline (Mrs. Daniel Gaver); 4, Martin T.; 5, Peter H.; 6, Albenia; 7, Josephus; 8, Henrietta; 9, Talbot. Mr. Shafer was one of the pillars of the Reformed Church in Burkittsville. He died in 1876, aged seventy. His wife died in 1862.

Peter H. Shafer attended the old subscription schools in Broad Run and Burkittsville, and later the public school of Burkittsville. The son of a farmer, he grew up on the homestead, and has spent his whole life in cultivating the soil. He remained on the home farm for two years after marriage and, in 1857, purchased his present home, where he has lived for fifty-two years. His place is one of the good farms of the district, and is in fine condition and well cared for. Mr. Shafer is vigorous and active notwithstanding his eighty-one years. He cast his first vote for Franklin Pierce, Democrat, but at the birth of the Republican party he became a member of that organization. From early manhood, he has been a member of the Reformed Church at Burkittsville, Md.

Peter H. Shafer was married, in 1854, to Elizabeth, daughter of George Karn, a well-known citizen of Burkittsville. Their children are: 1, George, farming the homestead, married, in 1880, Julia, daughter of the late Jacob Young; (see sketch of Ira J. Young in this near Waynesboro, Pa. He followed the occupation at Orville, O., for one year, and then returned to Maryland, embarking in the milling business near Middleburg, Carroll county, for two years. Mr. Etzler then turned his attention to farming, living for three years in Johnsville District. In 1889, he went to Woodsboro, and built the Woodsboro Rolling Mills, which he conducted until March, 1904. He then organized the Glade Valley Milling Company and turned his plant over to the new concern. He shortly afterwards bought the Walkersville Elevator Company, erected a mill there, and merged them. Mr. Etzler was president and general manager of the Glade Valley Milling Company until 1905, when he disposed of his interest in the enterprise. As head of this well known and successful company, he displayed great business and executive ability. In June, 1906, Mr. Etzler accepted a position as bookkeeper for the Woodsboro Savings Bank. In December, 1907, he was elected cashier, which position he still holds. He has discharged the duties of this position most creditably. The bank with which he is connected is one of the sound and well known financial institutions of Frederick County. Its deposits on January 1, 1909, were $239,446.58. Mr. Etzler is also a member of the board of directors. He is one of the leading citizens of Woodsboro and is highly esteemed by every one with whom he has come in contact.

In his political views, Mr. Etzler is a Republican. He was formerly a member of the German Baptist Church.

Mr. Etzler has been twice married. He was married first February 6, 1884, to Ida M. Ecker, daughter of Levi and Elizabeth (Giddings) Ecker. She died January 21, 1901, leaving four children: Cora V., the wife of Claude H. Barrack, of Woodsboro, but has no issue; Ada V., Roscoe E. and Dorsey P., all at home. Mr. Etzler was married secondly to Dessie Saxten, of Woodsboro. She is a daughter of Rev. John A. Saxten, of Woodsboro. This Saxten family is the one from which Mrs. William McKinley was descended. There are no children by this second marriage.

Jeremiah W. Etzler, an elder brother of A. H. Etzler, is the owner of Mill Brook farm in Johnsville District. He was born on this place, November 8, 1859. He studied in the common schools and was employed by his father on the home farm until the latter died. He then operated the tract for three years as a tenant, at the end of which time he purchased it. Politically, he is a loyal Republican. He is a member of the Reformed Church. In the spring of 1889, Mr. Etzler was married to Fanny E. Martz, daughter of the late Lewis J. and Margaret (Staley) Martz. There are two children by this marriage: George L., at school; and Silas W., at home.

HARRY WILLIAM BOONE, tenant on the Solomon Longenecker farm, situated on the road which leads from Johnsville to Clemsonville, in Johnsville District, is an industrious farmer and a man of moral worth. He is a son of the late Henry and Louisa (Yingling) Boone.

The name of this family is sometimes spelled Bohn, instead of Boone. Thus did Emanuel, the grandfather of Harry W. Boone, sign himself.

Emanuel Bohn lived in Frederick county. He was married to Elizabeth Smith, a sister of Christian Smith, who was the first engineer on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Henry Boone, son of Emanuel and Elizabeth (Smith) Bohn, was born near Johnsville, Frederick County, January 12, 1835. He was reared in that vicinity. He was a carpenter by trade and followed that vocation for a period of seventeen years. He secured what learning he possessed in the common schools. He afterwards turned his attention to agriculture, and began farming on what is now the D. M. Devilbiss farm, in Johnsville District. After two years here, he removed to the Adam Devilbiss place, near Johnsville, where he spent six years. Ill health compelled him to live in retirement for two years. When he returned to farming, he took charge of the J. Hamilton Repp farm in Johnsville District for six years. He next lived on the H. F. Hoge place, one mile north of Johnsville, staying here seven years. On the M. H. Lippy place at Rocky Ridge he farmed for one year, and then followed three years on the Stonesifer farm at Bunker Hill. He next resided on the property of George W. Garber for one year. In the fall of 1901, he made sale, and returned to his old home in the vicinity of Johnsville, where he died September 14, 1902. He supported the Democratic principles, and held membershipp with the old order of German Baptists. Mr. Boone was married twice. His first wife was Mary Grimes, by whom he had two children: James, of Daysville, Frederick County; and Charles Franklin, of Johnsville District Mr. Boone was married secondly to Louisa Yingling. She was born February 14, 1844, and makes her home with her son, Harry W. There were four children by this union: Harry William; Elizabeth May, died aged sixteen years; Alice J., the wife of M. T. Warner, and resides at Willow Grove, Johnsville District; and one, died in infancy.

Harry William Boone, son of Henry and Louisa (Yingling) Boone, was born on the D. M. Devilbiss farm in Johnsville District, January 26, 1875. Until he was twenty-two years old, he attended the Johnsville public school, receiving instruction from these teachers: Rose Callahan, Georgie England, George Nicholas, George K. Sappington and D. O. Metz. Until several years after his marriage, he worked for and with his father. He began farming on the Stonesifer farm, and three years later located on the John T. Ott place, at Rocky Ridge, where he lived for one year. For two years he managed a tract near Motter's Station. He then had sale and removed to Willow Grove, staying there for two years. In the spring of 1907, he settled where he is now living, the Solomon Longenecker farm, in Johnsville District.

In his political affiliations, Mr. Boone is a Democrat. He is an influential member of Mount Tabor Lutheran Church of Rocky Ridge, in which he has filled the office of deacon for three years.

Mr. Boone was married December 22, 1898, to Maggie Cordelia Valentine, of near Motter's Station, Frederick County. She is a daughter of Grayson H. and Alice (Eyler) Valentine. They have three children: Ruth Naomi, born September 30, 1900; Roy V., born in 1906; Helen, born in 1908.

MILTON CARTER, deceased, was a man of much intellect and the strictest integrity. He was a well-known farmer of Liberty, Frederick County, and a citizen who was held in the highest regard by the community in which he resided. He was born at Sykesville, Carroll county, Md., November 2, 1833. His parents were Henry and Charity (Scheinflew) Carter.

Henry Carter was a farmer by occupation. He was widely known in his day and a leading man. He removed from Carroll County to Frederick County, where he purchased a farm known as "Howard's Paradise," in Liberty District. This place contained 180 acres and is now owned by the widow of Milton Carter. Here Mr. Carter died about 1858, aged about sixty-two years. He was not connected with any church. Mr. Carter was married to Charity Scheinflew. She survived him until 1895, dying in Frederick City at the age of ninety-four years. They were the parents of eight children: Elizabeth Jane, married Jeremiah Baile; Henry, deceased, married Margaret Nicodemus; Lucinda, deceased, was the wife of Martin Nicodemus; Milton, our subject; Olivia, deceased, was married to Augustus Lawrence, also deceased; Alcelia, deceased, married William Paine; Grafton, deceased, married Emma Troxell; and Fanny, the wife of Joseph Webb, recently of Frederick.

Milton Carter, son of Henry and Charity (Scheinflew) Carter, was educated in the schools of Carroll County. He grew up a farm boy, and was a young man when he went with his parents to Liberty District, Frederick County. Soon after the death of his father, he purchased the home farm, which he cultivated. He became a successful and prosperous agriculturist, and was a man of prominence in Liberty District, progressive and greatly esteemed in the community. In 1875, he retired to the village of Liberty, where he resided until his death, which occurred, May 27, 1899. His death was regarded as a distinct loss to Liberty and its vicinity.

Mr. Carter was all his life a supporter of the Democracy and its principles. He was not connected with any religious body.

On September 4, 1860, Mr. Carter was married to Elizabeth Baker, of Linganore, Frederick County. She is a daughter of John and Mary (Baile) Baker. She was born near Linganore, August 18, 1840, and survives her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Carter had issue: Charity, died in infancy; Cora, also died in infancy; Edith, died at the age of thirty years; Milton, Jr., who is a merchant at Liberty, married Virginia Kling, and has two children, Bessie and John Milton; Albert, deceased, was married to Mollie Beall and left four children, Robert Hugh, Charles and Edith; and Myrtie, at home.

John Baker, Mrs. Carter's father, was a highly respected farmer of the vicinity of Linganore, Frederick County. He and his wife, Mary Baile, were the parents of twelve children, nine of whom died small and three that reached maturity, namely: Elizabeth (Mrs. Carter); William, of Liberty; and Andrew, who died at Hanover, Pa. John Baker was a son of William and Catharine (Hull) Baker, who were the grandparents of J D. Baker, a banker of Frederick City.
